

LOCAL NEWS.

Special Notice.—All job work must be paid for on delivery.

New potatoes and green corn are quite plentiful in the city.

Gen. R. R. Livingston arrived at his home, in this city, on Sunday last.

The weather for the past week has been unusually cold and wet for the month of July—so cold as to cause many to don their winter clothing.

Murrah for our side! Wm. Stadelmann has erected an awning in front of his building on Main street, which gives the place quite a city appearance.

We hear occasionally of a field of wheat injured by the rust but as a general thing the wheat crop in this part of the Territory surpasses all former years.

The river has been rising very rapidly for the past twenty-four hours, and bids fair to get as high as during the spring rise.

W. J. Hyatt has completed the repairs on the hotel building, corner of Main and Third St., and the house is now open for the accommodation of the traveling public.

Read the farewell address of Dr. Franklin, in to-day's paper. This is a document never before published in the west, and it will pay to give it a careful perusal and to follow the advice of the learned Dr.

Promoted.—In a letter received in this city yesterday from Capt. J. W. Pearson he informs his friends that he has been promoted to Chief Quartermaster of the State of Iowa, with head quarters at Davenport.—Press.

Mr. G. F. Shurtler, seeing a notice a few weeks since to the effect that there was a room on our subscription book for a few more names, has furnished some ten or twelve, together with the requisite amount of green-backs, for which we are truly thankful.

L. Golding has removed his clothing house to first door west of the Herald office and proposes selling of his present stock at a sacrifice, in order to make room for a large stock this fall. Now is the time to get "bargains." See advertisement in to-day's paper.

Sergt. McMaken's report shows that three hundred and fifty-five wagons have left this city for the west within the past two weeks, loaded with Government freight, and machinery for the mines. Three more trains are now lying here awaiting the arrival of their loading.

Why is it that every time we have a rain during the night or morning we get no mail from Omaha? Does a little rain prevent the mail crossing the Platte, or is it through the neglect and carelessness of some one connected with the transportation of the mail that causes their failure—who can tell?

Howe & Thatcher offer great inducements to farmers and freighters who are in want of any kind of merchandise. They are posted in the wants of the community, and are prepared to supply them at the most reasonable rates. Give them a call, at their new store on Main street. You will find them thorough gentlemen, and always ready to wait on customers.

Miss Amy C. Lyman and Miss Caroline Shea will open a District School, in the brick school house in this city, on Monday, the 31st inst. Miss Shea is well known as a teacher, to most of our citizens, having been engaged in teaching in this city for some time. Miss Lyman is spoken of in the highest terms of praise by those who are acquainted with her. They extend an invitation to all.

Why is it that our city authorities charge licenses but four and five dollars license, when almost every little place in the country demands of them not less than $25, and some $50? Would it not be a wise policy to put on a little more tariff on institutions that take thousands of dollars out of the community, and benefit no one, but fill their own pockets? If our worthy Mayor would demand a little more license from some of these swindling institutions, it might enable us to have some city improvements in the way of bridges, which are badly needed.

Flour is selling at $4.50 per sack in this city—best quality. There are two large steam flouring Mills in the city, where almost any quantity of flour can be manufactured. We are using an excellent article manufactured at the mill of Messrs. ——. Well, we have looked all through our advertising columns and cannot find who are the proprietors; but our readers can rest assured that they manufacture a superior article of flour, and always keep a supply on hand.

A short time since one of our patrons gave us notice to discontinue his advertisement and send in the bill, giving as a reason that he could not afford the expense. The bill was accordingly sent (at our published rates for advertising) and in a few days we received the amount called for, together with a note stating that they were "greatly surprised at the amount charged, and that we could continue the advertisement as long as we liked at the figures." It is sufficient to say that the party is an extensive advertiser, and is thoroughly acquainted with the prices and benefits of advertising.

Judge William Kellogg, and Col. E. B. Taylor of the REPUBLICAN have gone east. Mr. Taylor has gone on business connected with Indian matter.

What would our readers think of an address, delivered on the Fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, that would fill five columns of a newspaper and not containing a single word of joy at the successful termination of the great struggle through which our nation has just passed? Would they think the orator was "too full of loyalty for utterance" or would they, more naturally, suppose that was a subject upon which he did not care to have his views made public. See an address purporting to have been delivered on the 4th, somewhere in the vicinity of Plattsmouth.

A graceless scam by the name of Barney O'Donnell, entered the stable of Mr. Glenn last Monday night, and stole two pair of bridles, two collars, pole straps, and various other small articles—all new. The villain had the audacity to come to the shop of M. B. Murphy (where the things were manufactured) yesterday morning, and try to trade the collars for smaller ones. Mr. Murphy recognized the property, and immediately took steps to have the culprit arrested. He was taken before Justice O'Neil for examination, and held to bail in the sum of $150. The property was all recovered.

During the storm last Friday evening, a singular appearing conical shaped cloud was visible in the no. th west.—We learn, that, the section of country, over which it passed was visited by a severe hail storm, damaging crops to a considerable extent. The corn on some farms was badly cut down, and, although we have not heard any particulars, we have no doubt the standing wheat was severely injured.

We are informed by Mr. Thomas that the hail storm embraced a scope of country about three miles in length and two or two and a half in width, entirely destroying the crops on the farms of S. L. Thomas, Mrs. Craig, W. W. Connor, M. Hyatt, and Thomas Thomas. The hail was accompanied by a strong wind, which changed to almost all points of the compass during the time the storm lasted, which was about twenty or thirty minutes. Fences were blown down, and generally strewn about. Mr. Thomas describes the wheat and oats as being completely threshed as he ever saw it done by a machine, and nothing left of the corn crops except the stubs of the stalks, which were badly bruised by the falling hail. Some of the farms adjoining those above mentioned were injured considerably, but not so as to entirely destroy the crops. The hail stones were not of so great a size as are often seen, but were driven with terrible force by the wind.

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

[Critical notices of the Press.] It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The first side never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.) The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the high literary and popular character of the Harper's Magazine, and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—(Purser's Guide to American Literature (London.) The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading, such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

SUBSCRIBERS.—1865.

The publishers have provided a system of mailing by which they can supply the Magazine and Weekly promptly to those who prefer to receive their periodicals in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
