FARMERS' CLUB.

The first Saturday in each month is the regular day for the meeting of the Cass county Farmers' Club. Saturday December 2d there was only seven members present. Several questions of interest were introduced for discussion. A member proposed that a petition be circulated among the farmers petitioning the Legislature to pass a law compelling owners of stock to herd their stock nights, commencing the 1st of September each year. Some of the reasons advanced in favor of such a law were that stock commence getting unruly and break into cornfields in the fall as soon as the grass begins to get dry, and should be taken care of to keep them from learning to break down and jump fences; and that it would be a great saving to the farmers, as under the present arrangement thousands of bushels of corn are destroyed every year; more than sufficient to pay the extra expense of herding stock nights. Farmers will do well to consider the matter, and try to get a more stringent law against unruly stock running at large in the fall, and especially nights, when the fields cannot have the protection of a man or boy with a good dog.

The subject of fencing was also introduced. It is a very important subject, and one that interests every good farmer. There should be more attention given to raising hedges, as a line fence is a necessity on the prairies where timber is scarce, as a protection against the severe winds as well as for protecting the crops from stock running at large. The Osage Orange is undoubtedly the best plant for a hedge; but this year the seed cannot be had in any quantity, as the fruit has failed in Texas and Arkansas, where it has been obtained heretofore.

The question was asked in the Club if the Honey Locust could not be used for fencing, as well as the Osage Orange. None of the members present could say from their own experience whether it could or not; but nearly all expressed it as their opinion that it would make a good fence, but that it would require more time than the Osage Orange. Any person who has tried the Honey Locust for a hedge, will confer a favor by giving their experience in the agricultural deparment of the HERALD. The seed could be procured by gathering it in western Iowa, where it grows upon nearly every farm where there is timber, especially along the Missouri river.

The President of the Club exhibited two ears of corn that weighed two pounds, and the shelled corn weighed one pound ten ounces.

The next meeting of the Club will be on the last Saturday in December, instead of the first Saturday in January.

All persons interested in agriculture are requested to become members of the Club, and are invited to attend the meetings and assist in making them interesting and useful. W. T. P.

FREEZING ONIONS.—If designed to keep the onions till spring, the cheapest and best way is to freeze them. To do this, select the north-west portion of some out-building under which the air does not circulate, spread the onions about one and a half feet in depth, leaving a vacant space of about two feet from the side of the building; let them get thoroughly frozen, then cover them closely with an old sail, or any cloth to keep the hay from mixing with them, and spread the hay two feet or more in depth above the covering, also pack fine hay closely between the heap and the sides of the building. Here let them remain untouched until the first frost is entirely out, when they should be spread at once, well aired and turned often until thoroughly dried.—J. J. H. Gregory.

LIVE UP TO YOUR IDEAL

This should be the great aim of the farmers as of all men. Every one has in his mind, an ideal of what his farm, his home and its surroundings should be. In his quiet, thoughtful moments, he pictures to himself his farm laid out in convenient fields, his timber lot springing into existence under the stimulants of fertile soil and genial seasons, his orchards laden with choice fruits, his garden filled with the finest vegetables, his crops rightly chosen for profit and rotation,—all well tilled and weedless. He sees a comfortable house comfortably furnished in which his family is happy and contented; and out-buildings neat in good repair and conveniently located. In short, his homestead, he knows, should his ideal be carried out, would be a little paradise, yielding him profit and pleasure. And yet to actually realize this ideal how few efforts do most men put forth, though little by little, how much may be done in three years that roll on, bringing the end of all visions and of all efforts. Men dream and delve and drift, leaving no spot on earth the better, or move the beautiful for their living, no example worthy of imitation. This need not be, were the attempt earnestly made to accomplish their own ideal of farming and of farm life. True they may never be able to reach, completely, this ideal, but there is pleasure in its pursuit, when commenced, and satisfaction in all progress toward it. Action is the simple talisman that secures all success.—Prarie Farmer.

THE TRIRUNE for 1865.

PROSPECTUS.

The Military and Naval successes of 1864, with the auspicious result of our Presidential contest, have lifted a heavy weight from the breasts of the loyal millions of our countrymen. It is now felt, even by those who have been distrustful and faint hearted that the Union is to emerge triumphant from the deadly strife whereinto she was so wickedly precipitated by her assailants, and that slavery, her relentless foe, is to encounter the fate of Haman. The perils of foreign intervention and of Western insurrection are safely passed; ABRAHAM LINCOLN, no longer assailable as a choice of the minority, holds the helm of state for four years longer; the rebellion, palpably weakened by its defeats and losses during the past year—with its credit so reduced that its purse-bearer officially declares that its Treasury notes can only be exchanged for coin at the rate of twenty-five for one, while its bonds command but six cents on the dollar—but awaits the blow which shall soon strike the sword from its paracidal hand and remit its master spirits to the justice, or it may be to the clemency, of a sorely wronged and justly incensed but forbearing and magnanimous people. Such are the auspices which justify our faith that the present year will see the Stars and Stripes float unchallenged from every battlement in the Republic, and the perfect law of Liberty for All immovably imbedded in the Constitution of our Union.

THE NEW COBK TRIBUNE, founded in 1841, will enter upon its twenty-fourth year with quickened hopes and enlarged means of usefulness. Its principles need no re-statement: its aims are the diffusion of Intelligence and the inoculation of a spirit of Freedom and Humanity. When this truth shall have been generally recognized and established as the basis of our institutions and polity, that injustice to the poorest, the weakest, the most despised, is a fearful mistake—that no community or state can afford to wrong even its humblest member—then will our land back once more in the calm sunshine of peace and prosperity.

THE TRIBUNE has for the last year been published without profit to its proprietors, solely because of the depreciation of our currency below specie standard, compelling us to buy paper and other materials at a cost considerably above the amount received from our subscribers. On our weekly edition, the net loss has amounted to several thousands of dollars; while our large receipts from advertising have been wholly absorbed by the extraordinary exposures for Correspondence, Telegraphing, etc., devolved on us by the war. As we do not suppose our patrons desire that we should work for them at our cost, and prefer not to be patronized by any who MAY desire it, we have somewhat advanced for the ensuing year the prices of our Semi-Weekly and Weekly, as we had already done with those of our daily editions. This increase is purely nominal; there never before was a time when the farmers of our country country could buy The Tribune for so little of their own products or labor as they can by the following

HARPER'S

New Monthly Magazine.

[Critical notices of the Press.]

It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.)

The most popular Monthly in the world.—N. Y. Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American people; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Turner's Guide to American Literature (London.)

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading, such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

SUBSCRIPTONS.—1866.

The publishers have perfected a system of mailing by which they can supply the Magazine and Weekly promptly to those who prefer to receive their periodicals directly from the office of publication.

The postage on Harper's Magazine is 24 cents a year, which must be paid at the subscriber's post office.

TERMS:

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, one year, - - - $4.

An extra copy of either the Magazine or Weekly will be supplied gratis for every Club of Five Subscribers at $4 each, in one remittance; or six copies for $20.

Back numbers can be supplied at any time.

A complete set, now comprising Twenty-nine Volumes, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, freight at expense of purchaser, for $2.25 per volume. Single volumes, by mail, post paid, $3. Cloth cases for binding, 55 cents, by mail, post paid.

HELMBOLD

FLUID EXTRACT

—OF—

BUCHU.

At the Cape of Good Hope

THE HOTTENTOTS

Have long used

BUCHU

For a variety of Diseases.

It was borrowed from these rude practitioners by the English and Dutch Physicians, on whose recommendation it was employed in Europe, and has become quite general use.

It is given chiefly in Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder or Urethra, for Female Weakness and

DEBILITY,

For Prostration and Bearing Down, or Pain, Uneasiness of the Prostate Gland, Retention, Incontinence of Urine, and all diseases arising from a disorder of the Urinary Organs. Even a case of long standing is relieved in a few days.

It is also recommended in cases of

Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism,

Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

To cure these diseases we must bring into action the medicine which are known to exert a direct influence upon the constitutions. To neglect them, however slight the case may be at first, is sure to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

Our Flesh and Blood

are supported from these sources.

PERSONS AT EVERY PERIOD OF LIFE,

From Infancy to Old Age,

and in every state of health, are liable to the attack of these diseases.

The Causes in many instances are unknown.

The patient has, however, an admirable remedy in

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin Editorial,
SEPT. 15, 1865.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

His Solid and Fluid Extracts embody the full strength of the ingredients of which they are named. They are left to the inspection of all. A ready and conclusive test of their properties will be a comparison with those set forth in the United States Dispensatory. These remedies are prepared by H. T. Helmbold, a druggist of sixteen years' experience in this city, and we believe them to be reliable; in fact we have never known an article lacking merit to meet with a permanent success, and as Helmbold's name is certainly prima facie evidence. His Drug and Chemical Warehouse, in the city of New York, is not excelled, if equaled, by any in the country, and we would advise our readers, when visiting that city to give him a call, and judge for themselves.
