BED-ROCK FACTS.

The people of Brownville had a big ratification of Weaver's nomination last Friday night. Bonfires, cannon and fireworks were made use of, and the people rejoiced that Howe was defeated and Weaver nominated.—Seward Reporter.

The above shall be our text for a few remarks. The real object of that rabble was to gloat over the defeat of Mr. Howe, and to insult those who had chosen to support him. The burning of pine boxes, boys, loafers, dogs, fire-crackers and plenty of beer and whisky "were made use of," and no cannon, no dignity, no decency was apparent. That's how Brownville ratified.
The proceeding being an intended affront to at least one-half of Brown-ville's Republican citizens—without whose votes Weaver's majority would be cut short—did Weaver no good and Howe no harm.

Had the Republicans, responsible for that mob, considered the best interests of their city, the people, the party and the ticket, they would have called a meeting of all the factions and elements that have been discordant of the party, for the ratification of Judge Weaver, in which the supporters of Mr. Howe would have joined with cordiality and enthusiasm. The ADVERTISER's doctrine is that when the party, by its representatives in convention, says who its standard bearers shall be, and hoists the Republican flag, every Republican should forego personal preferences, smother party bitterness engendered always more or less in local contests, cease, at least for the time, factional strife, and rally under that flag.

In the struggle in this county as to who should carry the delegations, we espoused the cause of Mr. Howe—for reasons sufficient—because he possesses the Jeffersonian qualifications and is our fellow-citizen. We did what we believed justifiable and necessary for his success; and if we struck blows that repel the savage blows struck at him and his supporters. In the county contest we came out on the winning side, so far as the personal favorite was concerned. In the district convention Mr. Howe was defeated, and we came out on the losing side, so far as our personal choice was concerned. But such a victory or such a defeat is not of momentous importance to us, nothing to be compared to results from a contest with the Democracy, or the natural enemies of the Republican party. The party is greater and of vastly more importance than any individual member of it. When the Republican party speaks, its will is our law; and its nominees ever has had, and ever shall have, our entire best efforts for success. Judge Weaver is our man now just as much as Mr.
Howe was, or would be had he been nominated instead of Judge Weaver, and the whole Republican ticket is our ticket. We have failed on many occasion to get our first choice, but we have the first time to "kick" because we so failed.

The editor of the ADVERTISER is proud of his record. The party in this county by mongrel tickets and traitors in the party has occasionally been defeated, but we never yet regretted the support we gave the party and the whole ticket, after such a defeat.

These remarks are to some extent prompted by a remembrance, that a short time before the primaries we were approached with the suggestion that the ADVERTISER should say editorially, that it would abide by the decision of the Republicans of the county, as to who the party would name from Nemaha for congress; that there were some people who had expressed the opinion that we were so wrapped up in Howe that we would do some awful and nonsensical thing in case of Mr. Howe's defeat. We thanked the gentleman for his solicitude in our behalf but scorned his suggestions and the opinions of those he came to represent; for we had never given a reason for any one to doubt our Republicanism or loyalty to the party, and with true old Republicans we needed no such asseverations.

Now, we challenge the enemies of Mr. Howe to rally with his friends for Judge Weaver, for the state, judicial and county tickets, and give him and them the largest majorities ever polled in the county. This will be a test of loyalty to the party that will show for itself. Those who doubted the AD-VERTISER will now please come to time themselves. If the Weaver or the Republican ticket, or either suffers in any degree it will not be by Mr. Howe's friends. Let the Republicans throughout the districts and state make a note of this assertion and watch the result.

An accident which came near being serious happened at the B. & M. depot last Thursday. While Billy Watkins and Ed. Elliott were unloading some machinery from a car the horses started and ran away, with both men and the wagon. When crossing the railroad track the coupling pole of the wagon broke, throwing Watkins off on to the ground and Elliott forward on to the front hounds, where he hung on until the horses were stopped at the bridge crossing Centre avenue, near Armstrong and Scott's livery stable.
It was very fortunate that the old gray did not kick for Elliott would surely have been killed or badly injured.
As it was, neither of the men were seriously hurt. This ought to be a lesson to Billy and cause him to tie his team hereafter when he leaves them.

Monday evening clouds gathered around the horizon, from which lightning flashed its fiery tongues, and people were glad and said one to another "it's going to rain." The wind got into the northwest, whirled the dust in blinding clouds. The thermometer indicated a fall in the temperature of twenty-five degrees, men in their shirt sleeves drew on their coats. During the night the clouds drew nearer, thunder rolled athwart the heavens. We arose from our bed and looked warily into the inky darkness for a young cyclone, but didn't see any. And it didn't rain.

The most affecting thing, next to his nomination of Uriah Bruner, that ever occurred in Pat Hawes' political life, was his speech in the Nebraska City convention vindicating Tom Majors.— Omaha Republican.

Pat asserted very positively that Tom would be acquitted by the committee. But that is simply the opinion of slightly interested party somewhat smirched himself. The people, having the printed testimony before them will read and judge for themselves.

Fred. Carman, of Shenandoah, Iowa, a famous young horseman, was in the city last Sunday with the trotting stallion, "Alarm," owned by Judge Kinney, of Nebraska City. Fred and his horse were en route for Huxwatha, Kansas, where "Alarm" will fill the breasts of his opponents with what his name implies.

The fall term of the Bedford school began last Monday with Miss Mamie Daugherty as teacher. Miss Mamie has had considerable experience in school teaching and has always given satisfaction for the method of teaching as well as for her manner of government.

It is rumored that there was an elopement in high life from this place Monday night last. The last heard of the amorous runaways was that they were going as fast as their legs could carry them to Missouri to get spliced.
Missouri is not the Gretna Green that it used to be, as they may learn.

Arthur V. Walsh finished his contract for the plastering of the Catholic church last week. Rev. Fitzgerald and the building committee were well satisfied with the work and think a better job could not be done. Arthur is just the one that knows how to do a first-class job.

Died, Saturday 16th inst., of summer complaint, a twin child, 10 months old, of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Eginton, who resides two and half miles east of this place. The other babe is dangerously sick. The parents have our sympathy in their deep sorry.

Miss Mamie Watkins, a handsome young lady of Rockford, Ill., who has been visiting Miss Ettie Erwin, of this place, departed for Tecumseh last Friday morning. Miss Mamie is as fine a pianist as we have had the pleasure of listening to for some time.

W. J. Rose purchased a large farm in Bedford precinct recently and will take possession at once. He intends to build a fine house and barn on it in the spring and make many other improvements.
