Head the letter from John S. Crump, Grand Juror, Arkansas, Cherokee Nation, bearing date August 10, 1853. Dr. Easley—Sir: When I was in your city in March last, I purchased one dozen bottles of your Fever and Ague Killer, which you warranted to me. I have sold seven of the dozen, which I also warranted. My medicine has given entire satisfaction so far, it having effected several cures of the Chills and Fever. One case particularly—a lady who had been afflicted since the latter part of last summer, and had tried a great many remedies, besides having a physician part of the time, all of which failed. She bought a bottle of your medicine, and before she had used one-third of it, she was entirely cured, and has enjoyed good health ever since. In no case has it failed to effect a permanent cure. Respectfully yours, John S. Crump, P. S.—I will be your place again shortly, and will buy more largely.

WINTER COUGH. The harsh dry winter cough which afflicts old people and invalids in a low state of health, can be effectually cured by the use of Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam. It warms the system, stimulates the whole breathing apparatus, and animates the Lungs, improves the secretory power of the Liver, Spleen and other large glands, and the digestive organs, and imparts new life to the worn and emaciated system.

HOGS AND CORN IN ILLINOIS.—A gentleman who has traveled extensively through the middle portion of Illinois and along the Illinois and Sangamon rivers tells us that in many parts of the country and particularly in the bottoms and low lands of the Sangamon the crops of corn are very good; in many neighborhoods fine Corn was selling, deliverable next winter, at 35 a 40c, pork at $4, and butter, at present, at 10 to 12. He paid much attention to the prospects for corn, and pork, and upon the whole estimates former at full half the usual yield, and pork something, but not a great deal short of an ordinary season. He heard in fact, witnessed several sales of stock at very low prices. One sale of 100 hogs, the largest transaction noticed, was at $3 per head, big and little, as they run. The party selling said he had but a few weeks previously refused $10 for one hundred, and a less price for the remainder. Instances of this kind were rare, however, and by no means the general condition even of the worst corn-growing districts.—[St. Louis Int.]

DR. CARTER'S COUGH BALSAM. The great expectorant. It dissolves the morbid and disease matter in the air passages, changes it from a thick glutinous substance to a thin harmless fluid, and throws it off with the greatest facility. It is a powerful and safe expectorant, and as long as cold matter exists in the air passages, it will continue to irritate the membrane and provoke a cough. Coughing is an attempt to throw off this matter, and expectoration gives great relief. Inability to expectorate in the latter stage of consumption is the cause of death.

INDIAN CORN.—A French farmer has succeeded in given to Indian Corn any color he chooses, by the following plan: Having received from China a specimen of Maize of a pearl white color, the grains of which were very small but very beautiful he was desirous to obtain the same grain but of other colors. For this purpose, he planted by the side of some of them some American maize of a red color. He made a similar experiment with the maize of Tusavoro, the grain of which is as white as Carolina rice, and he thus obtained a crop, the ears of which were about 14 inches in length, and the grains of a blue color. Another time he planted some mazes of the color of amber among some of the black maize of Syria. The ears attained a length of 22 inches, and the grain was of different colors.—The yellow maize on being planted near some of the brown maize of Central America produced some of a dark brown color which ripens eight days sooner than the other sorts. This farmer now possesses 153 different varieties of maize, and his object in continuing his experiments is not only to change the color at will but also to obtain varieties which will ripen earlier, as well as larger and longer ears, and thus increase the produce.
