INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.

A correspondent writing to the Omaha Republican, on July 29th, from Fort Kearney, says:

On Thursday, July 25th, a party of Indians—exact number not known, and who are supposed to have crossed from the north side of Platte, attacked the ranches of Mr. John Campbell, and also of his son Peter Campbell, which were about three hundred feet apart. They first came to the house of Mr. Peter Campbell, and took the young woman, Miss Campbell, aged seventeen years, off with them as a prisoner. They then broke open the trunks, and took therefrom forty English sovereigns in gold and one hundred dollars in currency, and taking all the wearing apparel they could find, and destroying what they could not take with them.

They then went to the house of John Campbell where was another daughter of Peter Campbell's, aged 19 years, a little girl of about 12 years of age and two boys about 5 or 6 years old. These they took prisoners also, and took from the house about 100 dollars in U. S. notes, and destroyed what they could not take with them the same as they had done at Peter Campbell's.

The little girl of 12 years of age managed to get away some how or other and went to the house of Mr. Warren about half mile distant, where Mrs. Warren was at home with her children. Mrs. Warren immediately sent one of her little girls with the Miss Campbell to arouse the neighbors below, and bring the men from where they were working.

While she was gone several of the Indians had came down to Warren's house, Mrs. Warren saw them coming and immediately barred up the door. When the Indians found they could not come in by the door they commenced to force their entrance in some other part of the building—by the chimney I believe. Mrs. Warren seeing that they were bound to come in opened the door to run out and escape if possible; but one of the diabolical savages immediately shot her in the breast the shot piercing her heart and killing her instantly. A young babe was sucking at her breast at the time she was shot. There were four children at Mrs. Warren's, with the babe in her arms. Three children were not disturbed except one who was found shot, but not severely, although they ransacked the house and took all they wanted. One of the little ones pulled the babe from under its dead mother and hid it on the bed. After their doings at Mrs. Warren's house they started down farther seemingly with the intention of doing more devilment when they perceived the men all coming from the harvest field. Then they made for the bluffs and nothing more seen of them.

The Indian Treaty Commission.

The Secretary of the Interior to-day called the atention of the President to the necessity of at once filling up the portion of the military officers to be selected to accompany the commission named by congress to make peace with the Indians. It is possible that Gens. Sherman, Hancock and Rousseau will be named. Gen. Augur would, it is understood, be appointed, did not the law require officers of the regular army above the rank of brigadier general. It is the purpose of the commissioners to enter, as soon as possible, upon their mission, and it understood that they will shortly assemble at St. Louis, for the purpose of organization and making the necessary arrangements.—Telegram.

☞A man near Pella, Iowa, met with a shocking accident last Thursday. He and his son were cutting wheat with a reaper, his son driving the team and the old gentleman walking along before the machine removing small stumps and other obstructions, when from some cause the horses started suddenly forward, catching Mr. Van der Linden in the machine, cutting off one of his legs just above the knee. Says the Blade, this terrible affair should serve a warning to all others who are so careless as to go in before a machine when in motion, if a team is attached to it. Many accidents of this kind have occured and nearly always the result of carlessness.

☞There is said to be great suffering in the West of Ireland. A letter from county Mayo says that during the last severe winter the people exhausted their means endeavoring to keep their cattle alive. It is useless to enter into details here of their sufferings during a long continuance of snow and frost and storm. In many instances their efforts were effectual, but in almost all entirely fruitless, as the cattle that survived are unmarketable. There are many landlords who on the first of January, 1867 considered themselves in easy circumstances, now without money, means, or credit, suffering not merely privations, but actual hunger, and on the very verge of starvation
