NEBRASKA ADVERTISER

The wife of Hon. Champion S. Ghase, ex-mayor of Omaha, died last week.

The postage on the daily and weekly Chicago Inter Ocean for the year ending June 30th, 1881, amounted to $16, 650.60. That on the Chicago daily and weekly Tribune amounted to $4,509.14.
It is gratifying to know, as it argues well for the good sense of the people, that a good paper has about four times the circulation of a "cranky" unreliable one.

President Arthur is perhaps the most methodical man of business who has occupied the Executive chair for a quarter of a century. He understands the entire business of the Executive Mansion, dictates replies to all important letters received, and is so thoroughly conversant with the facts involved in important questions brought before him as to surprise those who call to enlighten him.—Inter Ocean.

Regarding the efforts of the anti-temperance power to render impotent the hitherto strong arm of John B.
Finch in fighting for temperance and prohibition, the Weekly Tribune very truly says:

No man or woman has done for temperance in this State what John B.
Finch has done. In the bitterest fight he has always been in the front, and the liquor power of Nebraska fear him as they fear no other man. Ever true, ever brave, ever able. The liquor men have tried every way to ruin him, knowing that his overthrow would mean the defeat of the temperance work for years. The Junia traitors have in-dertaken to do what the liquor power thus far have failed to do. To see our great leader stabbed and assailed by such villainies is enough to make every loyal templar who has fought under his banner venture his life in defense of the one we all love.

Among the candidates for secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, are the names of such men as Furnas, Walker and Wheeler.—Lincoln Democrat.

The fitness of the first named cannot be questioned; his zeal in the promotion of agriculture in the State is not excelled, if equalled; his long service and willingness to serve in whatever capacity he has been called, amongst agricultural men, give him a meritorious prominence, shared by—we may safely say—no one; his unselfish lavish of time and money in developing the possibilities of Nebraska's soil and climate, in the many years—a quarter of a century we may say—which developed possibilities have been the chief motive power in drawing hither two hundred thousand devotees of agriculture and its kindred branches, surely should be sufficient for a cordial indorsement to the position of Secretary of the State Board.

Gen. Grant has recently carefully read all the papers and evidence in the case of Gen. Fitz John Porter, and came to the conclusion that injustice was done the latter in the findings of the court-martial—that a proper weighing and construction of the evidence should have acquitted him. Gen.
Grant said, "For nineteen years I have believed the finding of the court-martial was a just one, but now I see that I am in error," and he expresses regret that for twelve years while he was general of the army and President he had power to do Gen. Porter justice and did not do it. The eminence of the military gentlemen who composed the court-martial, and Grant's unlimited confidence in their ability to render a fair decision, was doubtless the reason why he did not review the findings of the court as critically when the case was officially before him, as he has now done at the urgent request of Gen.
Porter. He says under the circumstances, he will do all he can to remove the odium and disgrace which has so long attached to Gen. Porter by reason of the conviction by that court-martial.
That is the best thing yet heard in favor of Gen. Porter; and the mere opinion of Grant will cause a sudden revolution of feeling favorable to him, relieving him at once of odium in the minds of many people. What a grand old hero is General Grant. If he were other than the great souled, candid, honest man, his stalwart friends know him to be, he would have esteemed it a weakness to acknowledge that he had been mistaken in an important matter for nineteen years. A man as small as the most of Grant's traducers would have become so prejudiced toward an opinion entertained for nineteen years, as to render them incapable of seeing and acknowledging an error.

Explosion of Five Hundred Kegs of Powder.

OSKALOOSA, Ia., January 5.—An explosion occurred at 4 o'clock this afternoon, whereby 500 kegs of powder, the property of the American Powder company, went up in terrific force.
The explosion was caused by some boys using the wooden magazine as a target for a breach loading rifle. Three boys Phillips, son of the mayor, Gerald Joyce and John Steadman—were the boys engaged in the target exercise, and were all instantly killed, being fearfully mangled and burned. They were carried from fifty to two hundred yards from the magazine and mutilated beyond recognition. Nearly all the plate glass fronts in the business quarter of the city were wrecked, while houses in the northern part of the city suffered severely. The damage is not less than $20,000. Many persons were injured by falling glass and debris. The shock was felt thirty miles from the scene of the explosion.

It appears that the boys used the powder magazine as a target, the weapon being a breech-loading rifle, which the mayor had drawn at a rifle. They had also another gun. The boys were seen to shoot at the building from a short distance, then go up to see the result. Afterward they fired another shot and then came the explosion.
The body of young Phillips was found fifty yards down the hill, his clothing nearly all gone. The back portion of the head was carried away, and the body was otherwise horribly mangled.
John Steadman was blown through a wire fence one hundred yards away and fearfully torn. Gerald Joyce was found in a creek one hundred and fifty yards away, with his head almost completely gone. The boys had been warned to quit. The damage to the city is very great. Most of the houses of the north half of Oskaloosa are badly wrecked; doors, windows and woodwork are broken; stables were completely wrecked, chimneys toppled and flues cracked from top to bottom.
Wreck of plate glass on the principal streets of the city is nearly complete and cannot be covered by $30,000. The powder was owned by the American powder company of Boston, about five hundred kegs.

Nebraska State Gazetteer and Business Directory for 1882-83.

The undersigned, Publisher of City, State and Railway Gazetteers for the last fourteen years in the North-western States, will, in the course of a few months, issue a third edition of the Nebraska State Gazetteer and Business Directory.

The work will embrace a general description of the State; its commercial position, resources, products, soil, climate, stock raising, geology, education, mercantile and manufacturing institutions, railroads, shipments of grain, pork, cattle, and other productions, for the year 1881.

It will contain a graphic account of every organized county; historical and statistical account of every city, town, village and hamlet in the entire State; a classified Business Directory, showing the name, business and the address of every person engaged in business in each city and town, with a complete list of city, county and State officials, public buildings, schools, newspapers, postoffices, railroad distances, time tables, census statistics, places and time of holding courts, telegraph and express offices; and illustrated with cuts and illuminated pages of prominent public buildings. It will also contain a new State Map, showing all counties, townships and railroads in Nebraska, and a large amount of other valuable information useful to every person in the State.

A limited number of advertisements will be neatly and conspicuously inserted at the following rates: One page, $25.00; half page, $15; quarter page, $8.00; colored paper, $30.00; price of Directory, $4.00.

Names will be inserted in display line for $1.00.

The work will be printed on fine book paper, and put up in superior style.

The patronage of business men is respectfully solicited.

Another Small-pox Cure.

"One ounce of cream of tartar dissolved in a pint of boiling water, to be drank when cold at short intervals. It can be taken at any time, and is a preventive as well as a curative."

It is known to have cured in thousands of cases without failure. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and always prevents tedious lingering.

The above appeared in the Chicago Tribune, said to be recommended by Dr. Charles Rose, of Dorney, England, as never known to fail to cure small-pox and its kindred diseases.

The Inter Ocean gives a new definition of stalwartism that is not bad. It says stalwartism is just the opposite of Joe Medill.—Nebraska State Journal.

And it is exactly "fermest" G. Wm.
Curtis.

The Winter in Minnesota.

WINONA, Minn., January 5.—Although the Mississippi is closed at this point and persons cross on the ice, the winter thus far in Minnesota has been comparatively mild. The Republican publishes a table showing dates of the closing of navigation on the river for a series of twenty-five years and at no time during that period has it closed as late in the season as this year. The nearest approach was in 1869, when navigation closed December 18th. Last year it closed November 20th.

Railroad Foreclosures for 1881.

CHICAGO, January 5.—The Railway Age has a recapitulation of the known foreclosure sales of railways in the United States the past year, which were twenty-nine roads, with an aggregate mileage of 2,617 miles and an apparent investment of $51,278,000 in capital stock and $76,645,000 bonds and other indebtedness, making a vast total of $128,000,000 sold during 1881 to wind up their long outstanding obligations. These figures will surprise and discourage many who believed the era of railway foreclosures was past because of the prosperity of the country; but the bankruptcy of these roads commenced years ago, and they have been dragging along the slow legal processes ever since. The settlements have, however, been more advantageous than creditors could have obtained before.

Grand Lodge I. O. G. T.

LINCOLN, Jan. 5, 1882.
The Grand Lodge of Good Templars will meet in Hastings, Wednesday, January 18, at 9 a. m.

The railroad will return delegates and visitors at one-fourth fare on the certificate of the Grand Worthy Secretary.

The headquarters of the Grand Lodge will be the Commercial hotel. Most of the eastern delegates will stop at this house. The rates have been reduced to $1.50 per day to delegates and visitors.

It is suggested that eastern delegations go to Hastings on Tuesday the 17th, as it will enable them to become acquainted and make the journey more pleasant.

It is hoped every lodge will be represented, as the work for the next year is of vital importance, and we need the counsel of every true Good Templar.
Fraternally,

JOHN B. FINCH,
Grand Worthy Chief Templar.

The emigration from Europe to the United States has been greater this year than ever before. The number that arrived at the city of New-York alone from Jan. 1 to Dec. 11 was 419,120, an increase of 112,804 over last year in the same period. The Commissioners of Emigration estimate that these immigrants paid $2,500,000 for inland transportation, and brought with them besides about $9,000,000. Of course many who gave their destination as New York only remain there a short time, afterward going inland. A larger number have gone to the Southwest this year than heretofore, but, as usual, the great majority came to the western states. The largest number, 33,419, came to Illinois, and at least one-half of them settled in Chicago, or in this vicinity. Pennsylvania received next largest number, 36,745; and 15,701 went to Wisconsin, 15,698 to Minnesota, 12, 526 to Iowa, 17,088 to Michigan, 5,124 to Indiana, 3,381 to Kansas, and 4,124 to Nebraska. It appears that 1,725 went to Utah, but the statistics do not state how many were Mormon dupes.
—Inter Ocean.

The Union Hotel

Is growing in public favor. Commercial men are learning that at the Union is the best place to stop for good fare and cordial accommodations. The increasing custom and demand for first-class fare, has made it necessary for the Union to take an up-grade step. It has recently been refurbished and otherwise improved. Best table, best beds, best everything, and only $2.00 a day. The best and most convenient sample room in the city is now connected with the house.

Renew Your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.
