Our Ticket.

It is a great pleasure to speak of "our candidates" when we can do so without having the dish highly seasoned with crow. We can do so at this time. In fact, there is not a particle of crow in ours. The candidates nominated are all our personal and political friends. We can conscientiously and truthfully say commendable things of all of them, and recommend them for the suffrage of the voters of Nemaha county. The people of Nemaha county want officials who are honest, sober, competent; who will execute the laws and discharge their duties impartially, courteously, and correctly. Of such men consists the ticket that we now briefly allude to in detail.

J. C. BOUSFIELD.

candidate for County Treasurer, has been a resident of the county for many years. His business being such as to bring him into acquaintance with the farmers, he is well known in nearly every part of the county. This knowledge, in connection with his courteous treatment of, and fair dealing with his customers, is no doubt the principal reason why he was nominated with so little difficulty over other good men who sought the office. Mr. Bousfield is strictly temperate, of gentlemanly demeanor, successful in business—but the people know him sufficiently well without eulogy from any source, to elect him by a rousing majority, because they have confidence that the treasury in his hands will be safe.

DR. S. W. M'GHEW.

the nominee for County Clerk, is also an old settler, for many years a practicing physician, has held other positions of trust in the county, so that probably no man in the county is better known. That he is favorably known his nomination last Monday is good evidence. The people know the Dr. to be a quick business man, with every qualification that an efficient county clerk must possess. There is no question that he will be elected by a big majority, and be the right man in the right place.

JOHN S. SPELL.

nominee for County Judge—nominated for a third term, and without opposition—by acclamation. What more is there to say in his favor? Nothing more is necessary. That he conducts the office with the ability and conscientiousness of an impartial judge is a fact; one that the people know, and are satisfied with. It is an office that requires such an officer. No more could be expected of any man—no better qualifications could any man bring into it. Some object to electing any man to a third term. This objection may be a good one as to some offices, we think it is, but we do not deem the office of County Judge one of them, and for these reasons: He does not handle public funds, it is not at all remunerative, while it requires a man of ability to discharge its duties as they should be. Then when a competent man is found fitted for the position, he should not be asked to stand aside, simply because he has held it a term or two. Nemaha county will probably never have a better county judge than Judge Spell.

JOHN CULP.

the nominee for Sheriff, is not as well known in the county, probably, as some of the other candidates, because he has never held an office of the county nor in any manner before sought one. He did not go amongst the people seeking the nomination for sheriff. He is well known in the south part of the county, and it was his friends, well knowing his sterling qualifications for the office, brought him out and secured his nomination. When the ballot that nominated him was announced, being called, he stood up before the convention and said he had made no effort to get the nomination, that his friends had brought him out, and that if elected he would discharge the duties of the office to the best of his ability. The editor of this paper is well acquainted with John Culp, his daily walk, his business, his habits and his qualifications; and what we say of him may be depended on as true. He is a carpenter by trade; for several years has been a strictly temperate man, is an acceptable and consistent member of the Christian church, is industrious, hardworking, scrupulously honest, and has the respect and confidence of his neighbors. We are particular in saying what we do here, to brand as erroneous some things we have heard as having been said detrimental to his character. John Culp, like thousands of others, when he was a young man was wild and sometimes drank to excess; but long ago he reformed, and is today a Christian gentleman, that some who speak evil of him would do well to imitate. Strong, brave, humane, he is just the man for sheriff; and in the discharge of its duties the people will have an officer fearless, faithful, impartial, and never be found packing juries in the interest of criminals and law breakers. Now if any one who reads the above is not yet satisfied, regarding the character of the Republican nominee for sheriff, let them go down to Aspinwall or Nemaha City, where he now resides, and satisfy themselves of the truth or falsity of what we have here said, and vouch for.

V. P. PEABODY.

legislature caused by the death of Mr. Schick, is a farmer of Aspinwall precinct. He has more than an average education, is a Republican, always true to the party and its nominees; and in every way merits the cordial and unqualified support of the party.

J. H. POHLMAN.

County Commissioner for the third district, nominated for reelection, is recognized as a careful and efficient official. Ever having the interests of the tax-payers and the good of the county in view, his past term has been one of economy and good faith, thus meriting the endorsement of his party, and every tax-payer at the ballot box. That he will be endorsed by a large majority we have no doubt.

MRS. ELLA T. SCHICK.

placed on the ticket for Superintendent of schools, by unanimous consent of the convention, is a lady of refinement and education, and doubtless possessing executive ability sufficient to amply qualify her for the position. She is the widow of the late Hon. F. L. Schick, which fact, out of respect to his memory and a general inclination to assist his widow and her children, in connection with her excellent qualifications, will insure her the office, and, we presume, without an opposing candidate. We may add, that Mrs. S. has had, we are informed, considerable experience as a school teacher, which will be to her advantage in the discharge of the duties of Superintendent.

MRS. GEO. R. SHOOK.

nominated for Surveyor, has been serving in that capacity for nearly two years, and is said to have given universal satisfaction. His qualifications even need no doubt, as he is especially educated for the business. Of course he will be elected. It is due Mr. Shook to say that it was not known when he was nominated that he would accept the place, but it is hoped he will do so.

DR. A. O'BRIEN.

of Sheridan, for Coroner, is precisely the "right man in the right place"—a practicing physician and surgeon, centrally located, where he may be easily reached now, or soon, by telegraph. A more fitting selection could not have been made. And the Dr., it may be added, is a staunch Republican, a genial gentleman, a capable, energetic business man, and everybody ought to vote for him.

— The weather on Thursday evening, last, was so very rainy and the roads so muddy, that it was nearly impossible for any one who did not have a sidewalk to their door, to get to the opera house to attend the concert of Miss Cora Gates. Quite a good sized audience, however, assembled and enjoyed a couple of hours in listening to most excellent instrumental and vocal music, by Miss Gates and her class, with some assistance. Those young girls have extraordinary talent for manipulating the piano, or else Miss Gates has a superior method and tact in instructing and advancing her scholars. Possibly both. At any rate, it is evident that Brownville is not going to be out of good singers or performers, when the old set disperses, marries or moves away. On account of the exceedingly bad weather, it was announced that the programme would be repeated, on the following Saturday evening; but when the hour for assembling came, it was raining again, so that only a moderate audience was out. The programme was repeated, however, with some additions, in excellent style. We hope Miss Cora will not be discouraged for the partial failure, for a cause impossible to foresee or avert, and that ere the winter passes away she will give another entertainment in music or opera at Marsh Opera House.

If your head aches, you are listless and weary, you are out of humor and cross as a bear, it is high time you were buying a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Bromoline.

DRAKE'S LITTLE GIANT POST,

Patented Oct. 15, 1873, by A. B. DRAKE, Clay Center, Kas. Letter A represents a post, which has the iron rod B inserted at its foot, and thence extending perpendicularly downward to a sufficient length to secure a hold in the ground, where the said rod is bent at a right angle and is extended inwards horizontally as far as necessary to secure the required firmness, and then it is bent upward at an acute angle to connect with the upper portion of the post, A, and forms a firm base there-with, as shown in the cut. If desired, a cap or block of wood, or other substance, may be placed upon the horizontal portion of the rod, or the expansion may be partly filled with cement. The post, as set in the ground, will be found to stand with unusual firmness and permanence. Which the severe Frosts will not effect in the least. Fence posts used in connection with this improved setting may be made much lighter than usual, and the improvement is admirably adapted to various other uses besides fencing. Manufactured and sold by W. M. ROSSBELL.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

- Miss Fannie Arnold has gone to Omaha to take charge of a class in instrumental and vocal music.
- Miss Cora Gates has received petitions from the lovers of good music at Tecumseh and Calvert to give concerts in those towns.
- Hon. Church Howe was in the city Tuesday, and went to Lincoln Wednesday morning to attend the State convention.
- Wm. Russell and wife and Miss Annie Berger returned from their visit to Allentown, New Jersey, last week.
- Thos. D. Shurtis is visiting in Brownville. He, also, has had enough of Texas.
- Mrs. Lewis Hill is visiting in Tippecanoe City, Ohio.
- Mrs. Capt. Polock returned Tuesday from a visit to Illinois.
- Mr. and Mrs. Coddington returned from a visit to Illinois, Tuesday.
- A telegram received announces the death, at Mercersburg, Penn., of Mrs. Ellen J. McNaughton, the mother of J. C. McNaughton, and the only sister of John L. Carson, of this city.
- J. B. Fisher, delegate from Aspinwall precinct, went to Lincoln to attend the state convention, Wednesday.
- The convention last Monday ought to be very satisfactory to the people, as to its results and the way it was conducted. There were very little of the factional about it—very little chance for any factional fight, because the people determining to do some things, elected delegates who would carry out their wishes, and they went to work and did it, regardless of factions and rings, "set up pins" and "cut and dry jobs" were swept away as if by a cyclone, each bulwark was a thunder clap to the unsuspecting, confident "set down on." Each result was very decisive—no chance to "sneak." The people did it. No convention ever before held in Nemaha county has been so cheerfully run by the people. That's the way it always ought to be done. Now let the people work for indorsement, vote the ticket, and elect it overwhelmingly.

See the tinsel cloth and trimmings at J. L. McGee's.

The Union Hotel. Is growing in public favor. Commercial men are learning that at the Union is the best place to stop for good fare and cordial accommodations. The increasing custom and demand for first-class fare, has made it necessary for the Union to take an up grade step. It has recently been refurbished and otherwise improved. Best table, best beds, best everything, and only $2.00 a day.

The best Rio coffee in the market to be found at J. L. McGee's.

Attendance at the Great Keokuk Mercantile College will run over two thousand students this season. Young men should address Prof. Miller, Keokuk, Iowa, for circulars and specimens.

The fresh and green rye patches that nearly every farmer has, with calves and pigs feeding thereon, are good signs of thrift. Every farmer should have a patch of rye.

See the advertisement in another column—and the posters everywhere snuck up—200 lots in Howe and Nixon's addition to Sheridan—to be sold at auction—Thursday Oct. 20th.

Goods roll in and out daily in large quantities at J. L. McGee's.

E. M. Lippitt with the best vocalists of Brownville will appear before the people on Oct. 18th, with a brilliant concert programme.

This is good weather for duck shooting.

Notice to Tax Payers.

As I wish to hand over the tax books to my successor free of delinquent tax, I hereby give notice that all delinquent tax not paid by Oct. 15th, will be collected at once by process of law. Examine your receipts and see if you are delinquent, and if you are, come at once to the Treasurer's office and settle. All delinquent real estate will be sold for tax on the first Monday in November next. Please take notice and govern yourselves accordingly. Brownville, Neb., Oct. 5th. A. H. GILMORE, Treasurer.

— We were at the convention, and ran over to Calvert and took dinner with the Couler. We noticed that Sheridan and Calvert are recovering from the effects of the storm—carpenters are at work—new building going up—both towns growing—probably running a race.

The wife of Col. Ford, a government employe at Washington, recently cohabited on the street a young woman, also an employe, while she was in company with the Col. Mrs. B. has a notion that government employes are sometimes entirely "too thick."
