COME ONE. COME ALL.

Numerous letters are being received by our citizens, asking information in regard to this part of the world, with a view to settling here if the country suits. To all such enquirers we would say, come on ! This Territory cannot fail to please you, unless, indeed, you will not be pleased with anything .--Here you have as good a climate, all things considered, as can be found in any part of the world; end as regards soil, we defy any part of the United States to show better. Here we are not confined to any particular class of products, as are some localities; and in fact any kind of crop you may desire to cultivate, can be produced in abundance, and with as little labor as at any place in the United States. Fruit of the various kinds does well here; and, although our Territory is yet young, large quantities of apples, peaches, in the hour of need (of whom there plums, cherries, grapes, &c., are grown in abundance, and are found to do as well as in the East.

As regards business facilities, Nebraska, and particularly this portion of it, offers the best inducements of any part of the United States. Here you legitimate business, and if you have a turn of mind to establish some new and novel business, here is the best place in the world to make it successful .---This is a progressive country, and now is the time to get a "foot hold." I will be but a short time before the "iron horse" will be running at lightning speed across out broad and fertile prairies, transporting our wheat, corn, &c., to the far West, and bringing in return the yellow ore that is found in such vast quantities in the Mountain regions between here and the Pacific coast. Nature has made the Missouri river the base for all this trade with the West, and those who get thoroughly established here in adwance, are the ones that will reap the harvest at the proper time.

The item of timber has been considwho have lived in the heavy timbered regions of the East, to be something of a drawback to the prosperity of this country; but is estimated that there is considerably more timber in the Terriiory now than there was ten years ago, notwithstanding the constant drain upon it for fencing, fuel, building, &c. Coal has been known to exist in the Territory since its first settlement, but our citizens have heretofore lack'd montigation of the matter, and it is now demonstrated beyond doubt that there are extensive deposits of coal here, purpose of procuring it. In the Southern portion of the Territory it has been procured in considerable quantities; and new veins are being discovered to the west of us, which promise fair to be very productive. This will entirely tofore without coal, it will certainly not be diminished with coal and the facilities which railroads will give for procuring lumber from the pine regions.
