We haven't time and space this to review closely legislative ticket nomina ted by the Republican convention last Monday. It is certainly a very strong ticket. Judge J. S. Church consented with reluctance to accept the position at the head of the ticket, and the people are to be congratulated in his nomination. Being a well read lawyer, a scholar, a good farmer, with legislative experience, of the highest order of moral worth, a good speaker, he is the best man Nemalia county could have selected for Senator; and when he takes his seat in the Senate the people of Nemaha will feel assured that they haven't got a wooden man there this time.

With such an array of statesman ability, wisdom and science, and the noise and confusion they created, one before the battle, while victory for Howe seemed sure from the count of noses, could scarcely be parsuaded that it would not be at least close. But it was not close, Howe delegates were elected from every precinct in the county except three-Brownville, Peru and Benton-18 delegates against Howe; 41 for him.
