For fear that colored statements of the recent unhappy affair which occurred at this place may be sent North to the prejudice of the Democracy, I hereby make a calm and truthful statement of it. I will prefix my account by stating that the citizens of the Corners here all desired to live on amicable terms with the colored men, feeling that their interests are more or less identical.

GEN. SCHOFIELD TO GEN. GRANT. The Union can be Fully Restored only by the Men who put down the Rebellion.

Dear General: I hope you will not think it out of place for me to tender to you my most hearty congratulations upon the action of the Chicago Convention. The perfect unanimity and great enthusiasm of your nomination were certainly highly gratifying as being a formal ratification of the popular indorsement of your public record, which have heretofore been made throughout the country.

Mr. James A. Briggs has made a careful examination of the subject, with a view to ascertaining how much of the government bonded debt is held by the laborers, mechanics, the needle woman and orphan of the country.

Mr. Briggs adds: "Four men in New York City, who own $100,000,000 of property, do not hold as large an amount of United States securities as the Institution for the Savings of Merchants' Clerks, which hold $852,568." They are the "bloated bondholders."

LOW IT WORKS. We are informed that a gentleman from this county recently visited Missouri. A few days since he returned, and lo! a change had taken place in his political sentiments.

The Speaker of the Georgia House of Representatives is a man of honorable body, having turned out the trouble-some Republican minority, is now solemnly congratulated on its unanimity!

Among the banners carried at the great Republican rally at Rock Island, was one having the following acoustic: U See Good Radicals Are Never Traitors.

The spirit of Wilkes Booth still lives, thank God! Therefore take courage! - Seymour, Blair, and the revival of the great cause is the motto of every good man. - Pine Bluff (Ark.) Vindicator.

DEMOCRATIC GEMS. Nail another nigger to that burning building - Forest at Fort Pillow.

We are in the midst of a great revolution, which may end peacefully at the ballot box; but if not, then the true men of the South will rally once more under their dew-told banner, and will try the issue at the cartridge box.

The Democratic party have proclaimed the reconstruction acts unconstitutional, null and void, and if their candidates are elected the legal government of the Southern States shall be reinstated, though the sword has to be invoked.

A wedding took place on the 29th of September in the Plattsmouth Cave of Kentucky. The parties of this bridal extravaganza were Mr. Benjamin M. Davenport of Nebraska City, Nebraska, and Miss Ellen Campbell of Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

The Denver News, 24th inst., gives a corrected table of the returns of the Delegate election by counties, which gives Bradford, Republican, 580 votes and Belden, Democrat 561; Bradford's majority, 19. This settles the matter, as nearly all the returns are official.

There is but one nobleman with a title in Norway. That is, the possessors of them could keep them but their children could not inherit them; so the old generation is now all dead but one and he lives at Christiania, much beloved.

A lady whose family were very much in the habit of making conium drums, was one evening asked by her husband in an excited tone: "Why are all these doors left open?" "I give it up," instantly replied the lady.

The Democrats of Newark, N. J., had a keg of powder in readiness for a jubilee over the Vermont election. They didn't buy any for Maine.

HATRED OF UNION SOLDIERS. "If I could have my way I would place Jeff. Davis in Congress, where he richly belongs."

The Republican army stands face to face with its old foe. Its standard bearers have all been fairly chosen, and we must fight as we are, or submit to a defeat. Momentous interests hang on the issue.

One of the sources of income to the Mexican Indians is the scalps they take. These are sent to France, boiled, carded, purified and perfumed, and come to this market in the shape of curls and fancy chignons.

In reply to question put to him at Cleveland, Ohio, a few days since, whether he indorsed Blair's revolutionary programme, Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton said: "I don't quite agree with General Blair that it is the only way but I can tell you I think it is a very good way."

Schuyler Colfax says, "The new nickname I have for us is 'Radicals.' I had rather be called a radical than a rebel at any time. I am a radical for right against wrong; for liberty against slavery; for justice against tyranny; a radical friend of my country, and a radical hater of every enemy of my native land."

Among the passengers in a stage-coach was a little gentleman who had possibly seen five summers. The coach being quite full, he sat in the lap of another passenger. While on the way, something was said about pick-pockets, and soon the conversation became general on that interesting subject.

The Times declares it "nonsense for politicians to talk about repudiation," and yet Jesse D. Bright, the President of the Kentucky Copperhead Convention, declared in favor of repudiating the debt incurred in putting down the rebellion, and indulged in the prediction that Kentucky and Maryland rebels would yet be paid for the losses caused by the Union armies!

Jeff. Davis and family have smiled on their return to the United States. The days of foreign sympathy for exiled chivalries is over. Too many on hand of their own.

Seymour said in 1861 the Confederate Constitution is better than ours.
