

Read Out. James Thorn, Dr. J. W. Conner, M. S. Campbell, George W. Correll, John Heth and T. G. Hoagland, of Otce County, have undertaken the work of reading J. S. Morton out of the Democratic party of that county.

Let the names of those men be recorded, and let us hear something of their meritorious services in behalf of the Democratic party in this State before their rash conduct is forgotten. Who are these impetuous men, and how much more do they resemble Bro. Morton to wear the robe of the Democracy? Let us hear something of them from their home papers—Lelo Register.

Dr. Conner, M. S. Campbell, Geo. W. Correll, John Heth and T. G. Hoagland? We all know they constitute the Otce county Democratic Committee, and speak for the party in that county, but then "who are they" and what do they amount to when compared with the great "I am" Sterling. Will the Times and the News give Dr. Brook a like story of these insignificant creatures who dare to oppose the great power.

Political Matters. We observe that several papers take ground against the strong and emphatic support of Republican principles by some of our Senators in Congress. We do not presume to deny to every American citizen the right of voting just as his conscience dictates. We believe that the great safeguard of our liberties is to be found in this universally conceded American right.

It seems to be the impression here that on return of Superintendent James these chiefs, who swore falsely, will be at least "revived" to the rank of men, perhaps, their rations taken from them. Respectfully, S. T. LEAMING.

STILL ANOTHER LETTER FROM MR. LEAMING. WINKENBAG AGENCY, May 31, 1870. To the Editor of the Herald. There has been a written statement made this day, signed by upwards of forty leading Winnebagoes, acknowledging the murder committed by five of their number near West Point, on the 18th inst. One of their chiefs, (Whitebreast) is preparing a full statement relative to his son, one of the murderers—a copy of which I will endeavor to send you to-morrow.

Proposition of the Sexes. The excess of males over females in the different countries of the world has recently been the subject of investigation. In the United States, in 1859, in a total white population of 19,559,068, there was an excess of 499,739; in a total free colored population of 434,349, there was an excess of 17,849; in a total free males; and in a total slave population of 3,244,418, there was an excess of 75 males. In 1860, in a total white population of 27,093,314, there was an excess of 775,444 males; in a free colored population of 477,298, there was an excess of 89,926 females.

Way Do Children Die? In answer to this question, the Medical Recorder holds the following language: "The reason why children die is because they are not taken care of. From the day of birth they are stuffed with food, choked with physic, splashed with water, suffocated in hot rooms and breath in bed clothes. So much for the children of the body. As for the soul, when permitted to breathe a breath of pure air once a week, in summer, and once or twice during the colder months, until the soul is permitted to peer into daylight. A little later they are taken out with one stroke, and a man goes out in a red day with gloves and overcoat, woolen stockings and thick, double soled boots, with a cork between and rubbers over. The same day, a child of three years old, an infant of five, and a babe of one, are taken out with one stroke, and a man goes out in a red day with gloves and overcoat, woolen stockings and thick, double soled boots, with a cork between and rubbers over.

A Hungarian Roman Catholic clergyman, at present in Rome, writes to the Reading Gazette a curious account of a visit he paid to the church of St. Augustin in that city: "When I entered an old bar-footed sacristan appeared and asked me to see the relic, which he conducted me into the sacristy, he showed me, on a rich velvet cushion, enclosed in a small glass case, the card with which Jesus Christ langed himself. Another glass case contains a witness of the Archangel Gabriel. I heard on inquiry that Pope Gregory VII had obtained this gift from the angel by his prayers. It was next shown the robe of the cloak that covered when Peter denied his Master, then the staff with which Moses divided the waters of the Red Sea, and afterwards the beard of Noah.

Prince Napoleon spends much of his time in pistol shooting. Being desirous of a Republican officer for a target, he has to practice at an ordinary range and bull's eye.

"She works for a Living." We do not know who wrote the following lines, but we think they have never been published or republished, but they contain so many good points that they are worthy to be started among the sea of literature once or twice a year.

Contented as to the girl of whom it is speakingly said, "she works for a living," in her we're always sure to find the elements of a true woman—a real lady. True, we are not prepared for a mining step, a haughty lip, a fashionable dress, or to hear a string of splendid nonsense, and all the usual young men, the news and the next party—no, no; but we are prepared to hear the sound of words of good sense, language becoming women, a neat dress, a mild bow, and to witness movements that would not disgrace an evening.

You are looking for wives and companions, turn from the fashionable, lazy and haughty girls, and select one from those who work for a living, and who are sure to be a real lady. You want a substantial friend, and not a doll; a helpmate and not a help out; a companion, and not a simpleton. You may not be able to carry a piano into your house, but you can have a spinning wheel or a set of knitting needles. If you cannot purchase a new novel, you may be able to take some valuable paper; if you cannot buy a ticket for a ball, you can visit some afflicted neighbor.

Be careful, then, when you look for companions, and when you choose. We know many a foolish man who, instead of choosing an industrious and prudent woman for a wife, took one of the shallow and silly, and is now lamenting his folly in dust and ashes. He ran into the fire with his eyes wide open, and who but himself is to blame? The time was when ladies went visiting and took their seats with them. This is the reason why we had such excellent mothers. How singular would a gay woman look in a fashionable carriage driving her father's stockings or carding wool to spin. Would not her companions have had a great deal to say to her? Would not she have been a prize to somebody? Blessed is the man who chooses for his wife among despised girls "who work for a living."

Mother. Lamertine tells a story that exquisitely illustrates a mother's love. In some spring brook, a river widely washed its shores and reared a lily which a bird had built a cottage for her summer brood, down the white and whirling stream drifted the green branch, its wicker cup of unrelieved song, and fluttering beside it as it went, the mother bird. The bird and her young were in the water, her young were in the water, her young were in the water.

The three Kings—Jo-King, Moo-King, Doo-King. Over $100,000 has been subscribed in New York to celebrate the anniversary of DeWey's birth on an immense scale. A great organ is building. The orchestra is to number 300 pieces, the choir 2000 voices. The Handel and Haydn Society of Boston and Gilmore's Band are expected to participate. The American Institute Building, on Third Avenue, is to be enlarged to accommodate 2000 people.

The Bread of Repentance we eat in many instances, made of the wild oats we sow in our youth. The Yale students who recently engaged in disgraceful midnight depredations have been expelled. The sculptor Mezier has sold his "Prodigal Son" to the Institute of Philadelphia for $50,000.

A western publisher lately gave notice that he intended to spend fifty dollars for the next issue of his paper. The next day one of his subscribers dropped him the following note: "Don't you do it. Better keep the money and buy a new head for the editor."

Some growers show their grit by sanding their grain. Every bird pleases us with its lay—especially the hen. When is a newspaper the sharpest? When it is filled. Was that person in a stormy mood who belittled a friend? The Marblehead continues to be seized daily with great regularity. It is obvious, as has been already said, that Napoleon Bonaparte for his model—only he spells it Seizer.

The bodies of White Pine have adopted the fashion of cutting off tails, and the necessity they manage to be caught in the nick of time and by the right person. Cologne has been found sufficient to restore them. Dan Morgan, while seeing the body of his brother-in-law, who had been shot, fainter also, and was laid on a bench. Cologne did no good in his case, however, and they had to have recourse to whisky, which felled him at once.

A woman's club in Brooklyn has been having a long debate over short dresses, the hair and the skirt of which seems to be that the members will wear whatever they please. A well known judge, when he first came to the bar, was a very blundering speaker. On one occasion, when he was trying a case involving a right of property in a field, he said: "The number of the jury, there were just twenty-four gentlemen—exactly twice as many there as in that jury box."

Whenever once his shoemaker can't say that his sole is his own. General Court—Waiting on three or four girls at the same time. One of the most singular sights growing out of the war is a continuous line of peach trees of nearly fifty miles in length around Petersburg, and extending toward Richmond. They are growing from the breastworks thrown up by the rebel army, and are the only legacy left by the poor fellows who were on the defensive line within 100 yards of our feet. Having eaten the fruit while on picket duty, they cast the seeds, and now they appear in one continuous line of forty-five miles of beautiful trees, which yielded an abundant crop the last year.

The woman suffrage people, it is said will nominate Train as Vice President in 1872. We should say that was a strong team. A servant living in the country was directed to get the mail. After her return her mistress inquired: "Did you get the mail?" "Faith, no, I did not; for you forgot to tell me whether it was Indian mail or corn mail you wanted."

The territorial librarian of New Mexico has caused considerable indignation among citizens thereabouts by selling off their records of two hundred years and valuable titles to property, for old wrapping paper.

A Bankrupt Connecticut, wife cured her husband of singing "shoo, fly," when she was lecturing him for being out late nights, by letting her shoe fly at his head with such force as to give him a headache.

The Hartford Post says: "Newton, Conn. has a new paper, which explains why it hasn't a newspaper. Dr. Abernethy used to tell his pupils that all human diseases spring from two causes—stuffed and fretting. A Mr. Hegeman, son of the father of Hegeman's Balm of Something or Other, is to marry a daughter of Senator Ferguson."

Frank Leslie, of his own half dozen newspapers, all weekly, has said for Europe. Also E. G. Squier, formerly United States Minister to Venezuela. When a fish is wounded, the other fishes fall upon and devour him. There is some human nature in fishes. The needles are in Brigham Young's family. It is unnecessary to add that several dozen are left without a needle.

A certain fop, who was arguing with a bluff clergyman on the immortality of the soul, asked him: "Now where do you think I shall go after death?" "Wherever the tailor goes," was the curt reply. Muee, Hinc, a lecturer in Paris, was obliged to leave the platform because there was so much smoking among the audience. The chairman quietly said: "You see, gentlemen, what is taking place; you must smoke more moderately."
