The Edmunds anti-polygamy bill has passed the house just as it came from the Senate.

The Nebraska State Teachers' Association will hold its annual session at Crete, 28th to 30th inst., inclusive.

Ex-Senator Conkling declines to be associate justice of the supreme court.
Mr. Conkling can make more money out of his law practice, and it could hardly have been expected that he would accept a position as associate, when it is considered that he refused the supreme judgeship. And still the New York Tribune is not happy.

It was in the month of December, 1823, that James Monroe laid down the principle in his annual message to congress that no European nation ought to be allowed to plant new colonies upon this continent. This was all there ever was of what is known as the Monroe doctrine. It did not refer to colonies already established; it referred alone to the future.

Rosewater has publicly allied himself with the worst element of the drunken loaferish rabble whom he, for purposes of his own, sees fit to designate as "workingmen." He is not a whit better than the most vulgar, drunken blackguard and thug of all the blackguards and thugs of which his dirty and damnable sheet is the organ and mouth piece.—Exchange.
"Them's our sentiments" to a dot.

According to the Inter Ocean's report of the winter wheat crop in Illinois, there were about 300,000 acres less planted last fall than the previous fall. But the growing crop at present is good, promising much above the average yield. On account of the drouth last fall the winter wheat crop in all the west will fall far below, in acreage, that of the previous year, hence there is great inducement for planting largely of spring wheat.

The Pitkin (Col.) Independent says that three years ago, March 1st the first house—a log cabin—was built in that "camp," and that now it has four hundred houses and about 2,000 inhabitants, with the prospects of an enormous "boom" this spring. In addition to the fact that it is one of the best mining districts, in the Gunnison country, the D. & S. P. railroad is finished to within 12 miles of Pitkin, and will reach that town by June next.

Reputation does not pay in the end.
Our townsman, John Fitzgerald, the railroad builder and contractor, has had in his possession some Wisconsin railroad bonds that he received in part payment on a contract years ago, and that had no market value for a long time. However, the mills of the law grinding ever so slowly, finally got out some kind of grist, and the bonds are good now not only for their face but every $1,000 bond costs the repudiator the sum of $1,781.57. The $781.57 represents the accrued interest.—State Journal.

Sergeant Mason, who shot at Guiteau, through the window of the jail was sentenced by the court martial to be dishonorably discharged, to forfeit all honors and pay, and to serve eight years at hard labor in prison. He has been taken to the Albany prison. Petitions for his pardon are being sent to the President from everywhere, largely signed. While we think the act of shooting at the assassin, under the circumstances, a foolish and cowardly one, we remember that the tone of nearly the entire press of the country, great and small, just at that time, was such as to make any crank believe that to kill Guiteau, would not only be a virtue, but entitle the killer to the highest honors of a patriot and a hero.
And it was generally lamented that Mason's shot did not take deadly effect.
When Mason made that shot the people were not done deploring the failure of the prison guard to kill him, when, as it was reported Guiteau drew a knife on him; and the whole influence of the press and people, was sufficient to induce many men to believe that the slaying of the assassin of Garfield would be no more criminal than the killing of a snake or a mad dog. Hence the people were to blame for the guard going beyond his soldierly duty, and therefore we argue that the people are doing right in asking for his pardon.
Mason was guilty of a grievous offense toward army regulations, but he committed no crime against the prevailing sentiments of the masses of the American people, but acted strictly in harmony with them.

Brownville Items.

Go to Judkins for Onions and Onion sets.

District court will commence Tuesday, 28th inst.

Lon. Jones came down from Omaha Saturday last.

Luther Robinson says that "glandered" mare of Kauffman's is about well. He says he is looking for glandered horses to cure.

Gus. Moore arrived from Chicago, Saturday last. Look out for big stocks of goods at Brownville and Calvert.

Harry Dolen was in the city over Sunday. He says he will open a new stock of goods in Calvert, notwithstanding the stories of those who assume to know so much about his business.

There is an effort being made to get subscribers for a new paper talked of.
Arkwright & Carzon, jewellers, talk of opening a branch of their business at Calvert.

There is not much excitement here about the N. W. R. R., and little faith in it, we imagine.

A. R. Davison, cashier First National Bank, returned from a visit to his old Pennsylvania home Saturday last.

There were a good many people in town Saturday; but business generally is pretty dull here as it is everywhere, and will continue to be until after another good harvest.

The merchants are all stocking up, but not heavily, as usual, we believe.

The wind was too heavy down stream last Monday for the ferry boat to stem.

We notice that Willing Bros. & Jordan received a large lot of furniture Monday last.

When you trade with Judkins you may be assured that you will get honest weights and measures. His stock of groceries is complete, of the best quality, and as cheap as they can be sold by any retailer.

Arkwright & Carzon have the largest and best looking stock of clocks ever brought to Nemaha county.

Messrs. Burger & Boyse, having purchased the sprinkling outfit of E. Hud-dard, at Lincoln, leave next week for that city to enter upon their work of keeping the principal streets of the city wet down. Burger & Boyse are energetic, industrious and honorable men, deserving the confidence and liberal patronage of the business men of Lincoln. The best wishes of many Brownville friends go with them.

School Interests.

Since my article of last week, I have studied up the matter of school house bonds and will give the rest the benefit of my work. I find that having an enumeration of about 80, we can issue bonds to the amount of $2,000. They cannot draw over 7 per cent. To start this we must get a petition signed by one-third of the voters asking the school board to appoint a meeting to vote on the issuance of bonds, said notice to be given 20 days prior to the meeting. The school board then, provided two-thirds vote in favor of issuing the bonds, issue the bonds and send them to the State Auditor for auditing, who in turn sends them to the county clerk for registering, when they are returned to the school officers to be placed on the market. In talking over this matter with our citizens I find that all think we should have a building at least 40x40, two stories 9 and 11 feet. * * * * *

Let us give this matter a thorough ventilation a week from Monday night at the annual meeting. Post yourself on what it will cost and how long we ought to have to pay it off in, and how much we could pay each year. We all feel the need of a good school house and school in our town and let us not be divided on it. Get it the best way, the cheapest, and quickest way. We are all proud of our town, and this is the next step to make a success of it.
D. J. WOOD.

Some weeks ago a communication appeared in the Washington Post, a Democratic paper, which was outrageously abusive of Garfield, declaring him to be a demagogue and wily office seeker. The editor of the Post stated that the author of the article was a prominent Republican, a member of the Chicago convention, and that his name would be given to the public on demand by Garfield's friends.
The demand has been made, but the name appears to not be forth coming. It is probable that the Post lied about the authorship, and that it was a Democratic scheme to cause trouble amongst Republicans, to be engendered through the varied remarks, concerning the matter, of the Republican press. If this was the hope of the author it has met with signal failure, for the newspapers universally curse the writer of the Post letter, whoever he may be, as a vandal and liar, and none are stronger in their denunciations than the stalwarts.

Monday was windy.

Monday was the first day of spring.

Stieninger killed a goose Saturday.

Tuesday was the worst day we ever saw.

Frank Tappin is building an addition to his residence.

Five cars of stock were shipped from this place Friday.

Mr. Wm. Furman will start a bakery here soon.

If you don't believe Calvert looms up, come and see and be convinced.

J. B. Berger and B. F. Sanders are building nice residences on Carson street.

Albert Dillon is building a residence on Maxwell street. He is shipping his lumber from St. Joe.

Brownville matter for the AD-VERTISER will receive prompt attention if left at the postoffice.

The cellar to Mr. Welch's building is about finished, and the building will probably be raised this week.

Monday and Tuesday last forcibly reminded us of the much talked of town down at the crossing. All wind.

We are requested to announce that Miss Fannie Arnold will give a concert at Brownville some time in April.
Due notice will be given.

Harry Dolen informs us that he will open up a big stock of goods in Samuelson's block as soon as he can go to Chicago and purchase them.

Wilson & Harman of Sheridan, are this week receiving a large stock of stoves from Chicago. Call on them for low prices, and good goods.

We hope to enlarge THE ADVERTIS-ER soon, which is demanded not only by our ambition to excel, but to accommodate our increasing local news and advertising.

Mr. Darrah's large store building was raised Saturday. It stands on the west side of Center Avenue, and adds wonderfully to the appearance of business center.

Armstrong & Scott have a nice lot of livery stock, and turn out as good rigs as you can find anywhere. Young men call and get a nice turnout and take your girl riding.

Mr. Miller's millinery store is now about ready for occupancy. We understand that Mr. M. intends to close up the gap between his and Mr. Welch's store room with a nice little office.
Good idea.

The Tecumseh Torchlight remarks that "the people want Rosewater to have office." Not so down this way.
Al. The majority of our people seem to think "Rosey" more deserving of a term in the penitentiary.

Insure your life in the Centennial Mutual Life Association of Iowa.
You can make no better investment; the money paid is for the benefit of your family, and will return to them at a time when they most need it.

W. G. McLain has a nice arrangement for supplying our citizens with water. It is an air tight water tank that fits his wagon like a wagon bed, and will hold several barrels of water. He will haul all the water you want, cheap. Give him a trial.

The following stations on the western division of the R. V. R. R. were opened for business Sunday March 19, 1882: Stratton, Benkleman and Haigler, in Nebraska; Eckley and Akron in Colorado. The last named station is 302 miles west of Hastings.

You find big towns and the best trade only on east and west railroads.
Cross cuts north and south serve a purpose as feeders only. These are patent truths that may be perceived by a moment's reflection. Then consider the matter before you permanently locate.

Marion Clark, of Tecumseh accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Mary Smith, made a flying visit to Brownville last Friday morning and returned in the evening. Marion visited Judge Stull and procured the necessary papers and the Judge's consent to marry a charming Nemaha county girl. The wedding took place Sunday. We wish Marion and his fair bride much happiness.

Mr. Wils. E. Majors, ex-county clerk, of Peru, met with a very severe accident last Saturday. He had hitched a span of horses to his buggy to visit Brownville. One of the horses was a colt that had not yet been perfectly broken, which becoming rather ungovernable, Wils., in attempting to jump out of the buggy, caught one of his feet between the spokes of a wheel, from which he could not immediately extricate it, and one of the bones of the leg was broken just above the ankle and the ankle joint wrenched out of place. These are the particulars, as we learn them.
