ANOTHER CHANCE.

Those persons who have an eye to real estate speculations will be glad to learn that another, great sale of State Lands is to take place at Lincoln on Monday, June 6th, 1870. There has been more money made by purchasing lots and lands at these State sales than in any other real estate speculations in this State. Hardly an individual who has invested his money at these State Sales has failed to double it inside of six months, and many of them have done much better; and of one thing we are positive, that no man can be found who has invested in State lots and lands at these sales who ever lost a cent in the operation. The June Sales will probably be the last, for some time at least, and those who desire "a finger in the pie" will do well to be on hands with their cash.

Discovery of Coal.

A. C. Reed and Dr. Snowden, of Wyoming have discovered a vein of coal near that place, out of which they have hopes of digging a fortune. The vein is light as far as it has been followed but is increasing so as to assure the miners that time and labor will develope a heavy quantity. This is good fortune for the discoverers and for the town and county. The work will be prosecuted vigorously, and we will report from time to time.—Neb. City Chronicle.

THE RIVER.

We clip the following from the St. Joe Union of yesterday (Thursday) morning:

The river has risen fourteen inches since last evening, and is still rising slowly. It is now higher than at any time this Spring.

The Ida Rees No. 2 arrived from St. Louis yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, with a fair trip to Fort Benton. She received a small lot of freight from Sergeant, and five passengers for Benton, and left at 11 A. M.

The Elkhorn did not get off last evening, but will leave for Omaha this morning.

The fine steamer H. S. Turner will be at the landing this morning from St. Louis to Omaha. She left Leavenworth at 11 A. M., yesterday.

The Burlington and Missouri River Railroad

Is now running trains to Louisville, 18 miles west of Plattsmouth, in this State. In a few days they will be as far out as Ashland, 24 miles from this place; and in a few weeks the iron horse will come whistling into Lincoln. Too much cannot be said in commendation of this wonderful enterprise. It opens to the people of this part of the State direct communication with Burlington, Iowa; Chicago, Illinois; Toledo, Ohio; Buffalo, New York, Boston, and all other eastern cities, via. Michigan Southern & Lake Shore road, a grand thoroughfare, and in fact we can safely say that it is the great thoroughfare from the East to the West, as passengers traveling over it can reach Omaha, Cheyenne, Denver, Col., Salt Lake City, and Sacramento and San Francisco, Cal., just as quick as by any other route. We have never yet had the pleasure of traveling over it, but expect to go as far as Chicago ere long, and probably will give it a test. We recommend others to try it, for the reason that praise is universal from its patrons. Lincoln Statesman.

Down Grade.

When, during the war, prices in every department of busines, and trade were constantly advancing, there was great unanimity in "marking up," and "charging up." Greenbacks were worth, in those days, about fifty cents on the dollar in gold, and it took a great many of them to meet a "little bill." Now that the same paper is worth ninety cents in gold, we do not notice quite so much enthusiasm in "marking down" prices. The charges for many things are kept up to the old figures, while the figures themselves represent very different sums in a financial sense. The prices of nearly every article of provisions, clothing, &c., have fallen off by half. Why, then, should there not be a pretty general "marking down," all round, to meet the facts of the times? They who commence this earliest, and adhere to it, will be sure to have the fullest and heaviest run of customers.—Chicago Republican.

Items from the Nebraska City Chronicle.

Mr. Thompson, an agent for our Immigration Society called upon us last evening. He informs us that a large number of people from Illinois will settle in the vicinity of Hebron, Jefferson county, Nebraska, next month.

On Friday night some scoundrel, by use of an iron bar succeeded in breaking into the store of Mr. M. J. Hawley, taking what money there was in the drawer. Fortunately for Mr. H. but little had been left in. This thief it seems was very deliberate in his movements as he tasted it seems, of the nicknacks, such as Peaches, Oysters, &c. He did not even take the precaution to shut the door when he left.

A certain attorney in this city is stating to the people that at the time the District Court ordered the information to be filed against the editor of the MORNING CHRONICLE the Judge of the court called the said Attorney PRIVATELY to the bench and asked him, the said Attorney, if he would prosecute this case. The Attorney said he would as soon prosecute Waters as any other man, if he could be paid. The Court remarked that he would see that the attorney was paid.

How sad it is that, when Christians conoregate together, whether it be at the tea-table or elsewhere, there is so little talk of the Lord, and so little inquiry about His truth! We are ever ready to talk of our sect, our church, our pastor, our success, our meetings, our enterprises, etc., but O, how seldom we sit down quietly to talk of Jesus It is also very humiliating to think how little time we are alone with the Lord, and how little we relish quiet communion with Him. There may be much zeal, much service, much noise, much appliances and means, and yet very little of Jesus. If a fond father saw his children so much engaged in service for him as to have no time to sit on his knee and commune with him, would it not fill his heart with grief? And thus it is with our heavenly Father when His children are more occupied with work than with Him. —Times of Refreshing.

I was riding in an omnibus the other day when some Adolphus, with his hair parted in the middle, reached up his face and upon his thin little arm was a heavy band bracelet. Shortly I noticed had another upon his other arm, and once then a party dining at an opposite table at Delmonico's displayed the same ornaments on the wrists of three gentlemen.—New York Letter.

Appointment of Local Agents:

Whereas, the act of the last session of the Legislature, entitled "An act to encourage and facilitate Immigration to this State," authorizes the Board of immigration to appoint suitable local agents in Nebraska, now, therefore, we invite all persons interested in the developement and rapid settlement of our State to recommend at an early day the names of suitable persons as local agents to attend to the interests of immigration in their respective localities.

Nebraska City, April 2d, 1870.

CIRCULAR NO. 3.

Advertisements.

Being about to issue pamphlets in the English, German and Scandinavian languages on the resources of Nebraska for general circulation in the Eastern States and Europe, it has been determined to allow a limited number of pages for advertisements of railroad companies, real estate agents, bankers, hotel keepers, &c., the money accruing from such advertisement to be added to the appropriation made by the last Legislature for immigration purposes, and used for the increase of the number of pamphlets.

The terms for advertisements in any one of the pamphlets will be as follows:

For 1 page $60,
" ½ " 35,
" ¼ " 20,

payable in advance.

All persons forwarding the above amount will be furnished, if desired, with a limited number of pamphlets for their own private use.

A Boston Democrat Measured by a Mountaineer.

A passenger who lately came through from the East over the great continental railroad, says the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise, tells the following yarn: At Promontory, just as the train was starting, a stalwart settler of that region, with long hair and bushy beard and a hat of tremendous width of brim, dashed up to the station mounted on a wild-looking gray mare. Leaping from the animal's back, he threw the reins of the bridle over a post and bounded into the nearest passenger car, just as the train was moving off. Steadying himself as best he could, he pulled off his huge brimmed hat, and taking from it an immense handana, wiped the perspiration from his brow. He then looked about the car with a smile of complacency, and said: "Wa'al, I'm here, ain't I? Purty good dash for it, but I'm here on time." No one in the crowd said a word. "That are old gray mar' o' mine never fooled me yit. If I want to get to a place I get there sure when I'm astraddle o' her." No one said a word. "Powerful fine mar', she is." Approaching a Boston man seated in the car, he said. "Wa'al, she got me here, didn't she?" No reply from the "Hub." "I say, she got us here, eh?" No reply. "Readin' a new paper, are you? Yes, I see—readin' the New York Herald. Don't you never read the New York Tribune?" "No, sir," gruffly replied the Hubine, "I don't; I wipe my feet on the Tribune." "Oh, you do, eh? Wa'al stranger," with an inexpressably serious and comical look, "you jist keep on readin' the New York Herald, and wipin' your feet on the Tribune, and putty soon you'll have more sense in your heels than you have in your head."

A pine tree, twenty feet in height and ten inches in diameter at the base, has grown upon the solid rock in Beverly, Massachusetts, and as it grew, being unable to obtain moisture and support from the rock or to penetrate its surface, sent out its roots for supplies. These traveled twenty or more feet over a rocky ledge until they reached a swamp, and from thence the tree has been built up. The roots, where they run over the ledge, are three or four inches in circumference, and of the same color of the rock, so that they can scarcely be distinguished from it.

Don Piatt dined with Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, at Washington, the other day. After dinner, while seated with Mr. Bowles in a corner, Piatt said: "I once asked Horace Greeley what he considered the secret of his success as a journalist, and he answered promptly that he reinvested all that he made in the Tribune. I asked the chief of the Cincinnati Commercial the same thing, and he answered, 'A nose for news.' Now, what is your response?" Bowles answered promptly, "Energy and ugliness."

Garrett Davis and Senator Revels are said by a Washington correspondent to have partaken of salt together—a ceremony of lasting friendship among the Indians. During the speech of Senator Morton, the other day, on the San Domingo treaty, he had on his desk a collection of specimens of Dominican productions. While speaking of the great resources of the island the Senator exhibited a huge block of rock salt, from the salt mountains of Neibia. The block was clear as crystal, and looked more like a piece of ice. A number of incredulous Senators undertook to verify the statement of the Senator by gathering around and taking a lick. It was an unusual scene—Revels and Garrett Davis licking salt together.

Most people, if asked whether more rain fell annually in New York or London, would reply, unhesitatingly, in the latter. But the figures are 22 inches for London and 43·50 inches for New York. The two extremes of considerable cities are St. Petersburg and Vera Cruz respectively, the mean rain fall in the first being 17.55, and in the second 183 inches per annum. In San Francisco, despite the "rainy season," the average fall is precisely that of London. It is said the heaviest amount known to be received by any part of the world drops on the Khasia hills, to the northwest of Calcutta, and is equal to 600 inches annually. Rarely or never does rain descend to Zahara, and no day passes without it on San Juan Fernandez.

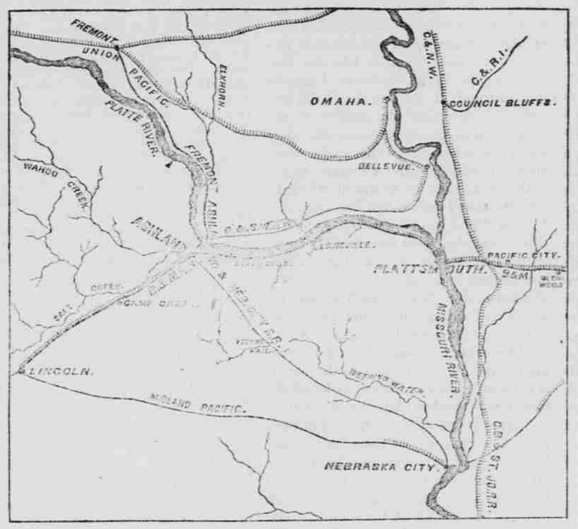
GREAT SALE OF CITY LOTS IN ASHLAND, NEBRASKA, AT AUCTION,

Friday and Saturday, June 3rd and 4th, 1870.

Terms Half Cash and Balance in Six Months, with Interest at 10 per Cent.



ASHLAND

Is the County Seat of Saunders County, is situated at the confluence of the Wahoo and Salt creeks, and at the point of intersection of the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad in Nebraska, the Omaha and Southwestern Railroad, and the Fremont, Ashland and Nebraska City Railroad. It is situated in the midst of the Finest Agricultural Region in the World,

Draining the rich valleys of the Platte, Salt Creek and Wahoo, which are being rapidly settled by industrious and intelligent farmers. Ashland has

THE FINEST WATER POWER

Known in the State, both upon Salt and Wahoo creeks. It is at the famous Salt Creek Ford, known to all early settlers and to all plainsmen on the South Platte route. Fine mills are already in operation.

THE RAILROAD FACILITIES

Of Ashland are not equalled by any other inland point in the State, as a glance at the map will show. The Burlington & Missouri River Railroad in Nebraska is now finished and cars running to Ashland, and will be completed to Lincoln before the time of the sale. This is the great through route between the Atlantic and the Pacific, and will be completed to a connection with the main trunk of the Union Pacific road in a very short time. This is the only line of railroad between the east and west that has a through line extending west of the Missouri river, hence it cannot fail to control a large share of the through trade between the Atlantic and Pacific. A point with the natural advantages which surround Ashland, situated upon this line of road, cannot fail to become important.

The town has not less than one thousand inhabitants at the present time, and has several very fine brick and stone buildings.

The Court House and County Offices

Are now in process of erection. Parties wishing to invest in real estate with a view to a speedy advance, will find this a rare opportunity.

ALL POLICIES NON-FORFEITING.

Dividends on the Contribution Plan.

Securing the Greatest Pecuniary Advantage to the Policy Holder.

REASONS FOR INSURING IN THIS COMPANY:

1st. This is a Western Company, managed by Western men, whose known financial character, ability and position, afford ample guaranty for its careful and successful management.
2d. Its Polices are all non-forfeiting.
3d. Premium all cash. It receives no notes and gives none. Policy holders have no interest to pay, and no outstanding notes as liens upon their policies,
4th. Dividends and losses are paid in cash.
5th. It insures at lower rates than any Eastern company.
6th. Its risks are in the West, where the rate of mortality is lower and the rate of interest higher than in the East; hence the accumulation of Dividends to the policy holder exceeds that in any Eastern Company.
7th. It has no restriction upon travel.
8th. Its dividends are made upon the contribution plan.
9th. Its business is exclusively life insurance.

DIVIDENDS

Are the accumulations of interest upon premiums paid, hence the Company that loans its assets at the highest rate of interest can give you the largest dividends. Eastern companies loan their moneys at 6 per cent., while this makes its investments at twelve per cent. or more.

The advantage of Western investments to the policy holder appears in the following startling figures: The amount of $1,000, invested for fifty years at

6 per cent. compound interest, is				$ 18,420.14
