The following items were prepared for the COURIER last week:

Awful muddy.

The fly story was immense (?)

Our merchants are receiving their spring goods.

Z. T. Cody, of Elk Creek, a friend of other days, was in town Thursday.

Miss Libbie Rogers, of Brownville, was visiting her cousin Stella Huddart, at the Holdrege.

The weather these days is fine enough overhead. If any of us were going that way we might enjoy it.

Shippen & Fulton are putting up a building east of Wert & Shanks' livery stable, that is to be used as a paint shop.

Pat. Daugherty, a leading citizen of Bedford, and one of the most successful farmers in the county, was in town on Wednesday.

Mr. E. W. Keplinger, better known as "Kep," an extensive grain and stock buyer of Humboldt, was in the city last Wednesday and gave us a pleasant call.

Some old fossil has said "see Venice and die," but we think it would be a more cheerful and profitable racket to see Osborn and buy a town lot or two, or three.

J. K. Longnecker, a commercial traveler, who in his time has interviewed nearly every merchant this side of sundown on the subject of groceries, was in town this week.

Misses Sarah Harmon and Mollie Thurman, two of Tecumseh's fairest daughters, passed through the city on Wednesday, on their way home from a visit to friends in Brownville.

Notice is hereby given that mutilated coin will not be received at the Nemaha County Bank after this date, except as bullion.

D. J. Wood, Cashier.

Dr. A. L. Fulton returned Tuesday morning from St. Joe, where he had been attending the commencement exercises of the Northwestern Medical college. Doc. reports having had a grand time.

Captain Tilman A. Bailey, of the steamer "Belle of Brownville," as fine a young fellow as ever trod a quarter deck or sat down with a full one, was among the gay dancers at the Holdrege last Monday night.

The Humboldt Dramatic Association played to a crowded house in this city Monday evening. Dr. Patrick in his Irish, Dutch and Yankee characters was very good, but the rest of the business was exceedingly thin.

W. T. Rogers, one of the boss dancers of Brownville, displayed his agility at the Holdrege house ball last Monday night. If we could dance like Mr. Rogers or Capt. Til. Bailey we would not fool away our time with law books or steamboats.

A Kentucky office seeker dreamed he saw in the distance the fattest office he had ever looked upon; but just as he was about to catch on to it, President Arthur, wearing a Gainsborough hat, stepped between him and the prize, and he awoke.

Mr. T. W. H. Miller of Tecumseh, who bought property in Calvert a short time ago, is in the city this week, with a bundle of greenbacks as thick as an elephant's leg, that he wants to exchange for more town lots in our booming little city.

The success of the concert last Monday evening was owing in a great measure to the personal efforts of Miss Mamie Daugherty, of Bedford, who worked early and late, and under disadvantages that would have deterred a less energetic person.

Baldwin, the New Jersey cashier who sometime ago stole a big pile of shekels from the bank in which he was employed, is now gate keeper of the penitentiary at Trenton. If he doesn't carry off the gate some night the State will be in luck.

The poor Czar of Russia is afraid to go to Moscow to be crowned, fearing that some Nihilist may send him to the other world from some point on the road. Well, every fellow who wants to be a Czar, but we would rather be a tramp printer.

A dastardly murder was committed at Waverly, this State, Sunday evening, Feb. 19th. A dispute arose between two men named Carpenter and Raiven as to the proper way to spell the word "peddler." A young man named Cook, son of the proprietor of the hotel in which the dispute took place, was asked his opinion in the matter, and he decided in favor of Carpenter. Raiven became very angry and ordered Cook from the room, calling him an opprobrious name. Cook then struck at Raiven, who is a large and powerful man, and who instead of defending himself with nature's weapons, as a man of his size and strength ought to be well qualified to do, drew a revolver and shot the young man through the breast, killing him instantly. The murderer is under arrest.

The concert given February 20th, for the benefit of the Catholic church at this place was a financial, social and artistic success. Everybody who was present speaks in flattering terms of the entertainment. The singing of Miss Adelaide Kalkman, of Nebraska City, and Mrs. W. A. Bailey of Howard, was especially fine and was greeted with hearty applause. The other performers, including the Brownville Silver Cornet Band, acquitted themselves with credit, and the only drawback to the complete enjoyment of the occasion was the intense cold weather that set in a few days before the concert and continued until Wednesday.

With this issue the COURIER will cease to exist, under its present name. Arrangements have been made, whereby the Advertiser, now published at Brownville, will be removed to Calvert and consolidated with this paper. Those who have paid in advance for the COURIER will hereafter receive the Advertiser instead, and those who are subscribers for both papers will receive credit on the books of the Advertiser for the full amount. The management of the paper will remain in the hands of G. W. Fairbrother & Co., and it is the intention to present our readers with a paper worthy of the future county seat.

Quite a funny incident occurred last Monday night during the progress of the ball at the Holdrege. It seems that one of the lady excursionists had occasion to visit the room of her brother, who is a boarder at that hotel, and seeing a figure on the bed, that in the uncertain light bore a strong resemblance to the familiar form of her relative, the lady took the recumbent party by the nose and gave it a hearty pull, when she discovered to her dismay that the suddenly aroused sleeper was a commercial tourist and an entire stranger. It is difficult to say which was the most surprised, the lady or the drummer.

At the conclusion of the concert Monday evening, the large crowd in attendance repaired to the Holdrege and partook of an oyster supper gotten up in a style that would have reflected credit on any hotel in the country. After supper the Peru and Nebraska City delegations returned to their homes, while a majority of the Brownville party remained and engaged in a dance that lasted until breakfast time. This was the most delightful social event in the history of Calvert, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who participated.

The Mormons are now receiving the attention that ought to have been given them twenty-five years ago. Public opinion is now thoroughly aroused against them, and the hideous and iniquitous practices that have so long insulted heaven and the intelligence of the American people, will be forever wiped out.

Joe Croan is interested in another enterprise now. This time it is in the way of building foundations and doing other stone work. He has leased Maxwell's quarry and will furnish stone in any quantity. At present he is engaged in overseeing the building of the foundation for Mr. Darrah's large store room.

Arthur Prescott, clerk of the Holdrege, has a miscellaneous collection of glassware that was left behind, presumably through mistake, by some of the young gentlemen who were here with the excursion party on Monday evening.

Tim McLaughlin, a hardworking and substantial French citizen of Brownville, was in the city this week with the excursionists. Tim spakes Frinch like a native, and it is quite a treat to our cultivated ear to hear him.
