

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' REUNION

We copy the following card from Capt. James Neville, of Omaha—Chairman of the State Executive Committee of the Federal Soldiers' and Sailors' Reunion to be held at Omaha on the 4th of July next:

WHEREAS, At the last meeting of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Reunion at Lincoln, Nebraska, it was decided that the Executive Committee should designate the time for holding the next annual reunion; therefore:

It is hereby ordered that the next meeting and reunion of Nebraska soldiers and sailors will be held on the 4th day of July, 1871, at Omaha, as provided by the last meeting.

JAMES NEVILLE, Chairman State Ex. Com.

The chairman of the State Executive Committee takes this opportunity to say that at the last reunion at the State Capital, the soldiers and sailors were warmly and hospitably received by the citizens, and in view that Omaha may extend a like reception to the members of the association, would earnestly invite all the soldiers and sailors of Omaha to meet at the Board of Trade rooms to-night at 8 o'clock, and organize local committees and confer with each other as to the best mode of providing for the reception and celebration.

J. NEVILLE, Chairman.

For the better information of those who were not present at the last annual meeting, the following is published:

Col. Robert W. Furnas, of Brownville, was chosen President for the ensuing year.

Colonel Chase, Colonel Baird, Sergeant Woodward and P. Wones for Secretaries.

The Committee for Cass county consists of Jos. W. Johnson, Wm. Woodruff and R. R. Livingston. It is the desire of the Executive Committee that all the county committees in the State agitate the matter of attendance at Omaha, and ascertain and write to Capt. Neville how many will go from each county.

All Federal soldiers and sailors in the State, without regard to the State they served for, are requested to join in the reunion.

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

We find the following proceedings of the meeting of the State Medical Society in the Omaha Herald, written by Gen. Dick:

LINCOLN, June 7. The State Medical Association met at half past 3 o'clock this afternoon, at University Hall, with Dr. Larch in the chair. The convention opened with prayer by Rev. H. Peck. Dr. E. D. Moore, the permanent secretary, being absent, they proceeded to elect Dr. V. H. Coffman temporary secretary.

Those present then registered their names, addresses, and the capacities in which they attended, and filed their credentials with Dr. F. G. Fuller, the Chairman of the Committee on credentials.

The committee then reported the following gentlemen as permanent members: Dr. N. B. Larch, Nebraska City; Dr. John Black, Plattsmouth; Dr. L. H. Robbins, Lincoln; Dr. F. Renner, Nebraska City; Dr. H. H. Hesse, Nebraska City; Dr. A. Brown, Nebraska City; Dr. E. Vanbarne, Fremont; Dr. R. R. Livingston, Plattsmouth; Dr. J. H. Peabody, Omaha; Dr. J. W. Hershey, Nebraska City; Dr. F. G. Fuller, Lincoln; Dr. C. C. Radmore, Lincoln; Dr. J. W. Tingley, Lincoln; Dr. V. H. Coffman, Omaha; Dr. George Tilden, Omaha.

As delegate members: Dr. H. D. Gilbert, Lincoln; Dr. S. W. Whitton, Otoe County Society; Dr. George Tilden, Omaha Medical Society; Dr. J. W. Northrop, Lancaster County Society; Dr. John Black, Plattsmouth; Dr. R. R. Livingston, Plattsmouth; Dr. J. W. Strickland, Lincoln.

Members by invitation: Dr. Robinson, Lincoln; Dr. Haughe, Lincoln; Calling of the roll was next in order, after which the Committee on Ways and Means was asked for their report. Dr. Robinson, the chairman, stated they had no report to make.

Dr. Livingston, in absence of the chairman of Foreign Correspondence, asked further time to report.

The Publication Committee was not ready to report, and asked further time, which was granted.

Dr. Hershey, chairman of the Committee on Grievances, asked further time, which was allowed.

Dr. Hershey, chairman of the Committee on Surgery, asked further time, which was granted.

At this point a discussion arose on a report just received that Dr. Macey, of the Committee on Publication, in which he stated that there was not money enough in the treasury to pay for the printing of the last annual report, but if the amount that was outstanding and due the society could be collected there would be a balance on hand, and asked that the society take some action in regard to the manner of collecting it. The further consideration of the matter was postponed until to-morrow.

The medical bill of Rosewater then came up for discussion, and was condemned in the severest terms by Dr. Bowen. He said that the physicians should all get a copy of it and post it in their offices and treat it with scorn and contempt, and show the Legislature that this society did not recognize the authority to make laws to govern their practice.

Drs. Livingston and Tilden also spoke in strong terms against it.

A motion prevailed that a committee of two be appointed to procure a copy of the Rosewater bill and bring it to the meeting this evening. Drs. Tilden and Livingston were appointed on the committee.

Dr. Black, the delegate appointed to go to the meeting of the American Medical Association, held at San Francisco, Cal., last month, made a very interesting report, which was received and ordered placed on the records of the society.

The following resolution was presented for the action of the society by Dr. Peabody and was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That this Society deem the action of the Hon. Commissioner of Pensions, in expunging from the roll of United States Pension Examiners all names, as highly commendable and in the best interest of the public service; for the promotion of the best interests of the bureau, and affording the pensioners the benefit of the most skilled vice. And it is earnestly hoped that the Government will not disregard the deliberate and expressed conviction of the whole legitimate medical profession of this country by appointing to medical positions or office a class of men whose practice is not based on experience and observation, the only true groundwork of medical science, but upon arbitrary and unverified assertions nearly a century of trial, and which are wholly opposed to the ordinary exposition of the natural laws of physiology.

Resolved, That the Senators and Representatives be requested to oppose the passage of any bill that may be brought before them, rendering homoeopaths eligible as surgeons.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Society be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the Secretary of the Interior, the Commissioner of Pensions, and to our Senators and Representatives.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet at 8 o'clock p. m.

The evening session of the meeting was called to order by the Secretary. The committee on the Rosewater bill produced the original, and it was read by the Secretary.

Dr. Livingston condemned the bill as being a gross and unprovoked attack upon the medical profession, and a graduate of a medical college having to go before a set of county commissioners and ask for a license to practice, and to be examined by them to see whether they were fit to practice.

Dr. Tilden said that this bill was a humbug and a disgrace to the Legislature, and he did not believe in discussing it.

Dr. Fuller said that the bill now had not a meritorious section in it.

Dr. Peabody made all sorts of fun of the bill, said that it had only passed so as to satisfy "Kosey," that none of the members had any idea that it would ever amount to anything. He then offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Society earnestly request the repeal of the bill regulating the practice of medicine and surgery in Nebraska, which was passed at the last session of the Legislature, which we consider an insult to the profession of medicine.

There was a good deal of objection made to this resolution, but the Doctor supported it very strongly, and would say, "Well, Doctor, we won't say anything about that story this time."

Dr. Coffman, Chairman of the Committee on Obstetrics, said he had no report to make, but he could have found Rosewater he could have furnished him one.

Dr. Peabody, Chairman of the Committee on Materia Medica, read a very interesting paper on the "Use of the microscope in the practice of medicine and surgery," and placed on the records.

Dr. Livingston, from the Special Committee on the Plea of Insanity, then read a report on this subject, which was received and ordered placed on the records.

Dr. Tilden offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair to prepare and present to the next Legislature a bill embracing the doctrines set forth in the article of Dr. Livingston, and recommended that they do cause the same to be printed and distributed to the members of the Society.

The meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock until to-morrow morning at 9 a. m.

WEDNESDAY, June 7th.—The morning session opened in the Senate Chamber, presided by Dr. Larch in the chair. The roll call of Dr. Hershey, chairman of the Committee on Surgery, read a very interesting report, which was received and entered on the records of the society.

Dr. Coffman, chairman of the Committee on Obstetrics, read a very interesting paper, which was received and entered on the records of the society.

Dr. Tilden, chairman of the Committee on Materia Medica, read a very interesting paper, which was received and entered on the records of the society.

Dr. Livingston, chairman of the Committee on Grievances, asked further time to report, which was granted.

Dr. Hershey, chairman of the Committee on Surgery, asked further time to report, which was granted.

At this point a discussion arose on a report just received that Dr. Macey, of the Committee on Publication, in which he stated that there was not money enough in the treasury to pay for the printing of the last annual report, but if the amount that was outstanding and due the society could be collected there would be a balance on hand, and asked that the society take some action in regard to the manner of collecting it. The further consideration of the matter was postponed until to-morrow.

The medical bill of Rosewater then came up for discussion, and was condemned in the severest terms by Dr. Bowen. He said that the physicians should all get a copy of it and post it in their offices and treat it with scorn and contempt, and show the Legislature that this society did not recognize the authority to make laws to govern their practice.

Drs. Livingston and Tilden also spoke in strong terms against it.

A motion prevailed that a committee of two be appointed to procure a copy of the Rosewater bill and bring it to the meeting this evening. Drs. Tilden and Livingston were appointed on the committee.

Dr. Black, the delegate appointed to go to the meeting of the American Medical Association, held at San Francisco, Cal., last month, made a very interesting report, which was received and ordered placed on the records of the society.

The following resolution was presented for the action of the society by Dr. Peabody and was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That this Society deem the action of the Hon. Commissioner of Pensions, in expunging from the roll of United States Pension Examiners all names, as highly commendable and in the best interest of the public service; for the promotion of the best interests of the bureau, and affording the pensioners the benefit of the most skilled and one who, in his early life, gave promise of much usefulness in his profession. The meeting then adjourned to meet at the Insane Asylum at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The attendance on the convention is very small, not more than one-half of members being present; but those who are here are of a fine looking and intelligent gentlemanly type. Holders of here comes up for consideration in a manner which shows that they are masters of their profession. There are many of the best physicians of the State present, and they appear to take great interest in the meeting. Many of them express regret at the absence of Dr. Geo. L. Miller.

The sum and substance of the preparation needed for a coming eternity is, that you believe what the Bible tells you and do what the Bible bids you.

A Western editor, who doesn't much about farming any way, suggests that for garden-making, a east iron back, with a hinge in it, would be an improvement on the spade now in use.

Politeness is the poetry of conduct, and like poetry it is a quality of the soul. Let not your politeness be too florid, but of that gentle kind which indicates a refined nature.

The Jefferson (Iowa) Bee says the wife of Stephen, S. of Eldora, presented him with a pair of good quality boy babies last week. There were three of 'em, and all are doing well. The father is 62 years old and happy.

'Tis a wrong way to proportion other men's pleasures to ourselves; 'tis like a child using a little bird. "Oh, poor bird, thou shalt sleep with me." So says it in his bosom, and stifles it with his hot breath; the bird had rather be in the cold air, and yet, 'tis the most pleasing flattery, to like what other men like.

Of all the blessings that gladden our earthly pilgrimage, sympathy is the sweetest; of all the gifts of God a friend is the most precious. The man of his associate; the man of his pleasure his companion; and in all these there is sympathy, but not friendship; that comprehends an enduring affection, resting on the sympathies of the heart, and in the things that are passing away, or that shall be turned up. A friend in Jesus is a gift, but Jesus, the Friend is the priceless friend.

The late Prof. Wm. Gibson, while going through the ward of a hospital with Velpeau, that surgeon brought him to the bedside of two men who were under treatment for some slight fracture. "Would you believe it," said Velpeau, "these men have made a living for the last fifteen years by being knocked down and run over. When they see a light wagon driven by some wealthy person coming by, they step across the street and are sure to be run over, picked up and carried to some hospital, and then they sue for damages. When their money becomes exhausted they begin again. Nearly every home in their bodies has been broken."

The more experience we have of the world, the more that experience should show us how little is in the power of riches for what indeed truly desirable can they bestow upon us? Can they give beauty to the deformed, strength to the weak, or health to the infirm?—Surely, if they could we should not see so many ill-fated faces haunting the benches of the poor, and the wretched limbs of feeble wretches languish in their coaches and palaces. Can they prolong their own possession, or lengthen their days? Can they make a noise at all, does it then; and the star singers of the groves do their "level best." Their strains fall chiefly on unhearing ears; for most persons eyes are sealed in slumber at their concert, and their light are wrestling for the mastery, with victory tending steadily towards the light; and it is only a few early risers and those who chance to be awake at an unusual hour, who catch the gleam of fortune to the songster. We do not know which of the songsters is leader in this morning festival of the birds,—perchance he who may chance to awaken first, or he who may chance to utter a note where amid the leaves, that steals through the dim dawn like a timid cry of pain; then comes a modest twitter; then two or three answered by two twittering notes; then a long and rattling forth for twenty or thirty minutes from shrub, woodbine, vineyard, raspberry thicket, and lower, as no human combination can afford an equal to. We have seen a short time ago, and have heard many of the famous singers of the last fifteen years; but if they could all be brought together in what the handbills call a "grand combination programme," it would fall below the dawn song of the birds. It is a song of praise—their salute to their Creator.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

A prudent man is like a pin. His head prevents him going too far. A young Missouri lady advertises for a husband, she is so lonely nights since her father "died," and "afraid of goats."

Dr. Dio Lewis warns young girls who desire to return to a beautiful and fresh complexion to beware of tea, advising the free use of Adam's ale instead.

A Wisconsin editor was called out of bed one night to receive a subscription, but that he set up nights for a week, but the offering was not successful.

Several millions of gold will be sold by the Treasury Department during the month of June, and four millions of bonds purchased.

The sum and substance of the preparation needed for a coming eternity is, that you believe what the Bible tells you and do what the Bible bids you.

A Western editor, who doesn't much about farming any way, suggests that for garden-making, a east iron back, with a hinge in it, would be an improvement on the spade now in use.

Politeness is the poetry of conduct, and like poetry it is a quality of the soul. Let not your politeness be too florid, but of that gentle kind which indicates a refined nature.

The Jefferson (Iowa) Bee says the wife of Stephen, S. of Eldora, presented him with a pair of good quality boy babies last week. There were three of 'em, and all are doing well. The father is 62 years old and happy.

'Tis a wrong way to proportion other men's pleasures to ourselves; 'tis like a child using a little bird. "Oh, poor bird, thou shalt sleep with me." So says it in his bosom, and stifles it with his hot breath; the bird had rather be in the cold air, and yet, 'tis the most pleasing flattery, to like what other men like.

Of all the blessings that gladden our earthly pilgrimage, sympathy is the sweetest; of all the gifts of God a friend is the most precious. The man of his associate; the man of his pleasure his companion; and in all these there is sympathy, but not friendship; that comprehends an enduring affection, resting on the sympathies of the heart, and in the things that are passing away, or that shall be turned up. A friend in Jesus is a gift, but Jesus, the Friend is the priceless friend.

The late Prof. Wm. Gibson, while going through the ward of a hospital with Velpeau, that surgeon brought him to the bedside of two men who were under treatment for some slight fracture. "Would you believe it," said Velpeau, "these men have made a living for the last fifteen years by being knocked down and run over. When they see a light wagon driven by some wealthy person coming by, they step across the street and are sure to be run over, picked up and carried to some hospital, and then they sue for damages. When their money becomes exhausted they begin again. Nearly every home in their bodies has been broken."

The more experience we have of the world, the more that experience should show us how little is in the power of riches for what indeed truly desirable can they bestow upon us? Can they give beauty to the deformed, strength to the weak, or health to the infirm?—Surely, if they could we should not see so many ill-fated faces haunting the benches of the poor, and the wretched limbs of feeble wretches languish in their coaches and palaces. Can they prolong their own possession, or lengthen their days? Can they make a noise at all, does it then; and the star singers of the groves do their "level best." Their strains fall chiefly on unhearing ears; for most persons eyes are sealed in slumber at their concert, and their light are wrestling for the mastery, with victory tending steadily towards the light; and it is only a few early risers and those who chance to be awake at an unusual hour, who catch the gleam of fortune to the songster. We do not know which of the songsters is leader in this morning festival of the birds,—perchance he who may chance to awaken first, or he who may chance to utter a note where amid the leaves, that steals through the dim dawn like a timid cry of pain; then comes a modest twitter; then two or three answered by two twittering notes; then a long and rattling forth for twenty or thirty minutes from shrub, woodbine, vineyard, raspberry thicket, and lower, as no human combination can afford an equal to. We have seen a short time ago, and have heard many of the famous singers of the last fifteen years; but if they could all be brought together in what the handbills call a "grand combination programme," it would fall below the dawn song of the birds. It is a song of praise—their salute to their Creator.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber.—Dr. C. W. Whitton, of the Otoe County Society.

Look well to your spending. No matter what come in, if more goes out you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little by little, in a barn, when the chickens are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald; straw by straw the thatch goes off