

Col. Thos. Doane leaves to day for the east.

A good, practical book binder can find a first rate opening in this city.

L. L. Hollbrook, of Ashland, arrived in the city yesterday.

The Tichenor House, of Lincoln, has been sold to Messrs. Cassel & Townley.

Judge A. L. Sprague, of Saunders county, has been in the city for a few days.

The ice bridge is very weak, and only those who had urgent necessity therefor have attempted to cross to-day.

"Gabe," who has occasionally made his appearance in our city, has finally been confined at the lunatic asylum.

There is a large amount of corn in this County yet, which will probably be held over until after seeding time.

We publish to-day, a communication written by Mr. Brennan to the Sioux City Times, relative to our growing city.

Maxwell & Chapman have rented the suit of rooms on the west side, second floor, of Fitzgerald's new block, whither they will remove in a few days.

A former resident of this city is now working the streets in St. Joseph, with a policeman to look on and escort him to and from his meals and lodging.

We were mistaken in saying that Judge Child refused to grant the habeas corpus writ in the case of the vagrants confined in the county jail.

The application was not made formally, and consequently could not be denied.

Those who are in need of clothing, goods, furnishings, boots and shoes, notions, &c., remember that I have not changed my mind about going to Europe, and must close out by the 1st of May.

My entire stock must be disposed of by that time. WM. STADELMANN.

The world's best leaders of the Democracy in Nebraska have a penchant for making westward trips on certain occasions.

Some years since Morton was suddenly called west on a buffalo hunt, and now Dr. Miller has urgent business outside the State, beyond the reach of the Investigation Committee.

The telegraph announces that the name of J. J. Hochstetler has been sent into the Senate as Postmaster at Nebraska City.

A gentleman of this city was recently endeavoring to enjoy an evening in the company of a young lady upon whom he called, but found a serious obstacle in the person of her stern father, who at length ventured to very plainly intimate that the hour for retiring had arrived.

"I think you are correct, my dear sir," returned the unabashed young man. "I have been waiting to have you go to bed for over an hour."

A pair of overshoes were found on Fifth street a few days ago. The owner can get them by calling on Marshal Murphy and paying for his notice.

We think our Lincoln correspondent must be mistaken when he asserts that the leaders of the investigation were all bitter opponents of the location of the capital at Lincoln, and that the investigation move is a blow at the prosperity of Lincoln.

We know but little about the other members of the Committee, but our correspondent is certainly wrong in placing Senator Sheldon as an opponent of Lincoln interests.

They had a freeman's festival at Nebraska City recently, at which $150 were spent in voting a watch to a young lady. That was doing well for a small place, but the people of Plattsmouth vote $400 on a walking stick.

They have a howling wilderness. The bonds voted in aid of the Burlington & Southwestern R. R. through Iowa, are said to be of no account in consequence of certain reservations made in the vote not recognized by the statutes.

Plattsmouth takes the lead in all things, both in a social and business aspect. Since our masquerade, the papers in all the adjacent towns are arguing masquerades in their respective localities.

The Lincoln Journal announces that the B. & M. company have already commenced sending out material to the end of the track. They "mean business."

The Nebraska City Chronicle advises the commissioners of Otoe county to adopt the same plan pursued by the commissioners of Cass in regard to the railroad bond question.

Nearly two thousand dollars of School House Fund money was paid into the hands of City Treasurer Hinchman yesterday, and not a dollar of it was left this morning.

The Des Moines Statesman has gone to hunt Jim Fisk's Woodbine.

Hon. D. McCaig has been in the city for a day or two. He is farming on an extensive scale, and has one of the finest farms in Cass county. He will send a large tract of land the present season with tame grasses.

The refusal of Gov. Butler to deliver up the man Lincoln, who was arrested for robbing a jewelry store in Pittsburg, upon a requisition from Gov. Geary, is creating no little talk.

We suppose the Omaha Herald has reference to Hawke, Dillon, Conger, etc., when it speaks of "radical corruption."

Geo. S. Smith, Esq., lectures at Naoni Institute Wednesday evening.

Jas. F. Joy has recently concluded negotiations for constructing the St. Louis and Keokuk railroad.

Attorney General Roberts is becoming quite popular at the capital by his straight forward course and unbiased opinions delivered on important matters.

"RADICAL CORRUPTION."

Does the Omaha Herald have reference to the fact that every Democrat in the House except two voted against the impeachment resolution, when it cries "Radical Corruption?"

A PROVISIONAL REPUBLIC.

At a caucus held at Bordeaux on the night of the 15th, of a majority of the delegates, it was decided to establish a Provisional Republic with Thiers as President, Favre as Premier, and Duke de Cases as Minister of Foreign Affairs.

WALL PAPER.

There has been much complaint in our city that no one kept a full assortment of wall papers. O. F. Johnson has put an end to that cry by opening up about 100 thousand rolls of the best papers ever brought to the west. He bought in New York and can sell at the lowest prices. His stock is the largest ever brought to this market and is composed of almost all grades and of every imaginable pattern.

Didn't Mean It.

We mentioned the fact, at the time of the occurrence, that Representative Porter, of Nemaha County, assailed President Grant's Administration in his speech at the Senatorial banquet. We are told by the Brownville Advertiser that Mr. Porter disclaims any hostility towards the Administration, and that what he said at Lincoln was spoken under excitement and in the flush of victory, and that he was not in a mood to fully comprehend the force of his language.

We accept the explanation but suggest that Mr. Porter would do well to "think before he speaks" next time.

CHICAGO AVENUE.

J. F. Dowd, Esq., has suggested to us the idea of extending Chicago Avenue out as far as the south line of Mr. Maxwell's farm. We fully agree with him on the propriety of this measure, and hope it will be accomplished early this spring. This avenue, properly adorned with trees on either side, would soon become one of the most fashionable drives in the west. Let us have Chicago Avenue, one hundred feet wide, extended as far as the south line of Mr. Maxwell's farm by all means. Who is there to oppose this much needed measure?

A SENSIBLE IDEA.

We clip the following sensible item from the columns of the Brownville Advertiser.

"You may talk and think as you will about immigration societies, but more good could be accomplished, and in a cheaper and more business like way, if the Commissioners of Parnee, Johnson, Gage and Jefferson counties should each order one thousand copies of their county papers, sent regularly to eastern centers of publication for free distribution. They would thus secure two objects, greatly improve their papers, and advertise their own resources more truly, extensively and thoroughly, than will be done in any other way. Let some county set the ball in motion and note the benefits at the end of the year."

Burt county has decided to assist the Omaha & Northwestern Railroad in the amount of $100,000 in county eight per cent. twenty year bonds.

Business has lived up somewhat during the past ten days, and the feeling is generally entertained that business will be good and money plenty as soon as spring business opens.

The Iowa State Musical Convention, which has been in progress at Council Bluffs for several days past, is said to have been a fine affair. A large number of musicians were in attendance, and the occasion was a pleasant one. It closed last Friday evening.

The people of Omaha recently held a fair for the relief of the suffering French, the total receipts of which are estimated at $2,000. The prize cane was awarded to the Omaha Herald.

The members of the Bar of this city held a meeting Saturday evening to talk over matters relative to the profession. We are not informed who "was to read the riot act."

According to our Lincoln correspondent, the bill donating 20,000 of land to assist the O. & S. W. R. R. in bridging the Platte, and authorizing them to extend their line through Cass, Otoe, Nebraska, etc., has been defeated by remaining in the Governor's hands beyond the allotted time.

The woman whom we mentioned a few days since as having deserted her husband, mother and children and taken up her abode in a house of prostitution, was notified, last Saturday, to leave the city and State or she would be arrested as a vagrant. There are others in the city who should receive the same treatment.

Several new frame buildings have been commenced during the past week in different parts of the city, and there is little doubt that the number of business houses and dwelling erected during the coming season will far outnumber those of any former year.

Died, February 16th, 1871, at the residence of John F. Buck, of Cass county, Mr. E. C. Shryder, aged 84 years. He was father of George Shryder, and father-in-law of John F. Buck, and has been a resident of this county since 1857.

The Omaha Herald intimates that Representative Hawke, of Otoe county, has charged the State, for the use of the Senate Assembly with many items that he never supplied. We would not be at all surprised, for Hawke is a Democrat, of the strictest sect. More "radical corruption," is it not?

To kill a town, under rate the property of your neighbor, withdraw your support from your home mechanics and manufacturers, everything you need send to some other town for, and if you are in business of any kind, refuse to advertise in your county paper, says the Glenwood Opinion, and our word for it, you will surely succeed.

DELICATE DENTAL OPERATION.

Something like eighteen months ago Mrs. Mutz, wife of Geo. Mutz, Esq., of Eight Mile Grove, was salivated during a fit of sickness. She had been troubled for some time with a decayed tooth in the lower jaw on the right side, and the mercury seemed to take especial hold upon the tooth and jaw. It grew constantly worse, until the tooth on that side nearly all dropped out, and the whole side of the jaw became seriously affected. About two weeks ago Dr. McCrea, of this city, Dental Surgeon, was sent for to see if he could give any relief. The Dr. removed nearly the whole side of the jaw bone, containing the sockets for four teeth, which he now has in his possession. The piece of bone is about two inches in length, and shows the fearful ravages of the mercury. The operation was performed with hardly any hemorrhage, and with very little inconvenience to the patient, who is now doing remarkably well and is relieved from all unpleasant feelings caused by the decayed bone. Dr. McCrea is proving himself a master of his profession.

A BEARLESS WOMAN.

She deserts her husband, and Children and Enters a House of Prostitution.

A most heartrending case of desertion occurred in our city a few days ago, and one which the law should take hold of if there is a law to reach it. We suppose the names out of respect for the innocent babes and the husband and mother of the detestable wretch who has caused them so much misery and shame. About a year or more ago a man and his wife, with one child and the wife's mother, moved from Iowa. They had been married some six years, and seemed to live as happily as many others. Some time last summer the husband became convinced that his wife was too familiar with other men, and talked to her about it. They had some trouble, and separated for a short time. They lived together afterwards, and a daughter was born to them, the child was only a week old when the heartless woman left her husband's roof, and leaving to her husband and her mother's care the infant babe, and took up her abode with a young man of the city, with whom she has lived in adultery until a few days ago. Three days she entered the house of prostitution kept by Jennie St. Clair, and has now fully started on the downward road which most certainly ends at the gates of the orthodox hell. She is only about twenty-six years old, and is said to be a very fine looking woman; but what a blackened heart must be beneath that fair exterior. We can imagine circumstances under which a woman might be driven to a life of prostitution; but it is difficult to believe that any woman could be so lost to all the finer feelings of nature, and especially to those of a mother for her innocent and helpless babe of only a few weeks old, as to enter upon a life of prostitution almost within hearing of the wail of her deserted offspring. Had she gone to some other locality, and changed her name so as not to disgrace, forever, her innocent children and heart-broken mother, it might not seem so great an outrage.

THE SIOUX CITY JOURNAL.

The Sioux City Journal says a drug firm in that city has received an order for fifty pounds of Indian war paint for Spotted Tail's camp. This is considered equivalent to a declaration of war against some of the troublesome tribes in that country.

A team, with a load of lumber, broke through the ice this evening, but was got out without serious loss or damage to the team. We are told the team belongs to Lyman & Co., but are not certain. People should be rather careful about driving over the ice this thawing weather, or there may be some loss of life.

A sleigh load of wisdom in the shape of legislators, was captured near Brownville, a day or two since. The driver thought best to give them some lessons in "ground and lofty tumbling." No one seriously hurt.

The ice in the Platte is breaking up to-day.

Hon. Wm. Dalley, of Nemaha county, came in from Lincoln on the evening train.

The "President" steamed up this evening for his first trip. The ice has broken up at the upper landing, and the President will bring the passengers from the other side this evening.

Footmen are still crossing on the ice below the city, while boats are running half a mile above town. We expect to "hear something drap" soon.

CARD OF THANKS.

At a meeting of the Turner Society of Plattsmouth, held at their Hall, on Thursday the 16th inst. it was

Resolved, That the thanks of the Society be tendered to the Plattsmouth Herald, for the generous liberality and courtesy shown them before and after the Masquerade Ball.

H. NEWMAN, )
P. BRAITSH, ) Com.
D. LENOIR, )

In the absence of the Editor, we will only say, that the Herald fully appreciates and reciprocates, the kindly feeling conveyed in the above Resolution of the Turners of Plattsmouth. It is said that "It is good for brethren, to dwell together in unity," and the Herald believes it is good for a community to cultivate and foster these pleasant relations regardless of party or sect, which tend to unite all upon the broad platform of universal liberty and fellowship.

"A COUPLE OF LAMBS."

Some three weeks ago a man and woman came to this city and took boarding at one of our boarding houses, he giving the name of Wm. Haines. Since coming here he received a package of money by express, when he signed his name as Wm. Bass. He has not seemed to have any employment, unless it was gambling, and we are informed that he carries a very bad countenance. They were passing here as man and wife—last night at the supper table the man Haines, or whatever his name may be, had some words with one of the boarders, said to have originated in jealousy, and seizing a knife, attempted to kill the young man, (whose name we did not learn) but he made his escape with no further injury than a severe cut in the hand, and ran for an officer. Williams was soon on the spot, and found the "pet lamb" under a bed. He induced him to come out and accompany him to the Recorder's office, where His Honor, after hearing the case, imposed a fine and costs, and in default of payment he was sent to jail. The woman gave her name as Sarah Jane Coon—says Haines is from Red Rock, Iowa, and her parents live not far from there; says they have lived together about a year, but are not married. She has never known him to work, and don't know what he does. Haines has gone by a number of different names, and been in numerous scrapes in Iowa, and was shot in the arm by an officer, in Ft. Des Moines, who was attempting to arrest him. From what information we have, we conclude they are a desperate couple, and hope they may get their just deserts, which they are pretty sure of if they stay about Plattsmouth, long.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

FIRST DAY.

PLATTSMOUTH, Feb. 20, 1871.

The "Cass County Teachers' Institute" was organized by electing W. M. Hiskette, Esq., President, and J. M. Hiskette, Secretary.

The President, on assuming the chair, made a few very appropriate and well-timed remarks upon the object and importance of holding Teachers' Institutes, and urged that it should take an active part in the exercises.

PROGRAMME OF EXERCISES.

The best method of teaching orthography was taken up and discussed at length by Messrs. T. J. Patterson, G. W. Hammond and others.

A class in reading was then formed, and the ability displayed in this most important branch of education showed that much time and labor had been devoted to a thorough training of the voice, and to the rules of elocution, without which it is impossible to become a good reader or speaker.

Moved to adjourn to 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

MENTAL ARITHMETIC.

In which all took an active part, and showed by the interest manifested that the importance of this study had not been overlooked or neglected.

PRACTICAL ARITHMETIC.

Notation, numeration and addition, and the best methods of teaching these rules. The discussion on this subject was animated and interesting and brought out many hints which will be of importance to those who were so fortunate as to hear them.

RECESS.

GRAMMAR.

This being an important and useful branch of education, the interest manifested in the discussion of the best method of teaching it was animated and lively.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

This subject, although of importance to every American citizen, failed to elicit the interest which it demands.

On motion, Miss Adelia Babbington was elected Assistant Secretary.

The Secretary was instructed to furnish a copy of the proceedings of the Institute to the journals of this city for publication.

On motion, Messrs. T. J. Patterson, C. Angevine and J. M. Hiskette, were appointed Committee on Programme.

J. M. HISKETTE.

SECOND DAY.

PLATTSMOUTH, February 21.

The President being absent, Mr. C. Angevine was called to the Chair.

Reading of the journal of the preceding day.

Orthography.—By G. W. Hammond, followed by a general discussion of the best method of giving instruction in the art of spelling, in which oral and dictation exercises each had ardent advocates.

Geography.—By E. G. Demonts; in which arguments were produced to prove that it was expedient to teach this branch at a very early age; after which a discussion of the subject in its more advanced stages was entered into.

Grammar.—By C. Angevine; in which he showed a proficiency in the best methods of teaching this important subject.

On motion, Mr. Hammond, Misses Babbington and Malone were appointed a committee on music. Adjourned to 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Practical Arithmetic.—By S. Yates Ogden; followed by a general discussion in which most of the teachers engaged.

Montal Arithmetic.—By Mrs. M. E. Coiner; who presented some excellent ideas on the analysis of intellectual problems and the method of teaching them.

RECESS.

MUSIC.—By Miss Frank Myers; that this part of the programme was admirably performed, no one will doubt who has listened to a performance upon the organ, and been charmed by the rich and melodious tones of this beautiful and accomplished lady's voice.

Pennsylvania.—By T. J. Patterson; who showed that he, at least, had studied the art closely and was well prepared to give instructions in this important branch. Prof. J. R. Murphy and J. D. Patterson then gave us a few very useful and practical hints in regard to the best methods of teaching penmanship.

Reading.—By J. M. Hiskette; the reading of Poe's "Raven" by the members of the Institute was particularly fine.

Motion to appoint a committee on "resolutions."

Previous to adjournment, we were favored with some excellent vocal and instrumental music by the accomplished performers, Miss Vinton and Mrs. Guard.

J. M. HISKETTE, Sec'y.

THE INVESTIGATION.

The Lincoln Journal complains that the papers of the State, not in open hostility to the Governor, have not taken the cudgel in his favor when he has been unjustly assailed. We differ somewhat from the position of the Journal upon this question. "If the Governor is unjustly assailed, and is persecuted by designing men who attack him in order to elevate themselves over his ruin, (as we do not doubt is the case with some who are howling at him), that fact will develop in good time, and will most certainly react upon the men who seek his injury; in this way. The question of whether Gov. Butler and the other State Officers and ex-officers are guilty of doing things worthy of censure, or other punishment, is now being examined into by a joint committee, appointed for that purpose; and we apprehend that newspaper articles, or newspaper charges, on either side of the question, will have little effect with the committee, unless the writers thereof substantiate their assertions under oath before the committee; neither do we apprehend that the committee (composed of just and upright men, as they must be to have secured an election) will allow themselves to do so unjust a thing as to report to the Legislature and the world that Gov. Butler or any other officer or ex-officer is guilty of even an injudicious act, let alone one of a criminal nature, until they have fairly examined the matter in all its bearings, and allowed the accused the privilege (or the right) to call a hearing as the men who seek to do them an injury (provided they are such) believing that the committee will do this, and that they will not report against any one of the men implicated without such full hearing—that no-sided persecution will be permitted—we again say we see no special reason why the newspapers of the State should defend Gov. Butler against any who are disposed to persecute him either maliciously or (as is often the case) simply to distinguish themselves and on what they think will be the popular side. If the committee were inclined to a one-sided course, then we admit that the papers of the State should have some thing say—for the commonest criminal in the land is allowed full justice, and is always allowed counsel and a full hearing.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION.

The Plattsmouth Collegiate School Examination and Exhibition will be held in White & Spiers Hall, on Friday, the 24th inst., at 2 o'clock. Admission free. All are kindly invited. The examination will consist of the various branches of English and German education. The exhibition will include vocal and instrumental music, recitations, readings, charades, etc., etc.

Mr. John A. Stevens, of the Omaha Academy of music, with his talented troupe—among whom are Miss Edith Bland and Miss Carlotta—will appear in Plattsmouth for three nights, commencing on Monday evening, February 27th. The opening play will be the two act Comedy, of "Who Killed Cock Robin." There will be a song and dance between the pieces by the favorite songstress, Miss Edith Bland, and will close with the laughable farce of "Jennie Lind, or the Swedish Nightingale."

LET US HAVE IT ALL.

The Omaha Republican of Sunday morning calls loudly for a full and thorough investigation, and insists that the facts shall be brought out on all matters where ever a question has been raised. We fully agree with the Republican, and suggest that no stone be left unturned to arrive at these facts. Let who will be hurt in consequence; and right here we would call on the Committee of Investigation to summon Maj. Balcomb before them and ask him what he knows in regard to the letting of the contract for public printing a little over two years ago. "Send for persons and papers."

Two ladies were thrown from a wagon in the south part of the city last Monday, and one of them injured severely. We did not learn their names.

Superintendent Patterson informs us that the teachers of the city are not attending the Institute in sessions here. Why is this thus? Why don't they attend?

We are unofficially informed that John Fitzgerald, Esq., of this city, was married, at Council Bluffs, yesterday, to Miss Keller, of that place, and that the happy couple started east on a wedding tour. We suppose we will be compelled to abandon the use of the chosen title of "our Fitz" now, for he is no longer "our Fitz" alone, but his "better half" will claim him as her own. We wish them long life and much joy.

W. L. Hobbs, Esq., stepped up to "the captain's office" yesterday and paid a year in advance on his daily paper, and subscribed for four more copies of the weekly to be sent to friends east—he was already sending three or four copies. A few more men like Hobbs would make us poor newspaper men feel that our efforts to help the town and country were appreciated. Who comes next?

The Standard publishes the following certificate of New York commercial honoree: "A certain leading grocery house on the west side of town recently received a case of dried herrings in the very best of merchantable order. The gentleman whose name the firm bears caused these to be taken out of the case, and had put in their stead a lot that was old and deceiving. These were sent to the firm from which the fresh lot had been received, with the explanation that the goods being damaged, they could not be received."

Aunt Judy, a pious old colored woman is said to have expressed herself as follows in preference to the vociferous habits of certain persons at camp meeting: "Taint de real gary; honey, tant de shure glory. You hollers too loud. When you gets de dove in your heart, and de lamb on your bosom, you'll feel as if you was in dat stable at Bethl'm, and de blessed Virgin had lent you de sleeping baby to hold."
