The forts in and around Metz were amply provisioned until March next. Bismark is unwilling to let the war continue into winter, and fears popular to the Prussians they would be restored outbreaks everywhere.

News from Italy is to the same effect. The following are the exact words of Garibaldi's orders of the day alluding to America; "President Grant, by lifting his little finger, might have sent Prim's soldiers in Cuba back to Madrid, but he allows the murder of the entire population of Cuba, who are a part of Washington's great family. He barely permits the great Republic to fling a word of sympathy to the brave descendants of Lafayette, but France has risen as one man and will make the old autocrat re-pent having sought this butchery."

A dispatch from Brussells states, that before leaving Metz, Bazaine took out of the army treasury his salary as Marshal and Senator.
