FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT!

Two Men Killed and Eight Wounded! An Engine Barks Into a Head Car.

On Monday evening some railroad men were coming from their work, down near Rocky Point, on a hand car, an engine backed suddenly down on them striking the rear of the car, and killing two men instantly. Eight more were injured and bruised in various parts—an ugly scalp wound—but no bones were broken and no dislocations. The two men killed were named Daly and Considine. We understand Considine has a large family at Friendville, near Dorchester.

MORE ABOUT THE R. E. ACCIDENT.

The Coroner's Inquest and Verdict. Disposal of the Bodies, &c., &c.

As quickly after the accident on Monday evening as possible, the Coroner, Dr. Head, of Rock Bluffs, was summoned, and a jury found at that late hour, it being nearly 10 o'clock.

THE JURY WERE: Wm. Neville, Alfred White, Wiley Black, Luke Miskella, Jos. MacDonough, Wm. Bennett.

They remained in session until two o'clock, Tuesday morning.

The witnesses examined were: Messrs. Brennan, Mulligan, Thomas Murphy, Mr. Egbert, and Mr. Dick, all railroad men and supposed to be experts in regard to the rules and regulations of railroad business.

THE VERDICT Was rendered about 2 P. M., and was substantially as follows: The men John Daley and Stephen Considine came to their death on the R. & M. R. R., by an accidental collision between an engine and a hand car, on the evening of Monday, Dec. 15th, about half-past five o'clock.

The officers of the road were exonerated from blame, as according to the evidence of the railroad men, hand cars are bound to look out for trains and engines, at all times.

PROPERTY FOUND. On the body of Daley was found a pipe, a pocket knife, two silver rings, a key and pocket-book, containing $12.00 in money.

ON CONSIDINE. Only a key and H. R. pass.

DISPOSAL OF THE BODIES. Considine was taken to Omaha for burial, his family meeting him at the Junction.

Daley was buried in Plattsmouth cemetery, at 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon; and thus ends this sad catastrophe, which leaves us less than useful citizens, a family of orphans, and a widowed mother to mourn some one's carelessness—despite the coroner's verdict to the contrary.

Resolutions of the Common Council.

At the last meeting of the Common Council they authorized the City Treasurer to make an appeal through the Press to the citizens of Plattsmouth in behalf of our taxes. By virtue of such act, I now earnestly ask all good citizens to come forward and pay their taxes promptly. Some debts are due on the High School, and we need money badly to pay the salary of the teachers; and unless the taxes are paid, the city must raise money at a sacrifice in order to carry on the absolute lightness of the day. All persons knowing themselves indebted to the city should come to the front and pay a part, at least, if not all their indebtedness. I have shown you the necessity for this course, and can make no stronger appeal.

Very Respectfully, Wm. WINTERSTEEN, City Treasurer.

OYSTER SUPPER.

Remember the Oyster Supper, Friday evening, at the High School building. The proceeds are to be devoted to the purchase of an Organ for the School, and we hope our citizens will patronize the High School oysters, justly—this don't mean the school marmas, now mind. Dr. Wintersteen takes charge of them.

PRESENTATION.

On the 25th of November Capt. A. D. Whitcomb, of this city, presented to Maj. D. H. Wheeler, (it being Wheeler's 39th birthday), a valuable memento, in the shape of a "Past Master's Jewel."

Captain Whitcomb, during the late war, found it in possession of one of his men, and secured it. It bears the following inscription: "Union Killing Lodge 4-3755"—which makes the jewel 118 years old. It is of solid silver, and was made apparently by hand. On account of its antiquity it is prized very highly by Past Grand Master Wheeler. In fact, if Bro. Wheeler has a weakness it is that he prizes so highly anything and everything relating to Masonry—and particularly if it has the marks of antiquity about it. He has more Masonic literature than any one man in the west; and yet is not happy if he hears of a new or old Masonic relic that can be had.
