LOCAL NEWS.

☞ They have organized a "Young Mens Republican Club" at Omaha.

☞ M. L. White, Esq., arrived at home again last week, after a protracted stay at the east.

☞ NOTHING LIKE IT.—Full weight and uniform perfect goods, such is the Best Chemical Saleratus.

☞ The Baptist denomination will hold services at the Court House next Sabbath, at the usual hour.

☞ Wild geese have made their appearance in this vicinity within the past week. Ducks are reported quite plentiful along the streams.

☞ The number of grasshoppers in this vicinity is growing smaller every day; but we are unable to say whether it is by death or emigration.

☞ Col. Thos. Patterson has requested us to state that he declines running as a candidate for County Superintendent of Public Schools.

☞ Business has been flush in town for the past week. Farmers have plenty of money and they are using it to procure the necessaries and comforts of life.

☞ Rev. B. C. Golliday has been missing from his home in Brownville for several weeks. Fears are entertained that he has committed suicide.

☞ The material for the German paper at Arago, has arrived, and the proprietors announce that the paper will be issued about the fifth of this month.

☞ Rev. A. J. Swarts is holding a protracted meeting at Rock Bluffs. The meeting has been in progress for two or three weeks, and some twenty persons have been added to the church.

☞ If Crawford carried the whole Democratic party on his shoulders, was Andy Taylor chasing the whole party when he was after Crawford? Ask Capt. Cooper.

☞ Wm. Stadelmann has on hand a large quantity of military pants and coats, which he offers at low figures. He has the largest stock of clothing ever brought to the city.

☞ District court will be opened in this county on Wednesday of next week. There are several cases of importance to be tried, among them them the State of Nebraska vs. Kellogg, for the killing of R. J. Palmer.

☞ Tootle, Hanna & Clark are building a large and commodious vault in their banking house in this city, and will have in the course of a few days, a first-class burglar proof safe to put inside of it.

☞ "Repudiation" is now the watch-word of the Democracy wherever they dare to use it. It is not strange, either; because the national debt which they want repudiated was created in fighting a large portion of their party.

☞ A provoking blunder occurred in the HERALD last week whereby the name of the Democratic nominee for Sheriff was left out of the published proceedings of their convention. Jacob Vallery, we, is the Democratic candidate for that office.

☞ Eli Plummer, of the firm of Clark & Plummer, has returned from the east where he has purchased an extensive stock of goods at low figures. The patrons of the house will receive the benefit of the decline.

☞ Crawford, the irresistable, said while he was yet with us that the whole weigth of the Democratic party was on his shoulders. The party must be very light else he could not have swam the Missouri river with it.

☞ Fifty-five thousand dollars worth of Lincoln City lots had been sold when the sales closed at Nebraska City last week. This is all the Commissioners are about selling at the present time. There are about three hundred lots yet unsold of the one half designated for sale.

☞ The stores are all receiving their new goods now, and unless the ladies have plenty of currency to spare they will do well to keep away, for it will be difficult to withstand the temptation when they see all the pretty things that are being taken out of those pine boxes.

☞ Four prisoners escaped from the Omaha jail about ten days ago, and the sheriff of the county kept the fact of their escape perfectly quiet, and made no attempt to recapture them. He is the Democratic nominee for another term in that office. The Republican smoked the facts out, and is making it pretty lively for Mr. Sheriff.

☞ A German was outrageously abused, pounded over the head and back with a club, while in the keeping of a Democratic jailor at Omaha, for the alleged reason that he had exposed some democratic chicanery. A fair specimen of Democratic administration of law and justice.

☞ The Concert and Festival given on Tuesday evening by the ladies of St. Luke's Parish for the benefit of Parish Missions, was a complete success. The children, about sixty in number, sung several beautiful pieces, which had been taught them by Mrs. Simpson. The net proceeds were about $50.

☞ The securing of a tri-weekly mail between this city and Lincoln is due mainly to the efforts of Surveyor General Hitchcock who visited the Department at Washington for the purpose of securing it.

☞ The Omaha Herald is unfortunate in its selection of "reliable" correspondents at Plattsmouth. Mr. "C.," the late correspondent of that journal, swam the river at this point last week, "with the Democart party on his shoulders," and has not come back yet.

☞ Somebody has been "booting" Little Mac. again, for his sourrility through the paper of which he is the local editor. It seems to us that this booting arrangement was becoming a little too common. Somebody will have to take Mac's. part. It appears that all Omaha is kicking Little Mac. around just because they can.

☞ Judge Wolph, of Wyoming precinct, one of the farmers of Otoe county, who conducts the business on correct principles, informs us, says the Press, that corn can be raised in Nebraska at a cost of nine cents per bushel. He has done it, and among his expenses he counted his labor, board, team hire, taxes and all other expenses incident to raising the crop, and when in the crib it footed up as above.

☞ A goodly number of people were in attendance at the Rail Road meeting last Friday evening, and a lively interest was manifested in the question of issuing bonds. The meeting was addressed by Gov. Butler, Secretary Kennard, Gen. Livingston, Hon. T. M. Marquett and De-Forest Porter, Esq., each of whom made short and telling speeches, showing the great advantages that would be gained to this county and the State at large by inducing the building of a road through the interior of the State.

☞ J. J. Woodrow, at Ashland, has just received a large and complete stock of boots and shoes, designed for the fall and winter trade. He has everything from a toilet slipper to a brogan; and if there is a man in Nebraska that sells goods cheap, Woodrow is the one. He also keeps a good assortment of leather and findings, both for boots and shoes, and harness. The citizens of Ashland and vicinity should patronize Woodrow extensively, as such a business man is a "real blessing" to any community, and will do much towards advancing the general prosperity.

☞ The Southern Nebraskian published at Arago, in this State, says: "From all directions we hear reports of bountiful harvests and splendid crops. Not withstanding the late spring and the trouble of getting in the corn, it is now out of danger of frosts and we have had none yet. Wheat, corn and oats are coming in town very rapidly and our grain buyers ship large quantities weekly. Since the grasshopper scare, and the good prospect for the growing crop, farmers are willing to dispose of their old corn at reasonable figures."

☞ We stated briefly in the last issue of the HERALD the facts of the arrests of Wm F. Crawford on the charge of embezzlement, of his having been bailed, and of his absconding an hour or two prior to the time set down for his examination before justice O'Niel, leaving his bail in the lurch. The facts of the case are these: Crawford was appointed last spring an agent of the Cincinnati Home Insurance Company soon after his arrival at this place. On the 17th ult. Mr. Robert H. Ehle, special agent of the Company for the State, as well as for several other States, arrived here with the view of ascertaining the facts relative to the business done by the local agent. Crawford on being requested by Ehle to exhibit the books and papers of the company, and give him a statement of the business done, told Ehle that he was obliged to go over to Iowa and attend to a shooting affray, conveying the impression that he had been employed professionally in the defence of some one accused of crime, and declaring that he would return at 4 or 5 o'clock p. m.

Crawford failing to appear as agreed, Mr. Ehle began an investigation into the affairs of the company, and during two days search ascertained that Crawford had issued ten policies, having received in the shape of premiums something over four hundred dollars.

On the 20th it was ascertained that Crawford had been in the city some portion of the day previous, and that on the night of that day he had been driven into the country west of here, it was believed to Ashland. A warrant was issued by justice O'Neill for his arrest on the charge of embezzlement, placed in the hands of sheriff Taylor, who discovered him at Ashland and brought him from Ashland to this place on Saturday the 21st ult. He was bailed by D. McDonald and W. Pottenger, and the trial set down for Tuesday at 1 o'clock p. m. During Monday McDonald, who would have been an important witness against Crawford, he having driven him to Ashland, left the city for the purpose, it is believed, judging from the remark when leaving, of not being a witness against him.

On Tuesday, as the time for the examination approached, it was ascertained that Crawford was not to be found. He was discovered at Bethleham during the afternoon, and was soon after seen going in a carriage in the direction of the Rail Road depot at Pacific City. He afterwards took to the cornfield. Pottenger and Sheriff Taylor ascertaining the fact that he was on the Iowa side, immediately started in pursuit, and reaching the depot at Pacific City, ascertained that Crawford did not leave on the train for Council Bluffs although his wife did. They telegraphed to Council Bluffs to have him arrested should he be found there, and started in a carriage for that place. Reaching the Bluffs early Wednesday morning, they soon found that Crawford was there, that he had got upon the train about half way between Pacific City and the Bluffs, stopping the train at night by waving a lantern cross the track.

Crawford was arrested at the Bluffs, agreed to come over into Nebraska without waiting for a requisition from the Governor, and came over with Pottenger to Omaha, when the sheriff soon after joined them. He then pretended that his friends there would raise the money with which to replace that of which he had defrauded the Insurance Company, and passed several hours there in pretending to raise money, visiting Dr. Miller, of the Omaha Herald, and Mr. Brown, Mayor of the city, political friends, whom he claimed were about to raise the money for him. And while thus occupied, being in an office with Mayor Brown, he went to the door ran into the alley, after which time nothing was seen or heard of him by Pottenger or the Sheriff.

Mr Ehle, the agent of the Cincinnati Home, by the able and fearless manner in which he has followed the defaulting local agent, and the tact and energy he has displayed in ascertaining the actual condition of the affairs of the company at this place, having no books or papers to guide him, has shown clearly that the affairs of the company, so far as he is concerned, are entrusted to able hands. Of the policies countersigned by Crawford, six were assumed by the company, and four cancelled; in the latter case the company paying back the premiums to the insured.

William W. Erwin, Esq., has been appointed agent of the company at this place, who will prove a somewhat different business man from Crawford so far as honesty and integrity are concerned.

Mr. O. E. Castle, of Rochester, N. Y.; writes: "I have used your machine several months; and, being familiar with most other first-class machines, I unhesitatingly pronounce yours the best family Sewing Machine. In common with many others I confess I was prejudiced against it, on account of its being a one thread machine, until I had thoroughly tested it. I am now satisfied that it is the simplest, least liable to get out of order, and works the easiest; that it runs the stillest, makes the strongest seam, and hems, fells and cords, better than any other machine." —[Letter to Wilcox & Gibbs S.
