THE THINGS THAT MAKE MEN.

It is not the best things that is, the things we call best—that make men; it is not the pleasant things; it is not the calm experience of life; it is life's rugged experiences, its tempests, its trials, the discipline of life is here good and there evil, here trouble and there joy, here ruthlessness and there smoothness.

The Number Seven.

Anciently a child was named before seven days, not being accounted fully to have life before that periodical day. The teeth spring out in the seventh year, when infancy is changed into childhood. At three seven years the faculties are developed, manhood commences, and a man becomes legally competent to all civil acts; at four times seven man is in full possession of his strength; at five times seven he is fit for the business of the world; at six times seven he becomes grave and wise, or never; at seven times seven he is in apogee, and from that day decays; at eight times seven he is in his first climacteric; at nine times seven he is in his grand climacteric, or year of danger, and at ten times seven he has attained to an age which the royal prophet has pronounced to be the natural period of human life.

Live for a Purpose.

The secret of all success in life, of all greatness, nay, of all happiness, is to live for a purpose. There are many persons always busy who yet have no great object in view. They fritter away their energies on a hundred things, and yet never accomplish anything, because never giving their attention to any one thing. They are like butterflies, flit from spot to spot, never gaining wealth, while the ant, who keeps to a certain circuit around her hole, lays up stores for winter comforts. Such persons are doomed to be dissatisfied in the end, if they are not sooner, for they find in the race of life that they have been passed by all who had a purpose. It is not only the positive wrong, therefore, but the busy idler that makes a blunder of life for the want of a purpose.

The agricultural editor of the New York Tribune thinks hushing bees the best variety for honey. They have early and are easy to handle.

Instigated by the d—l and an ambition to rival Weston, two Frisco women, Misses Chapman and Forester, are engaged in a wailing match. They wear caters the size of market baskets, and freckles three quarters of an inch thick.

Rev. Dr. Stone, of San Francisco, visited all the brothels in that city, under the escort of the police, by way of "teaching" for a sermon on the social evil.

A laughable thing took place at a revival meeting somewhere in Mississippi not long since. The minister noticed a seedy looking chap in one of the seats, looking as though he needed religion or a good square meal. So he stepped up to him and asked him if he was a Christian. "No, sir," said he, "I am the editor of the radical paper in this place."

In the list of coffee drinking nations it is said the United States rank second. This hardly surprises many persons acquainted with the immense trade we do in this article. In the proportion of consumption to the number of inhabitants the German Zollverein are first on the list, their percentage being 23.18, while the United States stand at 18.38, and Great Britain is at almost the lowest point, 5.18 per cent.

Harper's Magazine

NOTICE OF THE PRESS.

No more delightful travels are printed in the English language than appear perpetually in Harper's Magazine. They are read with equal interest and satisfaction by boys of every grade from eighteen to sixty. Its scientific papers, while sufficiently profound to demand the attention of the scholar, are admirably adapted to the popular understanding, and designed as much to derive correct information concerning current scientific discovery as it could be. It is the organ of the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge, and the great design of HARPER'S MAGAZINE is to give correct information and rational amusement to the great mass of the people. There are few intelligent American families in which Harper's Magazine would not be an appreciated and highly-welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine, by more popular Magazine in the world, so well calculated to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated, Harper's is sold. The price of a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on scientific and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, by more popular Magazine in the world, so well calculated to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated, Harper's is sold.
