Nebraska Advertiser.

S. W. FAIRBROTHER & CO., Proprietors.
CALVERT. : : NEBRASKA.

See eighth page for local news.
Capt. Tilman Bailey was in the city Monday.

Tom Richards' implement depot is enclosed.

Mr. Darrah's houses are being painted inside.

Shel. Cochran was in jawing around again the other morning.

Another brick kiln will be ready to fire within a short time, by Stephens & Armstrong.

We have no harness shop yet on the south side. A good one would do well here, we think.

Mr. Devin, of the firm of Devin & Fisher, arrived in this city, from Shelbyville, Mo., yesterday.

F. W. Samuelson has commenced building a bank on Nemaha street. D.
J. will be "fixed" when it is completed.

Herbert Willson is now going it alone in the hardware business, having purchased Mr. Harmon's interest. See ad. in another column.

Devin & Fisher will open up this week, in their new store, a complete line of dry goods, groceries, boots, shoes, etc. Please give them a call.

Mrs. Lambert Melvin, Nemaha City, has been, during the past week, near death's door, but we were pleased to learn, Tuesday, that she was much better.

Rev. F. Hiecock, (Presbyterian) of Humboldt, will preach at Samuelson's Hall next Sunday evening. He is well known as the blind preacher. All come out.

We understand that Arthur Walsh is thinking of committing suicide, or emigrating to Africa or some other foreign country, simply because he has discovered that Doc. West writes worse poetry than he does.

Church Howe has again made a tour of the State. Church may be traveling for pleasure, but the general supposition is that he mixes considerable business. Some think he wants to be governor, but we are inclined to think he wants to go to Congress, and in that position he would be no stick either, and if Nebraska wanted anything, and he wanted her to have it, he would come as near getting there as any man that ever parted his hair in the middle.
—Beatrice Independent.

That's what we think, Alex., knowing full well at the same time that Thomas Jefferson parted his hair in the middle.

It appears that Col. Tom. Majors will not get that coveted Congressional seat, after all. What has Fred Nye, the Republican's correspondent, been deceiving us for, we'd like to know.
We have been led to believe that the seat was all right, and that the only thing in the way all winter was a big boil on Tom's rump. But judging from the following dispatch it was worse than that. Read and see if you can find anything crooked:

"The committee on judiciary have agreed to report to the House a resolution asking that the bill heretofore reported in favor of seating Majors as an additional representative from Nebraska, be recommitted to the committee, and the committee authorized to send for persons and papers in order to ascertain the facts in regard to the certified copies of the census report for the State of Nebraska, upon which the committee decided to seat Majors. It appears that the committee was informed that the copy referred to it, as a basis for action gave the census of the State for 1872, while in fact it gave the census for 1874. The object of the resolution agreed upon is to ascertain who is responsible for this misrepresentation."

Palming off, under the solemnity of a certificate and an oath, the census of 1874 for that of 1872, is a pretty serious matter, but too thin to succeed anywhere outside of Peru precinct.
Col. Tom., when that attempted fraud was discovered, picked up his grip sack and skinned out for home, and now rests from his labors in the bosom of his family.

Mr. I. N. Kite, a worthy farmer of Bedford, has lately become the possessor of some interesting experience which he gained through dealing with a lightning-rod pirate. Mr. K. has recently built a handsome residence and engaged a traveling freebooter to put a few lightning-rods upon it, at a cost which the t. f. estimated at about $25.
The highwayman went to work and rodde the house until it looked, as Mark Twain would describe it, "like a spiral-twisted, silver-tipped canebreak," and when he presented his bill it exceeded the original estimate by fifty dollars. One might just as well lose his property through lightning as to squander it on the robbers who perambulate the county seeking whom they may devour.

S. A. Osborn, Esq., the accommodating and efficient agent here of the Lincoln Land Company, is in town looking after the interests of the company; and whether here or elsewhere that business is always to the front with Mr. Osborn. We repeat what we have said on a former occasion, that the Lincoln Land Company were in good luck when they picked on Mr. Osborn as their business man here, for he is full of business, wide awake, industrious, and withal a genial gentleman, who makes friends with everybody.

Another paper appears from Brownville, called the Republican, Ben. B.
Thompson & Son, publishers. Johnny, the son, is the editor. It is 4-page 7-column, patent, well printed, and its local page shows industry on the part of the editor in trying to extract blood from a turnip. Johnny has it in him to be a good editor, and he will deserve a better support than he will receive in Brownville.

We learn that our esteemed whilom fellow citizen, Dr. A. L. Fulton, who went to Oregon some weeks ago, has concluded to locate at the town of As-toria, that state. Doc. F. in his anxiety for pioneering, or a scalping by the Indians, or some such romantic notion, left a good practice here and everybody his friend. We are all sorry he has gone, but hope the craving of his ambition may be realized.

Look out for lightning rod swindlers. If they come around give them the "grand bounce." But if you really think you need a rod, load up your old shot gun and get up on the fence and watch 'em put it up, and if they undertake to put up more than you want, why—why—get down off of the fence and come to town and get Osborn or Cornell to sue 'em for breach of promise, or something.

When physicians have made use of a prescription for years in their private practice, with certain success, it is a duty they owe to mankind to put such remedies within reach of all, and this is done by "copyright"—such is the case with Dr. Sherman's Prickly Ash Bitters, and they have proved to be a blessing to mankind.

The friends of Hon. Jno. L. Carson will regret to learn that he has resigned the position of regent of the state university. Mr. Carson, we have long been aware, doesn't want to be bored with an office, especially one like regent or governor, in which there is little pay and more curses for honest efforts than honor.

Mr. S. Welsh returned from a trip to the east Saturday. He informs us that he has purchased a large stock of furniture which will arrive in a short time. The interior of his fine building for the reception of the same will be finished this week.

Why is it your wife is so much more loving and agreeable these times than usual? It is because Mrs. Miller's millinery store is now open and she expects you to buy her a new spring bonnet, and you are a "nasty, mean old thing" if you don't do it.

Dan Colhapp, of Tecumseh, spent a day or so in the city last week, in the interest of his cigar business. Dan's friends here were glad to see him.
They know him to be a good fellow and to make a good cigar.

Col. Hutchins has the frame up for a 50 foot addition to his agricultural implement house. It is full height regular addition, which will make the interior of the building 130 feet in length.

Our gentlemanly county clerk, J. B.
Docker, accompanied by S. A. Osborn, Esq., was viewing the centre Wednesday. Joe thinks he wants his lots on the south side.

The foundation for Samuelson's new bank building is being built.
