A LOUISVILLE MYSTERY.

EDITOR HERALD .- Our quiet and peaceful little village has been brought to a fever heat for the last few days, and intense excitement still prevails. Even the oldest citizens say that nothing has ever happened within their knewledge of so startling and mysterious a nature.

The circumstances, as nearly as we have been able to gather them, are as follows. A citizen of this place, Mr. Noyes, started on an afternoon walk on last Sunday. He had not proceeded far when his attention was attracted by what he supposed to be the whining of a dog. He at once proceeded to the spot from whence the sound came-a deep ravine near the railroad—and, true enough, found the above named animal will give prompt attention to the disposition of busily engaged in exhuming something all property placed in their hands for that purfrom the ground.
