"It may not be design," says the Baltimore Sun, "but ever since the attack on the President, Mr. Blaine, in driving out, is flanked by friends or dependents who sit in the carriage with him."

John Burke, Omaha, was fined a few days ago $46 for getting drunk and inhumanly beating a mule. In default of payment he was sent to jail for 30 days. Good enough for him.

— The latest styles of picture frames at prices to suit the times. Call at the Photograph Gallery, in Brownville, and be convinced. Also get Tannar to take your photographs and be happy.

Mr. A. E. Touzalin presented the Y. M. C. A., of Hastings, $100 to aid in purchasing books and periodicals for their library. Mr. Touzalin's generosity is not limited to persons or places; he aids all.—Omaha Telegram.

— We should think the country emptied itself into Brownville last Saturday. The streets were literally jammed with teams, the sidewalks filled with people, the stores crowded with customers. A gentleman taking in the busy scene said, "That looks pretty lively for a dead town, doesn't it?"

— The town in Lafayette which supports the euphonious name of PODUNK will have a depot on the M. P. railroad and will be one of the best towns on the line in this county. And why not, with an agricultural region second to none in the county, to back it?

— The two twin girls of Mr. John Pohlman, 10 miles east of our city, died of whooping cough this week, and were both buried in one grave; their age was 11 months.—Tecumseh Torchlight.

We further learn from the Torchlight that Mr. Pohlman's entire family are seriously afflicted with whooping cough.

The Sunday school superintendent at Center, Saline county, killed a rattlesnake in the school house a short time since.—Exchange.

Well that was all right, and in accord with instructions of verse 15, ch. 3, Gen. And also the vile creature clearly had no right to be in a Sunday school house.

Those who pay for the ADVERTISER in advance, hereafter will get it at $1.50 a year. Of those who do not pay in advance two dollars will be required. On Friday, 22d inst., Albert P. Talbott and Charles E. Talbott, brothers, the former 21 and the latter but 17 years old, were hanged for the monstrous crime of murdering their father, Dr. Perry H. Talbott, near Maryville, Mo., on the night of September 18th, 1880. He was shot through a window, from the outside, of his own house. The crime was traced to his own family, and his wife, two sons and a young man named Henry Whyatt, who worked for the Talbotts, were arrested. After an examination the wife and mother was discharged. Whyatt, whose testimony went far toward convicting the Talbott boys is still held in custody. They were found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged on the 22d day of March. An appeal was taken to the supreme court. The supreme court affirmed the proceedings of the lower court, but granted a stay of execution of sentence until June 24th. Upon that day, a short time before the hour of execution arrived, Governor Crittenden granted a reprieve until the 22d of July. Every possible effort was made by attorneys and friends for commutation to imprisonment for life. During the period of reprieve, a story called a confession was told by the convicts, which was in effect that Albert had shot his father while in the act of beating his mother. That his father was going to shoot him and the patri- cide was a case of necessity, to save his own and his mother's life. This statement failing to cause further interference by the Governor, another "confession" was made to a St. Joe Gazette reporter, called "A full and complete confession," which is an incoherent narrative, of incidents connected with the murder, prior and subsequent. The gist of this confession was a confession that they did not kill their father, but that Whyatt did. It is doubtless a jumbled mess of truth and falsehood, but nearer the truth than the first confession. Look at the matter in the most favorable lights for all the parties concerned and the conclusion is irresistible that the Talbotts and their surroundings were a bad crowd, all of them. The impression upon our mind is that Whyatt shot Dr. Talbott and that the Talbott boys who have paid for the crime with their lives were the instigators and employers. And the old woman knows more than she would like to tell, or probably ever will tell, about the tragedies enacted in her family.

"Doctor, when will the President be able to get up?" asked the reporter. "I think that in several weeks he will be able to take a sea voyage. We hope to get him out in that time. There is a force of 150 men at work on the steamer Tallapoosa, putting her in good order, to have her ready to take the President on a trip when he shall be well enough. It is expected that by the 15th of August the President, accompanied by his family and surgeons, will be able to take a trip on her. The plans include a swinging bunk in which the President can rest with ease, and the entire independence of the swinging motion of the vessel."

Hon. Eldridge G. Lapham was elected U. S. Senator on the 22d inst. to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Roscoe Conkling. And thus ends the New York agony over that matter. Miller and Lapham are gentlemen of fair ability and both unswerving Republicans. It is said that there is no doubt of electing Republicans to take the places in Congress of the Senators elect; and if so the New York legislature has done its duty as well perhaps as it was possible for it to do.

The Omaha Telegram says, Mr. McBride, Secretary of the State Agricultural Society has gone to Chicago to complete a $4,000 contract with the Brush company for the electric light which is to illuminate the fair grounds next fall and permit night racing. This is Mr. McBride's contract; he furnishes the board the light and takes half the gross receipts of the night earnings. He will first go to Wabash, Ind., and see how the light works there.

A Fool Once More.
"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her. She is now as well and stronger as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.
