G. W. FAIRBROTHER & CO., Proprietors.
CALVERT. : : NEBRASKA.

During 1881, Kansas City packed 781,322 hogs.

The Nance county Republican nominates Hon. John L. Carson for Governor. That's a good choice, Johnny.

Mrs. Vanatta, of Lima Ohio, recently received judgment against a saloon keeper for $500.00 for selling her son liquor, which made him drunk and caused him to get into a fight in which he was killed.

A terrible fire in the manufacturing center of Haverhill, Mass., on the 18th inst., destroyed property valued at $2,000,000. This catastrophe throws about two thousand people out of employment and renders a large number of families homeless.

Mr. John Flynn, a reformed drunken tramp printer, with lots of brains and ability, however, and at one time an editor of the Chicago News, has received the appointment of U. S. Consul Chemnitz, Germany, vice Griggs, a poet from the State of Beatrice, bounced.

Senator Van Wyck made a speech in the Senate on the 24th ult., on his resolution for investigation of the system of surveys as carried on by some of the Surveyor Generals. The Senator thinks that great frauds are practiced and should be ferreted out, and the system purified. If Van Wyck gets after a government thief, the latter might as well throw up his hands, and say his prayers.

It is a pity that Mr. Talmage should find it necessary to speak ill of the father of Robert Ingersoll in his efforts to defeat the arguments of the great infidel.—Inter Ocean.

Talmage, like the balance of those who assume that they can cope with Ingersoll, find that when facts, common sense, and intellectual ability are required to sustain the old dogmas, as against the great infidel, they are found wanting; and to divert attention from defeat, he plays the part of a hyena. He brings up the bones of Ingersoll's father and then lies about them. And by the way, it is proper to remember in this connection that the Rev. Talmage himself was, not long ago, tried for lying by his own Brooklyn congregation; and that it was only by a technicality that he was saved from excommunication for his remarkable laxity in observance of the 9th commandment.

Mrs. Scoville has written a lengthy and piteous appeal to Mrs. Garfield for her forgiveness of and intercession for the slayer of her husband. We quote the following from her letter:

All those dreadful weeks of the President's suffering I prayed that the Father above us all would spare his life. Day and night my beseeching cry went up, "God save the President." I thought he could not die.

When the people of the whole world called mightily unto Him to interpose in his behalf, I said, "Surely He will show forth His glory." But alas! the tenderest care of wife, family, and friends, the prayers of the people, could not move the Ruler of the Universe to countermand the decrees of his all-wise and mysterious providence, could not keep in his poor despoiled body his grandly beautiful soul.

Despite the vigils, the tears, and the prayers of his family, of the Nation, of the world, the midnight bells were tolled, the midnight cry was heard, "The President is dead." We gaze up on the lifeless clay—gone—gone to dwell with the glorified saints of the Lord. And we, our tears flowed without stint, and we said, "Is there no God?"

Truly, it was a grievous wrong. The Lord and He alone can judge where lies the moral responsibility.

Mrs. Garfield will probably not attempt to interfere with the course of the law; and President Arthur could not be moved by any prayers or tears to do so. While pity may plead duty must be inexorable.

Since writing the above the following dispatch appears before the country. The course of Mrs. Garfield, as indicated, toward Mrs. Scoville's letter will be universally indorsed:

CLEVELAND, Ohio, February 17.—J. H. Rhodes, secretary of the Garfield monument committee and a near friend of Mrs. Garfield, was interviewed by the associated press correspondent today. He said, Mrs. Garfield received a letter from Mrs. Scoville this morning, and that he was authorized in her behalf to say, that toward the slayer of her husband she cherished no malice. He must answer only to his God and the American people. For the sister and all members of his family she feels only profound pity. Further than this she asks to be left alone with her sorrow, and to be spared being dragged into useless and torturing publicity. Mrs. Garfield will not answer her letter.

"Lal" Bydquist.

This is the title of a new serial which will appear in THE ADVERTISER in two or three weeks—a story of absorbing interest, and one that will hold the attention of the reader to the end. In the language of the opening chapter: "It is a story of sorrow borne bravely, of faith, loyalty and courage—a story such as we love to tell, because, in the world of fiction, at least, virtue should always triumph, and true hearts be rewarded." A variety of characters—the faithful and heroic, the sordid and selfish, the noble and self-sacrificing—are portrayed in a manner true to nature, while there is not wanting a spice of the eccentric and humorous. The plot culminates, as already indicated, in the triumph and happy reward of faithful and devoted hearts, although this happy end is not attained without the voluntary sacrifice of the life of probably the most heroic character portrayed in the story, one who unhesitatingly gave up all that the object of his unselfish love might reap the reward of her faithful devotion to her shipwrecked and lost lover. The story will run through from fourteen to sixteen weeks, and alone is worth the years' subscription.

Here we have a poet. He writes for the country newspaper. The paper does not pay him anything for writing. He writes for glory. See how pale and thin he is. Perhaps glory does not agree with him. At night he walks without a hat to let the starlight soak into his brain. He never gets full. Nobody ever asks him to. He was not born a genius. At a very early age he fell out of the garret window, and when they picked him up he was a poet. Poets are therefore made, not born. This is why flats are built eight and ten stories high.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Union Hotel

Is growing in public favor. Commercial men are learning that at the Union is the best place to stop for good fare and cordial accommodations. The increasing custom and demand for first-class fare, has made it necessary for the Union to take an up grade step. It has recently been refurbished and otherwise improved. Best table, best beds, best everything, and only $2.00 a day. The best and most convenient sample room in the city is now connected with the house.

A Foolish Mistake.

Don't make the mistake of confounding a remedy of merit with quack medicines. We speak from experience when we say that Parker's Ginger Tonic is a sterling health restorative which will do all that is claimed for it. We have used it ourselves with the happiest results for Rheumatism and when worn out by overwork. See adv.—Times.

Answer This.

Did you ever know any person to be ill without inaction of the Stomach, Liver or Kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor this same question.

Grateful to Invalids.

Floreston Cologne is grateful to invalids, because it is refreshing without the sickening of most perfumes.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Also excellent for human flesh. READ PROOF BELOW From

COL. L. T. FOSTER.

Youngstown, Ohio, May 10th, 1880
Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—I had a very valuable Hambletonian colt which I prized very highly, he had a large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons which failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and got our druggists to send for it, they ordered three bottles; I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial, I used it according to directions and the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame, and the lumps have disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colt limps as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now using it. Very Respectfully,
L. T. FOSTER.

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure, it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and sluggish action of the bowels, Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Pain in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is at fault, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities.

Prickly Ash Bitters are especially compounded for this purpose. They are mild in their action and effective as a cure; are pleasant to the taste and taken easily by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Disordered Kidneys, etc., etc. As Blood Purifiers they are superior to any other medicine; cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the invalid. It is a medicine and not an intoxicating beverage.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR PRICKLY ASH BITTERS, and take no other. PRICE, $1.00 per Bottle.
