SHOW THE PROOF.

One of the little snakes which form the "bread and butter brigade" in Nebraska, said in their convention in this city that he could have worked with what he termed the radical party were it not that it asked, through the Constitutional Amendment, for negro suffrage in the South. Now it does ap pear too ridiculous to suppose that any man of ordinary inteligence would believe such an assertion; yet there are men who do not appear to know any better. What we want is, when a man makes

The most impressive part of the whole farce which was played in this city by the copperhead convention and the coppertail convention, was left out After the nuprials were concluded, the representative of South Carolina and the Massachusetts man failed to fill the bill by coming in arm in arm It is said that South Carolina was ready and waiting, but Massachusetts couldn't see it. It is a pity; for large numbers of delegates and spectators had provided themselves with extra pocket handkerchiefs.

ANOTHER ENDORSEMENT.

Maine and Vermont send greeting to the loyal men everywhere. "My Policy" seems to be at a discount in those states. Vermont rolls up an increased Republican majority of 5.000 and Maine 8,000. These are the kind of endorsements the conservative rebels who met at Philadelphia are going to meet with all over the loyal states. when the vote comes in from "around the circle" which Andy has been making, it will be seen that he has "left the Constitution in the hands of the peolpe,' and that they are bound to have the Amendment attatched to it.

OUR NATIONAL DISGRACE That the speeches, actions, etc., of Andrew Johnson are a national disgrace, no sensible man will pretend to deny. The Republican Union party have one thing to console them in this matter, however. Mr. Johnson, in his disgraceful harangues, does not pretend to be an exponent of our principles. He would undoubtedly do us a vast injury if he were speaking upon our side of the question; but as it is he is making more votes in favor of the rethe speakers we have in the field. THE RESULT.

The Philadelphia movement is re

We took the ground, when the Philadelphia resolutions were first adopted, that they did not express the views of a majority-nor even a respectable minority-of the assembled delegates. The whole thing was a show, so far as the great majority were concerned, inaugurated only that the semblance of fairness and reason might be given in order to catch enough loyal votes to elevate the rebels and their intimate friends and sympathisers to power. They were at the bottom of the well, and they either had to stay there or ton. get assistance from Union men to haul them out. The Philadelphia Convention was inaugurated for the purpose of "gulling" a few individuals into their support, under the impression that they would behave themselves and were sorry for the crimes they had committed. We had no faith in the repentance of continuance. either the late rebels or the party who assisted them during the war; yet we are not disposed to say that none who endorsed the action of the Convention had faith in the sincerity of the professions of the assembled delegates. We believe there are men who righteously believed that the course Marshal. marked out was the one best calculated to secure the proper adjustment of all our difficulties. We should have little faith in mankind did we think there were none who supported this movement from konest motives. But what majority indicate? Look, if you please, at their action in Nebraska. Two conconstruction plan of Congress than all ventions are called, both claiming to men who apparently had faith in a reliable correspondent in yesterday's upon as a national disgrace, and tend to state in this connection that Messrs.
