WANTED. WOOD wanted in exchange for subscription, and other uses, at this office.

THOSE FRAUDS. Since the late election in this Territory for Delegate to Congress, we have listened to the howlings of "fraud" from the Daily organs, and the recriminating cry of "frauds" from Estabrook Journals, with a good deal of patience. We can refrain no longer, and after coughing and expectorating the requisite alib-woase, we take to howling - F-r-a-u-d!

The Omaha Republican says that not fifty legal voters reside in the two counties of Hall and Buffalo. Had we not known that this statement was, to say the least, incorrect, it might have passed for what it purported to be, in this part of Nebraska; but having visited Ft. Kearney several times during the past three years, we know from personal knowledge that there are more than "fifty legal voters" there. At no time were there more than three times that amount. As voters, whether they might be termed "legal" or not we leave others to judge. They were chiefly Government teamsters, herdsmen, employees about the Fort, Major, Russell & Waddell's employees, sutlers, and their clerks, trappers, traders, and a few gamblers.

The Elections. The States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Wisconsin held their State elections on the 8th inst., and resulted in the Republicans carrying all of them. In New York the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, was beaten by only 285. B. C. branches of the legislature are republican.

A Profitable Railroad.

Let us run up now says the New York Tribune, and see what elements of support for such a railroad may be presumed to already exist.

THE OMAHA INDIANS.

Two tribes of Indians, the Kiowa and the Comanche, arrived in this Territory on the 9th inst., at the hands of their agent, Capt. Moore. They are being gathered to their fathers fast, very fast, as they now only number nine hundred and sixty-four souls.

Five of these red sons of the forest two red squaws in red blankets, and one pale red papoose put up at the Bates House on Sunday night, for supper. The host fearing they might be abused at the tom-foleries of white people, gave them a table by themselves.

Death of Judge Ferguson. Judge Ferguson died at his residence in Bellevue, on the 11th inst., of a stroke of paralysis. He was widely and favorably known throughout the Territory, and the news of his death will be received with unfeigned regret.

U. S. Petit Jurors. Henry Gilgrip, J. S. Gibson, John Farnam, R. F. Chambers, Henry Ream, William McKennan, L. J. Kennard, Harrison Lyons, John Jaffalger, Daniel McLaughlin, Ziba Millage, E. G. Lamson.

Capt. Page. We had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with this gentleman, during the late term of the court, and found him to be social, agreeable and courteous, as a man; and prompt, decisive and efficient, as an officer.

The J. D. M. Crookwell Hydraulic Manufacturing Company. A somewhat euphonious name of a company recently organized in Dakota City, having for its object the tapping of the Missouri river at near Logan, hoping thereby to divert the river from the present channel, and leave Sioux City an island town.

NOTICE.

SHAREHOLDERS OF T. party in Dakota City, and others.

There have been several assessments made from time to time to defray the expenses of the company, a large proportion of which has not been paid; and in consequence the same is not the responsibility of the company, or will not be entered against all who have not, or will not comply immediately.

Going up to Washington. The Grand Jury at its late session indicted a lengthy Miteian, named John Stranny, for perjury. John heard the reputation of having spent the best portion of his life, in hiding bad whiskey, and taking an occasional stray from the paths of rectitude.

That Elk Hunt. A brace of modern Nimrods have been making extensive preparations, for an Elk hunt. The sport would be exhilarating, no doubt, but we think it is too late in the season.

A Brave Man. James Seaton and John Stranny having been indicted for offences known to the law, and having refused to appear to give bail for their forthcoming at the next session of the District Court, were ordered to take a ride down to Omaha.

That Lycium. Why did not our citizens organize that lycium we suggested a couple of weeks ago. If it does not come within the range of things possible, let us have a series of Hydraulic meetings, for the special enlightenment of the benighted, in the hyperborean village north of us.

Personal. Col. J. N. H. Patrick Register of U. S. Land Office, at this point, and Lady, left for Omaha to spend a few weeks. The Col. wants to see the "dance open" at the capital. As he is good authority on "frawds" we refer Daily to him.
