CORRESPONDENCE. We are desirout of receiving correspondence from all parts of the State, relative to the material interests of the country, together with such other mat er as contributors may deem of interest.

The New York Tribune says the emphatic declaration of President Grant that we should pay our national debt to the uttermost farthing, is worth countless millions to the labor, commerce and prosperity of the republic. It says Grant will be the champion of the Monroe doctrine, and direct his to find a good route from this city thro' policy toward consolidating and ex- the centre of the county. THE STATE TREASURER.

The Nebraska City Prees has been making itself wonderfully miserable ever since the Legislature adjourned because that body saw fit to increase the bonds of the State Treasurer, and to pass a law requiring him to keep on hand the identical funds of the State until payed out on a warrant-or in other words to prevent individual speculation with the funds of the State .-We don't see any particular necessi ty for the Press making such a terriple howling-we seriously doubt if it is very heavily interested in Mr. Treasurer's banking business. The law was not intended to work any hardship on any one, nor was it intended that any one should grow rich by speculating with the funds of the State If Mr. Treasurer Sweet feels disposed so to do, we doubt not he can transaci the business of State Treasurer very well under this law; but should he partake of the spirit manifested by the Press, and attempt to force the State of Nebraska to allow individuals to speculate with her funds, he, as well as the Press may yet ascertain that "Jordan is a hard road to travel." The Press is out calling for an extra session of Legi-tature to repeal this law which is so obnoxious to it and Treasurer Sweet, even at an expense of several thousands of dollars. We advise the Press man to keep his linen unsoiled for a little time, and he may see a way out of this dilemma which neither he nor Treasurer Sweet has yet discovered.
