

THE HERALD.

PLATSMOUTH, NEBRASKA.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1872.

J. A. MURPHY, Editor.

Official Directory.

CONGRESSIONAL.

U. S. Senator, W. W. Tyson, Nebraska.

EXECUTIVE.

Act. Governor, William H. James, Lincoln.

JUDICIAL.

Chief Justice, P. Mason, Nebraska City.

GASS COUNTY.

Probate Judge, H. E. Hill, Plattsmouth.

Official Vote of the County in the November Election 1872.

For Grant For Greeley

Plattsmouth 1st ward, 61 67

" 2d " 41 38

" 3d " 100 76

Oreapolis, 23 23

Plattsmouth, 46 37

Rock Bluffs, 75 34

Liberty, 36 29

Aroca, 37 25

Mt. Pleasant, 75 38

Eight Mile Grove, 58 71

Louisville, 76 66

Woolpeing Water, 135 28

Stove Creek, 56 17

Elmwood, 48 15

Shuttlend, 16 9

Salt Creek, 39 16

Greenwood, 58 8

Tipton, 55 8

Rock Bluffs gave 14 votes for R. G. Doon.

The total vote of the county foots up 1767.

SAVE THE PAPERS.

We call attention to two very important articles in this week's paper.

THE HERALD'S EDITORIAL.

LATER—Three square miles of wholesale houses now gone.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER ESTIMATES.

The Times gives Grant a popular majority of 701,800.

THE MISSOURI REPUBLICAN PUTS A HEAD ON ITS TELEGRAPH LIKE THIS.

Theodore Tilton is trying to buy up and suppress his famous life of Vic Woodhull.

Ex-candidates for office are not half "so glad to see you" as they were Tuesday.

The Omaha Herald advises Republican editors to let politics alone now.

Well, this is good advice, so far it goes.

Please give us one, just a little short editorial now and then that does not mention the Omaha Herald.

FIRE! FIRE!

The great fire in Boston has already passed into history.

At ten o'clock this morning three square miles had been burned over.

At noon to-day the reports say the fire is under control.

According to Theodore Tilton, Vic Woodhull is a noble, pure and much abused woman.

See telegraph columns for full reports.

For the Plattsmouth Herald.

"On the day of the battle of Yorktown was fought, about five miles from town two colored men met."

There was more corn of that kind shelled on the 5th day of November than has been shelled for the last four years.

The old line corn was shelled you know. That's the rebel mob.

Two long coils than all the rest. Conspicuous in the pile.

Greely's corn was deplorable late. And proved a perfect sham.

I might protest this little poem. And tell the rebel's wrong.

But since we beat them, North and South. And sadly sheared their locks.

We whipped them at the cannon's mouth. And at the hallo, hoo.

And where such men will go. In seeking fame he did disgrace. And neither party cries.

And those who thought him Uncle Sam. Should by and keep that Uncle Sam's lamb.

That wased it all for Greeley.

STATS ITEMS.

One of the frail ones of the gentler sex committed suicide in Omaha a day or two since.

Hurray for Nebraska City! It goes Republican for the first time since it had a local name and habitation!

The Hon. H. C. Lett experienced quite a serious relapse, being threatened with pneumonia.

The insane asylum at Lincoln has been turned over to the hands of the Commissioner.

Mr. A. D. Whitecomb, head workman on the railroad depot, and several of his hands made a pleasant call upon Prof. Williams.

A check upon Social will be given by Prof. Potter at Payne's Hall on Wednesday evening next.

The Young Men's Literary Association held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

A Plattsmouth jeweler gives notice through the Herald that he has taken a shot gun down.

The Brownville folks have been favored with the luxury of an excursion in open cars over L. T.'s famous brush culvert railroad.

The Missouri Republican puts a head on its telegraph like this: "We have met the enemy and are theirs."

Theodore Tilton is trying to buy up and suppress his famous life of Vic Woodhull.

Ex-candidates for office are not half "so glad to see you" as they were Tuesday.

The Omaha Herald advises Republican editors to let politics alone now.

Well, this is good advice, so far it goes.

Please give us one, just a little short editorial now and then that does not mention the Omaha Herald.

FIRE! FIRE!

The great fire in Boston has already passed into history.

At ten o'clock this morning three square miles had been burned over.

At noon to-day the reports say the fire is under control.

According to Theodore Tilton, Vic Woodhull is a noble, pure and much abused woman.

See telegraph columns for full reports.

DR. HOLLAND'S NEW NOVEL.

Not in a long time have we taken such solid comfort in reading the pages of any magazine as we did last week in perusing the opening chapters of Arthur Bonnicastle in Scribner.

The facts by which the Chicago horror was explained—a high wind, flames beginning in a frame tenement quarter, and a general insubstantiality of structure—these cannot be alleged, as they were in the case of Chicago.

The papers are full of the great fires. The Insurance Co.'s are badly demoralized.

It is proposed to call on the Government for aid. The St. Louis Republican takes a very gloomy view of the matter.

The Boston fire was followed by the lumber regions of the lakes; and now this one at Boston, which although not equal in extent to that of Chicago, has consumed more valuable property.

There will be less suffering from inclemency of weather than in Chicago, as but comparatively few dwellings houses were burned.

The telegraph reports already chronicle the noble efforts of sister cities to relieve as far as possible the sufferings of the burning city.

What Mr. Beecher will do. (From the Sunday Mercury.)

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

ON FIRES.

The St. Louis Globe says: The great fire enforces fresh attention to means of protection against such fearful disaster.

The facts by which the Chicago horror was explained—a high wind, flames beginning in a frame tenement quarter, and a general insubstantiality of structure—these cannot be alleged, as they were in the case of Chicago.

The papers are full of the great fires. The Insurance Co.'s are badly demoralized.

It is proposed to call on the Government for aid. The St. Louis Republican takes a very gloomy view of the matter.

The Boston fire was followed by the lumber regions of the lakes; and now this one at Boston, which although not equal in extent to that of Chicago, has consumed more valuable property.

There will be less suffering from inclemency of weather than in Chicago, as but comparatively few dwellings houses were burned.

The telegraph reports already chronicle the noble efforts of sister cities to relieve as far as possible the sufferings of the burning city.

What Mr. Beecher will do. (From the Sunday Mercury.)

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.

Deacon Hudson. Yes, I saw him today, and he said he intended to take no notice of it.

Deacon Hudson. He ain't going to say anything about it.