The Nebraska Herald.

LOCAL NEWS.

From Thursday's Daily.

Mr. Fox is erecting a fine dwelling on the west hill.

The river is coming up. The "June rise" has undoubtedly commenced, and the word from up river indicates a heavy volume of water coming down.

The proprietor of the City Hotel is doing considerable improvement. He is adding another building on the west, and is putting up a large and imposing front along the entire building.

The Weekly Herald contains more home news than any other paper in the State. It is only $2.00 a year, in advance. Send along your names and the $2.00.

The Missouri Valley Life Insurance Company is about to erect a magnificent edifice in Leavenworth, Kansas, valued at $75,000. It is to be 72x125, three stories high, with basement and Mansard roof.

We understand the grain market has been somewhat depressed since the "corner" on corn. It was generally thought by buyers that the price ran too high, and there has been a general inclination to hold off.

The Nebraska City Chronicle says: "We understand that Mr. G. R. Mooney has accepted a position offered by the B. & M. R. R. Company and gone to Plattsmouth."

Mr. J. F. Keeney, who opened a meat market in this city some time since, sloped recently, leaving his partner, Mr. A. H. Buck, considerably the worse for having gone into partnership with a rascal. Mr. Buck has acted the part of an honest man, however, and is settling all the firm accounts as rapidly as he can. Keeney played a bold hand while here.

Vivian & Palmer are putting down a pine plank crossing opposite their store on Main street.

Rather an interesting performance came off on 6th street this P. M., of which our reporter failed to obtain particulars. We withhold comment, as we understand the law is to be brought into requisition to settle the matter.

The following estimate of how the national debt is held, will throw considerable light on the future course of the bond market:

Total amount of government bonded debt $2,100,000,000

Amount held in Europe 1,200,000,000

In sinking fund 100,000,000

Banking department at Washington 400,000,000

With permanent investments 150,000,000

With savings bank insurance, trust and other financial corporations 16,000,000

Total amount of bonds unaccounted for 150,000,000

Out of this balance of $150,000,000, which we will suppose is in the market, the Government will probably buy and cancel during the remainder of this year $75,000,000. If Europe takes the usual amount, say $80,000,000, then the prices must advance to very high figures to induce investors to sell.

From Friday's Daily.

Allerman F. S. White is putting up another residence house on Sixth street.

Hesser is on hand with radishes for the market.

The R. R. Telegraph was completed to Ashland this morning.

Geo. Francis Train is trying to get himself arrested again, so as to make capital as a martyr.

Geo. S. Smith, Esq., has removed to his new house in the north part of the city.

Mr. Strong has commenced the excavation for a residence immediately south of Capt. Murphy's large residence.

Cannot something be done to better the condition of our sidewalks. They should be raised at least ten inches, and should be made several feet wider than at present.

Hon. Joe Lancaster, U. S. Internal Revenue Collector, passed through here on his way to Beatrice this morning. Railroads are very convenient things to have.

"In times of peace prepare for war," and now is a first-rate time to prepare for sprinkling the streets of the city.

We learn that arrangements are about perfected for running a sprinkler during the summer months.

The driving and enterprising firm of Simpson, Mielckewitz & Co. are loading forty car loads of corn for the eastern markets. Our neighbors above and below us should come and see the way business is done to realize our growing importance.

The bridge on sixth street should be immediately repaired, it is one of the principal thoroughfares for farmers and is now in a very dangerous condition. Let the city authorities push this matter. We've had delay enough.

The rapidity with which the mud of this State dries up astonishes new comers.

There is a general beautifying of residences throughout the town—trees, new palings, cornices, etc.—seem to be the order of improvement.

Men from the East are arriving every day, seeking investment in Plattsmouth property. "Straw show," etc.

Mr. Patrick Maxwell has removed his boot and shoe emporium next door to Merges marble shop, on Main street.

The Omaha Republican makes mention of the fact that Mattie Lee, one of the demi-monde who vibrates between Plattsmouth and Omaha, was thrown from a buggy in that city and seriously injured a few days since. Probably this accounts for the sudden departure of one of our citizens.

The paternal ancestors of our worthy friend W. J. Hesser gave us a call this morning. Himself and his estimable lady are here on a visit to their son. They live in Jay county, Indiana.

What has become of our Base Ball Club? Turn out and let us have some manly sport.

There will be a rare chance for bargains at the sale of Railroad lots in this city. See advertisement.

We learn that Messrs. Paul Hill, F. W. D. Holbrook, John Christiansen, and H. D. Brown have recently made an extensive purchase of town property at Ashland.

The New York Tribune sold 23,000 extra copies of its daily issue on the 11th instant, containing the story of the wrongs and sufferings of Mrs. Richardson at the hands of the murderer McFarland.

They are having a huge time over the transfer business at Omaha and Council Bluffs. We think the Iowa roads will all compromise by coming down to Plattsmouth, where a bridge can be built for one-fourth the money that it would take at any other point on the river.

One of our daily subscribers at Ashland complains of not getting his paper regularly. It is sent every day. Will the P. M. at Ashland look the matter up?

We learn that a new agricultural society of some kind is being organized at Ashland. We did not ascertain the particulars, but think the "bachelors" are mixed up with it in some way. We refer those desirous of information to L. L. Holbrook, C. H. Walker, or Marcus Baush, of Ashland.

At the meeting of the Republican State Committee last Wednesday it was decided to hold the next State Convention at Lincoln, on Wednesday the 10th day of August, and the appointment for representation was based upon the Republican vote for President in 1868. The call, embracing the representation to which each county is entitled, will appear as soon as we get an official list of the organized counties of the State.

A countryman entered a doctor's office in the city, and taking a "level tumbler full of alcohol," which he mistook for whiskey, drank it down at one gulp, then turned and walked out. An hour afterward, while the doctor was expecting a summons to view the body of the rash countryman in walked that individual. "Doctor," said he, "can't you snare me another tumblerful? Its the most satisfyingest I ever drank."

Mr. Azro Smith laid us under obligations to-day, by presenting us with some of the finest lettuce and radishes he has ever been our good fortune to see. One head of the lettuce alone weighed half a pound. There is no country like Nebraska for nature's products, and Mr. Smith excels in their cultivation.

The Omaha Republican says three hundred school mums who start from San Francisco on an excursion to Boston next Saturday, will be "hitchoed" by the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad on their arrival at Omaha. Those school mums know what's what when they travel. We wish our "old reliable" friend Hitchock had just three hundred tongues when they arrive.

From Saturday's Daily.

Every seat in the westward bound train this morning was filled. Every day it increases the number of travelers over this popular line.

The main track of the B. & M. R. R. has been extended across Granite street south.

The showers of the past few days have given new life to all vegetation.

The Railroad Telegraph is completed to Ashland, and an office opened at that thriving city.

The adjourned session of the District Court for this county will commence next Monday.

We understand the work of grading Fourth street through to Oak street will be commenced at once.

New houses are springing up in every part of the city. We believe the improvement in this city will be greater this year than for the past five years, all added together.

Fitzgerald has a large force at work grading on Pearl and Granite streets. A good road to the lower landing will soon be completed.

Vivian & Palmer are shipping 3,000 bushels of corn.

Chicago newspapers are excluded from the Ohio Penitentiary. The Warden endorsed on one recently sent there the following: "This paper is not admitted into the Ohio Penitentiary. The man to whom it is addressed is here for the murder of his wife, and do not wish to have him further corrupted by any such publication as this. Please discontinue it." We presume it was Democratic.

Hesser's Green House plants are all the rage now. Omaha, Council Bluffs, Nebraska City, Lincoln, Ashland and Fremont, all draw from it, and everybody says his plants are superior to anything in the west. He filled a $50 order for Lincoln last evening, and is constantly filling for dealers in the other cities.

Married, May 19th, 1870, at the house of the bride's father, by Rev. J. B. Maxfield, Mr. Geo. A. Hobson and Miss Anna M. Frew. All of Cass Co., Nebraska.

The printer's were remembered, and George and his fair partner for life will always deserve the blessings of the craft. May prosperity and peace be theirs.

Parties intending to travel by rail will find correct time cards of the different roads, at the head of our local columns.

Webster defines the word "Lousier" thus: "An idle man; a vagrant, who seeks his living by sponging and expediting." This same fellow may be seen almost any day, Sundays not excepted, lounging about our street corners, staring decent women out of countenance, and shaming everybody but the devil and himself.

Correspondents of United States newspapers will not be permitted to accompany the Canadian expedition to Red River.
