POST OFFICE HOURS.
From 7:00 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays, from 12 m. to 4 p. m. Farmers and others please take notice.

G. W. FAIRBROTHER, Jr., P. M.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 21, 1882.

Good bye, summer.

Press Wheat Drills by D. Campbell, North Auburn.

S. A. Osborn, of Brownville, was registered at the Holdrege Wednesday.

The Republican state convention convened at Omaha yesterday at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Jos. D. Croan and Mrs. Albert Dillon arrived at home from their visit to the east on Thursday last.

David Campbell has moved his implement house to North Auburn. He has a full stock of everything in his line.

Misses Anna and Grace Glasgow, two charming young ladies of North Auburn, entertained the parlor at the Holdrege last Tuesday afternoon.

Dillon & Croan have sold their drug store. What business they will now engage in we do not know, but hope they will remain citizens of Auburn.

WANTED—The undersigned desires to rent a farm of about 160 acres—well improved. The best of references furnished.
C. I. WILSON,
1442 South Auburn, Neb.

Misses Ella Keedy and Emma Ecker, of Douglas precinct, have bought out the millinery stock of Mrs. Miller and will continue the business at the old stand.

Titus & Williams, Nemaha City, are now receiving a very large invoice of fall goods and groceries. Call and see their nice goods and have your bills filled as cheaply as at any house in the county.

Geo. W. Berlin, well-known in the county and a jolly good boy, now traveling for grocery house of John A. Tolman & Co., of Chicago, was in town Wednesday of last week supplying our merchants with goods in his line.

We suppose if Strobe does not get the district attorneyship, he will be given a surveyor's contract to heal his wounds and heal his pocket.—Nebraska City News.

O, certainly—but don't worry about Strobe. He'll get there, all the same.

Mr. John Strain and his daughter, Miss Mary, were in Auburn Wednesday, and gave the ADVERTISER a pleasant call. Miss Mary will teach the Hillsdale school, beginning soon. She taught there a former term or two, and was well liked by scholars and parents.

Amos Whitlow came to town Monday drunk, or got drunk after he came, kicked up a row with Roberts in his restaurant and was put out. After which he drew a knife with which to carve Roberts, and Lem. Cummings of the Paris House, in attempting to hold him received a kick in the stomach that doubled him up like a jack-knife, jolted the wind from his breathing fixings and he was carried out; but soon recovering, he went home cogitating upon the dangers of fooling around the heels of a jackass. Ed. Wert then arrested Whitlow, took him to Brownville, brought him back, took him before Fowler, J. P., who let him go on his personal recognizance, until the 23d, when if he appears, he will have a trial.

Three car loads of wagons just received by David Campbell.

On the 12th inst., Gen. Wolsley led his forces against the Egyptians, and his plan was so well made and executed that the hosts of Arabi were nearly annihilated. The fortifications were stormed and carried by the bayonet, and with such skill and intrepidity that those not slain, fled like terror-stricken sheep. And about all the ammunition, arms and artillery in their defense works, five miles long, were captured. Arabi showed his cowardice early in the engagement by jumping onto a railway engine and pulling out to safe quarters. Wolsley attacked about 4 o'clock in the morning, utterly surprising Arabi, and before 10 o'clock all of Arabi's fleshy rabble were either prisoners, dead or flying, and the war in Egypt virtually added. Wolsley's attack was covered by darkness because he did not want to expose his soldiers to the terrible slaughter which would have been inevitable in storming those breastworks and other fortifications by daylight. He led his men quietly without a yell or gunshot to give warning of his approach, up to and over the sandy embankments, and began bayoneting the unwary Arabi before they had time to know precisely what was up. And that's what scared them so. We like the style of Wolsley, and conclude he would be almighty hard to get away with as to big fighting and final grand results. And later reports say Arabi is a prisoner.

Mrs. Croan and Mrs. Dillon were gone to their old home, at Anderson, Ind., during the greater part of August and September, and arrived back to Auburn on Thursday last. During the absence of the ladies Mr. Croan went to work and had, as many vote it, the handsomest residence in the city built, for a surprise present to his wife upon her return. He did his work well and successfully, having the house finished completely, and furnished, before she returned. We have an idea that Mrs. Croan knew nothing of the pleasant surprise—that would gladden the heart of any lady—that awaited her, for although they received the ADVERTISER regularly while on their visit, they saw not a word in it regarding Mr. Croan's scheme. He had forbidden us to say a word about it. We can now say what we please about it, and certainly congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Croan for their beautiful and pleasant home. On Monday they threw open their doors and received their friends, which numbers everybody.

Amongst other things done at the district court last week, Anthony Cloyd, the colored boy who raped old Mrs. Copeland was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. He plead guilty—is only 17 years old.

Higgins, for burglary at Brock some time ago, went up for a year.

Leeper vs. M. P. R. R. for damages to his land by reason of said road running through it received $250. J. C. Deuser, in a similar case, received no verdict—jury couldn't agree. The award by the commissioners to Deuser was $150. Judging from the testimony, all of which we heard, he will not be likely to get that amount, by law. The attorneys for plaintiffs were Osborn & Taylor and O. J. Stowell, and they stood by their clients energetically and ably. Hon. J. L. Webster, of Omaha, was for the railroad. He is a sick one, in every sense of word.

On the 14th inst., the bourgeois of Nebraska met at Omaha and nominated the following state ticket: For governor, J. Sterling Morton, of Otoe; lieutenant-governor, J. F. Warner, of Dakota; secretary of state, Charles J. Bowler, of Saline; treasurer, Peter D. Sturdevant, of Fillmore; attorney-general, J. C. Crawford, of Cuming; auditor, Charles Leech, of Johnson; commissioner of public lands and buildings, Henry Grebe, of Douglas; superintendent of public instruction, Charles A. S. Pierce, of Platte; regent of the university, Ike Burka, of Lancaster.

Buggies and Spring Wagons for sale by D. Campbell, North Auburn.

Our esteemed young friend Hugh C. Stokes and Miss Kinzie Stevenson, all of Nemaha precinct, were quietly married by Rev. B. J. Johnson, Thursday evening, September 14, 1882. Both Parties were well-known and very popular with the young people of this vicinity, and the ADVERTISER joins with a host of other friends in wishing Hugh and his fair bride a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Church Howe was not given his first name as a joke on the church triumphant.—Nebraska City News.

And the present Democratic candidate for governor was not given his improved middle name as a joke entirely. J. Stealing has merited that cognomen by many a trick in filling his own pocket. There is something in a name after all.

Mrs. Dr. A. L. Fulton's is in the city visiting with her sister, Mrs. Ed. Wert.

Tom Jones, a popular young carpenter of this place, recently purchased of Chas. Cottrell a half interest in his hotel on Maxwell street. It looks rather suspicious to see two unmarried men investing in a house that would just fit two families nicely.

Mrs. J. W. Kerns started for home last Tuesday, coming by the way of Omaha, where she will make a short visit with some of her friends, reaching Auburn the latter part of the week. The gloomy look is slowly passing from the face of J. W.

Persons having farms to rent, or persons wanting to rent farms, will do well to put their business in D. J. Wood's hands, who has applicants for both.

The base ball club that gets away with all of 'em South of Omaha, is composed of some farmer boys out at Johnson, Nemaha county, Nebraska.

Miss Nettie Stokes accompanied by her cousin, Miss Nannie Simmons, of St. Joseph, was in town shopping last Tuesday.

"Viola," our new continued story commenced last week, is one of the best, as all our story readers will agree after they have read it.

Hon. G. R. Shook, was doing some surveying for farmers in the neighborhood and called at Auburn Tuesday.

Wm. Mattheisen started last Monday on business trip to Cawker City, Kansas.

The Johnson County Fair opened at Tecumseh, Wednesday this week.

Mrs. August Strecker returned from Humboldt last Tuesday evening.

Orange Blossoms.

Once more we have the pleasure of ringing the nuptial bells. The parties of whose marriage we just received the news are, Mr. William Wager and Miss Frances Rollier, both of Bedford precinct, who were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Lawler, and was at once solemn and impressive. The discourse tendered by the Rev. gentleman on the occasion was lengthy and consisted in well-selected words of advice which were duly appreciated by all present. Extensive preparations were made by the friends of both parties for a sumptuous dinner and the wedding cake which was ordered from Brownville, was the nicest and most delicious that could be procured. Many friends and well-wishers of the happy couple were present and the wedding gifts were numerous and valuable. The day was spent in fun and merriment, and in the evening the newly married couple took the west-bound train on the B. & M. to spend their honeymoon in a land "where angels sing and all is love." We extend to the parties our congratulations and best wishes, wishing them a long, happy life, and hoping their brightest anticipations will one day find a happy realization.

Murder was performed on our streets Tuesday. There was a pistol shot, and Jim Buckley was seen poking a smoking pistol into his pocket. His victim fell and expired without a word. A crowd gathered round and gazed solemnly on the deceased, the dark blood absorbed by the dust, and the little round hole above the right eye from which the brains oozed, and some one remarked that it was a good shot, and Jim ought to be awarded a chromo. It was a yellow slut. We resign the further consideration of the subject to some of our poets.

Worth Rememberin'.

Now that good times are again upon us, it is worth remembering that no one can enjoy the pleasantest surroundings if in bad health. There are hundreds of miserable people going about to-day with disordered stomach, liver or kidneys, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the medicines they have ever tried.

S. A. Osborn, Esq., G. W. Fairbrother sr. and jr., went out Wednesday to see the Tecumseh fair.

MANHOOD

How Lost, How restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty year's successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure as one simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address The Culverwell Medical Co., 41 Ann St., New York, N. Y.; post Office Box, 450.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser having been permanently cured of that dread disease, Consumption, by a simple remedy, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used, (free of charge,) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for coughs, colds, consumption, asthma, bronchitis, etc. Parties wishing the prescription will please address, Rev. E. Wilson, 194 Penn street, Williamsburgh, N. Y.

LADIES who are troubled with Leucorrhoea (that Albas or Whites) should for Private) give description of her family, and showing its application. The pamphlet is valuable to any lady in delicate health, being the result of the most successful and safe. HARRIS REMEDY CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.
