OUR RAILROAD LETTER.

Plattsmouth—Men of Lewis and Clark's Expedition—Memorial Church—Quality, Etc.

Correspondence of the Council Bluffs Nonpartisan. PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., September 1.

This is the county seat of Cass county, Nebraska, and is an incorporated city. It is bounded by the Missouri river to the west and the Council Bluffs and St. Joseph Railroad to the east.

Of business. There are eight dry goods and groceries, one hardware, three drug, two clothing, two grocery, two agricultural implements, three boots and shoes, four confectionery, two jewelers, three harness and saddle, one bank, four lumber yards, three milliners, two livery stables, four builders, seven blacksmiths, one machine shop, one plow factory, two bakers, two steam mills, two barbers, one tailor, and one grain warehouse.

The Platte Valley will be found a first class house, and one good newspaper. The Memorial Church is one of the most attractive buildings in the city.

The following is the list of school books designated by State Superintendent Deas to be used in the public schools throughout the State, from and after the 13th inst.

- List of school books including: Worcester's Primary Spelling Book, Comprehensive Dictionary, etc.

We have the estimates of ten or twelve different farmers in this county on the cost of raising wheat. Comparing them together, we get the following, which is a little under the average:

Table showing wheat raising costs: 10 bu. per acre cost per bu. 84 cts, 15 " " 61 1/2 cts, 20 " " 50 cts, 25 " " 43 1/2 cts, 30 " " 38 cts.

It is only where strict economy is practiced that the cost per bushel can be kept as low as the above. In estimating the cost of plowing and sowing our informants varied from $1.90 to $3.25 per acre.

BARE CHANGE.

S. Duke, Esq., has surveyed an addition to the city, and offers inducements to purchasers that cannot fail to please. He offers a certain number of lots gratis—or what is the same as gratis, for the sum of ten dollars each, and then proposes to dispose of a large portion of the balance at very moderate figures.

THE TRUNK ROAD.

We see an item giving the rounds of the papers to the effect that the contract for constructing the above named road as far as Brownville has been already let. We only hope this may be true, but have serious doubts.

THE COAL MINERS.

The Plattsmouth Coal Miners made a strike this morning, in consequence of the failure of the proprietors to furnish the necessary finances. The force consisted of three men, and we believe they have worked two or three days each. Whether or not there is any coal here, we are unable to say, but presume the supply is very limited.

WHERE ARE THEY?

We propounded the above question some weeks since, stating at the time that enactments of the Legislature which were duly signed by the Governor did not appear among the printed laws.

THE PRESIDENT.

Arrived at Plattsmouth yesterday evening, about six o'clock. A portion of the escort stopped at the Platte Valley House, kept by that popular landlord, John Ross.

THE PRESIDENT.

That little chap with his eyes wide open, and every muscle awake to action and ready for a race is the "Hunker."

THE PRESIDENT.

At the time to which these occurrences refer, office seeking in New York, among what was afterwards termed, by their opponents, the "Albany Regency," was a science.

THE PRESIDENT.

Work on the B. & M. R. R., running west from Plattsmouth is progressing rapidly. About six hundred men are at work on different points along the line.

THE PRESIDENT.

Dan was up here and saw the thing with his naked eye. Work on the B. & M. R. R., running west from Plattsmouth is progressing rapidly.

LOCOS FOCOS, BARNBURNERS AND HUNKERS.

BY VIZ.

Everybody is familiar with the above names as applied to political factions in the State of New York; but the origin of the names is not so generally known.

THE PRESIDENT.

The party was divided in two distinct classes, the one class could never get in office, and the other class could not be got out. The Regency understood office seeking as an education, as a profession, as a military drill, and was always wide awake for the best chances.

THE PRESIDENT.

There exists a false delicacy and pride among those who profess to be medical men, and yet in many cases they attempt to cure themselves with vile nostrums, and in consequence shorten their lives, and pass the miserable remnant of existence with their blood polluted with the poison of strychnine.

THE PRESIDENT.

With young women there seems some excuse, and yet their almost secret will conceal the facts. Any intelligent physician who walks these streets can recognize among the ladies, by certain inflexible tokens known to him, and of which the sufferers are often totally ignorant.

THE PRESIDENT.

In every community there are vast numbers of young men afflicted with one or more of the incurable diseases, insensibility, and the other attendant symptoms of secret disorder.

THE PRESIDENT.

There are ladies who, from delicate constitutions, indigent circumstances, or an already advanced stage of disease, do not wish to become mothers.
