Arch Bishop Henni, of Milwaukee, died on the 8th inst.

Hastings, Mich., with a population of 2,600, has over 150 cases of diphtheria and nearly all cases are fatal. Filthy streets and impure water are the causes assigned.

Hon. Bruno Tzschuck, ex-Secretary of State, has been recommended by both of our Senators to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Hon. E. H. Rogers, as consul to Vera Cruz.

Travelers are, as far as possible, avoiding Missouri these times, and will continue to do so until they can be better assured of protection to life and property from train robbers.

Some New Yorkers recently were so cruel as to hang Guiten inebriety. Now we could stand and see the wretch scaped, or choked till his tongue would loll out a foot, but to hang him in edgely!—its too horrible.

Regarding the method of disposing of Guiten, the wounded and suffering President made one of the greatest utterances of his life. And it was this: "This Nation is too great to look for mere revenge. But for security for the future I would do everything."

During the trip to Long Branch Superintendent Ely entered the president's car and told the surgeons that they had gone the last seven miles in five minutes. Some one then asked the President if he thought they were going too fast, and he answered: "Oh, no; let her go."

General Noyes, late Minister to France, says: "American financial prosperity is a marvel to Europeans." Baron Rothschild said to him recently: "The financial prosperity of the United States is without a parallel in the history of the world. You are drawing from all the treasures of the old world to fill your own."

Gen. Grant recently gave the following sensible opinion to an Inter Ocean man regarding the disability of the President and the duty of the Vice President in the situation:

"Regarding the inability clause in the Constitution. Do you deem that clause applicable to Garfield's case?"
"I have no doubt that that condition of affairs exists to-day requiring the Vice President to act, but then there is no provision in the Constitution, nor has any effort been made by congress to make one, showing how the disability shall be declared. While such a state of affairs existed, it would be wholly inappropriate for the Vice President unasked to make a move toward assuming the duties of the presidential chair. I suppose really what should be done in a case of this kind—if anything were done at all, and I don't think it necessary—would be for the attending physicians to certify to the Cabinet that in their opinion the president is unable to perform the duties required of him. Then the Cabinet, as a whole, might consider the certificate of the physicians, and forward it to the Vice President with a request that he come forward to act as president during the disability of the president. There is nothing legal about it, but I don't see that there could be any other way in which it could be done. I don't think there is any necessity, however, of now calling upon the Vice President. The government can get along well enough until the meeting of Congress, as there is no necessity that the Vice President should act until just about that time. It is very evident now that the President can hardly be in a condition by the convening of congress to make it safe for him to have the trouble and responsibilities of the office on his hands."

"General, why is it that a few of the papers throughout the country attack Vice President Arthur in such an unbecoming and uncalled for manner?"
"They are but a few of your excellent (?) people who attacked him at the time he was nominated—such men, for instance, as Medill, editor of a sheet called the Tribune, and his faithful follower, a man by the name of Shuman. These men have attacked Mr. Arthur until some people who do not know him have really been convinced that he is what they have represented him to be. I think it is a misfortune that you have got such men as those attached to daily newspapers in a world made up of such people as this is. Still, we will survive this misfortune as we have survived other misfortunes."

It is estimated that the loss of life by the bush fires in Michigan will approximate 200. An appeal has been made to the whole country for help for the homeless sufferers.

Active recruiting to fill vacancies in the United States army is going on in Washington, and recruits and officers are being ordered to Arizona.

The Chicago and Alton Railroad authorities do not believe that the James brothers had anything to do with the Glendale robbery. They believe the offenders to be the residents of the neighborhood, who are a desperate and lawless gang.

Mr. James R. Keane is reported to have lost $1,500,000 fooling with Hannibal and St. Joe stock.

The Iowa Methodists in conference assembled, declare the use of tobacco sinful in the sight of God.

John R. Douglas, a farmer near Columbia City, Ind., suicided recently by hanging himself in his barn.

Between the Apaches and the Missouri savages, railroad traveling is becoming decidedly perilous.

Marshall Roberts, near Anna, Ill., recently murdered a man named Adams. Mrs. R. was at the bottom of it.

A box left as security with a Philadelphia hotel keeper by C. Hunton, now in the Maryland penitentiary, was opened by police and found to contain a valuable diamond ring and United States bonds of the value of $19,000.

Governor Crittenden has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to rise en masse and exterminate the train robbers. He has gone to Kansas City to consult with the authorities of Jackson county, regarding the apprehension of the robbers. Fully 1,000 men are organized into posses from Kansas City, Jackson, Lafayette, Clay, Ray, Clinton, and Salina counties, and are now in the field under command of sheriffs and marshals.

The Recruiting Service.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Owing to the number of recruits required to fill the army to the required strength, the standard for artillery and infantry is fixed at 5 feet 4 inches and upward; weight 120 to 150. For cavalry, 5 feet 4 inches to 5 feet 10 inches, weight not to exceed 165 pounds. Recruits and officers are being ordered to Arizona.

A Mississippi farmer dashes cold water into the ears of choking cattle. This causes the animal to shake its head violently, and the muscular action dislodges the obstruction.

River Improvement Convention.

The executive committee of the St. Louis Merchants exchange have called a meeting of those interested in Mississippi river improvement, to be held in that city on October 26. The convention will be composed of delegates from the states and territories in the Mississippi valley, governors being authorized and requested to appoint ten from each board of trade or cotton exchange, two delegates for each one hundred members, these bodies to be entitled to at least two delegates. From corporate cities of Mississippi valley where no boards or exchanges exist, two delegates from each to be appointed by the mayor of such city. In the official call issued for the meeting, it is stated that within the area of states and territories drained by the Mississippi and its navigable tributaries is produced ninety per cent of the corn, seventy-three per cent of the wheat, eighty-three per cent of the oats, sixty-four per cent of the tobacco, seventy-seven of cotton and sixty-six per cent of the value of the live hogs of the whole country. In addition to the vast supply of food and textile products, the abundance of coal, iron and timber mark it as the seat of manufacturing industries, the great and unquestioned source of American production and national revenue. Even in the present imperfect condition of navigation one-seventh of the amount of this vast production which enters into the export trade of the country, goes to the ocean by way of the Mississippi river at a cost of less than one-third of what it can be carried by any other route.—Exchange.

Brownville is entitled to two delegates in the above mentioned convention, and we presume Mayor Bausfield will make the appointments in due time, and appoint gentlemen who will probably go if appointed.

Curved Pitching.

The Providence (R. I.) Journal thus settled an important matter: "The question of curved pitching has attracted the attention of scientific and philosophical gentlemen for the past two years, and there have been those who stoutly affirmed that it was an utter impossibility for a pitcher to curve the sphere in the manner so often described in the reports of ball games. A special committee of the Providence Franklin Society, appointed to investigate the question in relation to alleged curves in balls thrown by skillful hands, made a report to the society at a meeting to the effect that after three stakes were placed in a direct line, at a distance of about thirty feet apart, the ball was thrown by a person standing behind the first stake in such a manner that it passed to the right of the first stake, to the left of the second, and to the right of the third. The ball was then so thrown that it passed to the left of the first stake, the right of the second and the left of the third, thus demonstrating the fact that the pitcher has the power to cause the ball to curve to the right or left at pleasure." The committee gives a scientific explanation of the curved-linear motion. The society should receive the thanks of the fraternity for thus intelligently solving the mystery, and amateur ball-players can practice with a fair prospect of success if the rules are followed."

If this fall's campaign is carried on as Bro. Moore, of the Nemaha Granger suggests, without holding any county convention, it will be extremely necessary that you announce yourselves.—Sheridan Post.

The Post, although it but a few months ago, claimed to be the "leading Republican paper of the county" has not a word of condemnation of the Granger's suggested plan to beat the party. That's the kind of a Republican organ the Post is. The preponderance of the mercenary feature of that sloppy sheet, over party and principle, is very apparent in its bid for the announcement of independent candidates. A true Republican paper would not make such a contemptible exhibit of itself, but from a higher standpoint would be found advocating harmony and solidarity in the party, and discouraging independent candidates rather than inviting them into the field. The Post, we infer from its own words, would give the party away for three dollars. And yet that bastard is constantly whining because the county officers refuse to give it the county printing.
