The Nebraska Herald.
LOCAL NEWS.
 From Thursday's Daily.
 Mr. Abbee, of the Board of State Prison Inspectors, was in the city to-day on his way home.
 We understand the Catholics of this city contemplate having a grand picnic on the 4th of July. Particulars will be given through the HERALD hereafter.
 Three men were murdered and one committed suicide at Kansas City last Sunday, and it was not a very good day, either. One was struck in the head with a stone, one was shot with a charge of buck shot, one was cut with a knife, and the other laid himself down across the railroad track and let the train pass over him.
 Mr. J. M. Hiskett, of California, Mo., formerly publisher of the Loyal Journal, of that place, called on us to-day. He has been on a prospecting tour west, and has decided to abandon the newspaper business and go to farming. He has secured a homestead on the Blue.
 Hon. H. W. B. Stout arrived from Lincoln this morning, and left for home this evening.
 The "June rise" has played out.—The river has fallen several feet within two days.
 From Friday's Daily.
 Palmer, liveryman, has purchased a supply of new carriages and buggies.
 Paine & Charlton have removed their insurance office to the front room in Leonard's Photograph Gallery.
 V. V. Leonard, Esq., has fitted up the finest picture rooms in the west.—His waiting room is nicely carpeted and furnished. Call and see his room and specimens.
 Mr. Henry Robertson has opened in this city a depot for the famous Brewer & Bemis' Ale.
 A man lately played ghost on an old farmer who believes in muscular Christianity. The ghost was taken home in a wheelbarrow.
 The Street sprinkler is doing a good job. It makes a great difference in the temperature, as well as in the amount of dust.
 The Nebraska City Times says:—"Judge Kinney sold Saturday last at Lincoln, nine thousand dollars worth of lands in the vicinity of the capitol at an average price of $600 per acre."
 Mr. Henry Amison has been making some valuable improvements on his residence property on Third street. He has put up one of the finest fences in the city.
 W. D. Jenkins retires from the editorial charge of the Little Blue, and J. A. Worrall takes his place. Worrall is a practical printer, and will undoubtedly get up a good paper.
 Call at Murphy & Straight's Harness Shop and look at some of the fine work "Mike" is turning out. He makes nicer harness than you can get from the east at the same money, and then it is made right, and no "shop-work" about it.
 A gentleman advertised in the HERALD for a lost pony a few days since, and paid for the advertisement in advance. He informed us this morning that the advertisement found the horse. Moral—Always advertise in the HERALD, and pay for it in advance.
 Mr. F. A. Mark, of the Osceola Sentinel, is spending a few days in the city. He expresses himself highly pleased with our city and its prospects, and will no doubt be able to tell his readers when he gets home, that there is such a place as Plattsmouth.
 A disappointed railroadist got elevated last night and attempted to "run the town." He soon formed the acquaintance of officer Williams, who took care of him after an affectionate embrace. Williams had several ugly rents in his coat this morning, but the "other fellow" slept quietly in "the house that Joe built."
 A couple of fellows were brought before the Recorder this morning on a charge of vagrancy, having been found sleeping in an empty railroad car at the foot of Main street. At the request of agent Wentz they were let off with a reprimand from his Honor, and an assurance that a repetition of the affair would subject them to 90 days in the calaboose. Promissory lodgers will take warning.
 By letter from Hon. John Gillespie, Chairman of the Nebraska Soldiers' Reunion Committee, we learn that he has effected arrangements with the officers of the C. B. & St. Joe. Railroad Company whereby all soldiers attending the reunion at Lincoln, on the 4th, will be passed over that road free. Soldiers desiring to attend will be furnished with passes signed by the member of the committee in their respective counties.
 McCallum & Collins are the names of the proprietors of the "gunboat" stranded just above town. The aforesaid "boat" is composed of 35,000 feet of cottonwood logs; started from the mouth of the Little Sioux river, 180 miles above this place, on the 9th, for Omaha, where they expected to dispose of the logs.—They missed the landing there, and fell below; and then decided to go to Nebraska City, but have now decided to remain where they are for a while, or sell the logs at Plattsmouth. The crew consists of six persons.—The raft is now high and dry on a sand bar, and will undoubtedly remain there until next season unless it is taken apart and the logs removed singly. The craft came along beautifully on the trip except she ran into a bar once and against the bank once near old St. Marys. This is the first log raft we ever knew of coming this low down the river. We learn the following particulars from Mr. A. M. Adams, one of the gentlemen who came down on the raft, and who is chambermaid of the outfit.

From Saturday's Daily.
 Mr. Gamble has opened a restaurant at the "Farmer's Home." Stop and get a square meal.
 The "Wizard Oil" fellow is singing and fiddling money into his pockets hereabouts.
 The session of the Grand Chapter of Nebraska commences in this city next Monday.
 The man who lost a lightning rod point in Shannon's corn crib can get it by calling at this office and explaining to Shannon how it came there.
 A wrecking car is being constructed at the Railroad Machine Shops. It will be used to lift heavy rocks on the rip-rap work, when not in use as a wrecking car.
 T. C. Holden, a prominent insurance agent of Kansas City, was brought to grief recently after having borrowed a large sum of money on forged notes.—"The way of the transgressors."
 Work has commenced on the river shore under the B. & M., and will soon see the entire front of our town securely rip-rapped against all the encroachments of "Old Muddy."
 Mr. John Fitzgerald has exhibited most commendable energy in grading our streets. Third street will soon be open to the south part of town. Push the work of opening streets, that's the way to show you mean to have a city second to none in the State.
 Morrison has opened his new Meat Market. There is not a finer establishment of the kind to be found anywhere. You will find him under the new Photograph gallery.
 We understand that Mr. A. L. Brown, Chief Clerk in the Surveyor General's office, at this place, has purchased the elegant residence and lot of Prof. J. G. Miller, at Oreadale. We will soon have that locality as a part of Plattsmouth if our citizens keep pushing north.
 We learn from Superintendent Patterson that there is now in the Treasury ready for apportionment in this county, the sum of $7,474.27 school money.—This is the largest apportionment ever made in Cass.
 We understand the Catholic picnic on the 4th is to be a novel affair. There will be wheelbarrow races, and various other oddities performed. Be ready to attend.
 Col. R. W. Furnas, of the Brownville Advertiser, H. P. Dool, M. Dunham and C. P. Whitmore, of Omaha, arrived in the city last evening. They come to attend the meeting of the Grand Chapter and the Grand Lodge of Masons.
 Fares by rail to the east are down to $38 to New York and $40 to Boston. It's an ill wind blows nobody good. If Vanderbilt, Gould and Fisk will only keep quarrelling we will obtain even cheaper rates than that.
 A Nebraska City paper advocates the digging of a canal from the Platte across to the headwaters of the Blue, so as to make a navigable stream of the latter. We presume the projector of this scheme thinks that will be a cheap way for him to move north of the Platte. We object. We are satisfied with the South Platte, and have no desire to move north.
 The Locomotive Grafton is now undergoing thorough repairs at the railroad machine shops. Her tender is being made almost entirely new, and every part of her machinery will be overhauled and repaired. She will come out in about four weeks almost new, and with a "bran new" name. She is to be called the "Weeping Water."
 Our exchanges, feeling the scorching influence of hot weather, are pretty generally joining in the annual shout to their respective civic authorities to cause all dogs to be muzzled. We cry "ditto," and ask our "dads" to enforce the ordinance against dogs, of high or low degree, who go unmuzzled.
 The crops are reported to be looking unusually well, and farmers generally are looking for a bountiful harvest, in these parts. Judging from the numerous reapers, mowers and headers pouring into town, we should conclude that our Agricultural Implement dealers were fully alive to the demands on them.
 Not long since the Robt Register made the following pertinent inquiry relative to the men who read Steiner Norton out of the party at Nebraska City:—"Who are the impudent men, and how much more worthy are they than Bro. Norton to wear the robe of Democracy. Let us hear something of them from their home papers."
 Will the Times proceed to explain?
 The "local" of the Fremont Tribune publishes the marriage notice of the chief and adds:
 "All the junior has to say in regard to the above, is that an organized band of 200, prompted by the kindest feelings are among themselves with the necessary musical (?) instruments needed for the occasion, to pay their respects to the hero of the above affair. 'Woe, Woe! unutterable woe!' my boy!"
 "Lines on a dead dog, respectfully dedicated to J. Newt. Hays," is respectfully laid away until the return of the senior from his bridal tour, and "Lines on a sick cat, inscribed to the local 'Protem'" is kindly declined; the authors, evince talent of the highest order, but we would recommend her to try her genius on some other folk's animals.
 —Fremont Tribune.
 The Omaha Republican thus pithily describes the result of Red Cloud's visit to the National Capital:
 "The grand result of Red Cloud's pow-wow at Washington, may be thus summed up. John Rebeard, the soldier murderer pardoned; G. P. Beauvais appointed to a leadership, out of which he will realize a fortune; thirty or forty horses given to the Ogalallas, upon the backs of which they will run down and scalp white men when they get home; a little bill of about $60,000 for Uncle Samuel to foot, as an offset for the luxury of feasting and honoring a lazy Indian murderer who possesses no influence even among the tribe which he pretends to represent. Humanitarianism is run mad."
