THE LAUNCH OF THE ASTONISHER

On Wednesday afternoon the boys launched the "ASTONISHER" the new ferry boat between here and La Platte. A whole lot of us boys went to launch the new ferry boat.

After some prying we got her over and she slid in the Platte just like a huge Musk-rat in the water. By some mishap (as always happens) nobody had thought of a rope to hold her, and when she floated on the water, off she went. Miles Morgan jumped in, clothes all on, and fastened a line to her bow when we towed the great Astonisher in. After the LAUNCHA number of the boys went in swimming. So, Sharp, Lewis, Bach, Whisky Dan and others distinguished themselves; Fred Kroehler could not swim and the boys went for him simultaneously. John Shannon, John Russell, Charley Lazenby, and the Editor did not strip, reason, we had no rudder to steer by, and being unacquainted with the Platte River, didn't care about a funeral just now. The rest had lots of fun.

This ferry will be of great advantage to Plattsmouth; we hope to get some Sappy county trade now as we are assured rates will be reasonable and our merchants have promised that prices shall be very low to that trade; try us gentlemen.

Wm. G. Morgan swims after any more ferry-boats, we suggest that the Cass County Agricultural and Mechanical Association offer a premium for the best swimmer for this region. Miles can swim, but he prefers his boots to his watch. Hurrah for the new Ferry!

What are women's parasols worth now? Ask John Shannon, and Ed. Buttery!

Let the children all come and enjoy themselves.

Remember the new Flat-boat Ferry across the Platte, now open, by the R. R. Bridge. WM. EDGERTON & Co.

John Cummins, County Treasurer, drove the prettiest kind of a new double seated family wagon out of Harry Howland's yard on Saturday. And that reminds us that Howland is turning out some No. 1 wagons and buggies, and for once our people are patronizing home endeavors, and his wagon shop looks like a bee hive, it's so full of business.

An Iowa editor had branded his contemporary as a "naggy dog—a disgrace to his own flesh."

That was a bright little child who inquired "Ma, when awps die, do they go to the 'milkly way'?"

"And John Chapman was lying cold and dead, writhing in his mortal agony," says a New Jersey paper.

Would-be contributor: "I wish you would tell me something to write about." Editor: "Well, Right about face."

Said a justice to an obstreperous prisoner, on the day of his trial, "we want nothing but silence, and but little of that."

Keokuk has been tossing pennies to a land organ man, who owns a $15,000 farm in Wisconsin, and feels bad about it.

A Kansas girl wouldn't be married without a yellow ribbon around her waist, and a boy rode eight miles to get it while the guests waited."

Dominion papers have mixed their Butters badly. They have killed B. P. in Brooklyn with the hydrophobia instead of Francis.

WHO WAS IT?

At a late meeting of the Common Council at Lansing, Mich., the following petition, printed, illustrated with cuts, and framed, was found on the Clerk's table:

Who was it broke mine gate away and in mine garden cut all day, and on mine flower-beds root and play? Der Cows.

Who was it goes mine house around and hid his school face up the ground, and never yet has seen day bound? Der Hogs.

Who was it, ven der month goes by, draws out der greengreens on der sely, and at der gatties vinks von eye? Der Bound-greepers.

Who den allows dese dings to be, to trouble honest men like me, and leave mine yard inlaid at free? Der Council.

To which the HERALD added two verses and sent to our Council:

Who answers to der beeties bawl, and lets der dows go to der wall, while for der bells dey loudly bawl? Our Jolly Council.

Now der day's litchup der togs gets yapp, der Council 'er, we'll never get yapp, der Council 'er, der time breaks app? Our glorious Council.

The Cow Bell Ordinance was passed forthwith; but the "togs" roam uncolored, unhonored and un-hung.

STREET-CLEANING.

Mr. Editor:—I want the yuse of your valuable paper to xpress my ideas about street cleaning. I aint much of a writer but I can see good, small good and think a heap. Down on Mane street always there is a pump. It leaks water as all pumps will, every body waters at that pump and it makes a mud hole from there down the street. Now the people complain and say when they ask the city to open the gutter and lead the water off they are told to do as they did in Jerusalem or some other old foggy city like this one. Each man in Jerusalem have kept his own door yard clean, we have their word for it, but we have no word that Jerusalem had a city council that levies 3 mills tax and street commissioner to prevent—no, help draw it. The people in East Main St. didn't put that pump there, don't make that slop there, and they want it cleaned. If this pump and this stinking gutter was up town under the nose of the Post Office or the Bank or some gentry up there, it would be cleaned fast enough. So: DOWN TOWN.

NEW FERRY ACROSS THE PLATTE.

At last we have a wagon Ferry across the Platte, owing to the enterprise of BILLY EDGERTON & MILES MORGAN.

It is just below the R. R. Bridge and will be run on wires attached to the bridge so that no trouble about crossing at all times need be feared. Some of the boys went up and christened the ferry yesterday, and from now on, we can always cross the Platte with teams or stock.

INDIANS.

The gay old Indians with copper colored cuticles are at it again up about Ft. Steele. See:

FT. STEELE, W. T. July 17, 1874. To Asst. Adj. Gen., Dept. of the Platte, Omaha, Neb.

A messenger just in from the Seneca mine, thirty-five miles north of here, asks for help. There are twenty-five miners who have been fighting Indians for two days. Some miners have been killed. There are two or three hundred Indians in the attacking party. L. P. BRADLEY, Lt. Col. 9th Inf.

And again: FT. PETERMAN, July 18, 1874. To Asst. Adj. Gen., Dept. of the Platte, Omaha, Neb.

There are several war parties on Deer Creek, about thirty miles from this post. I desire authority to send a detachment of the cavalry company to scout the country in the vicinity for a few days. A. B. CAIN, Capt. 4th Infantry, Comd'g Post.

Nice "proteges"! Splendid "Wards" Eh! Appoint a guardian for them and let him be a good warrior with plenty of powder and steel.

STATE ITEMS.

Three gentlemen went through Grand Island on the 12th with 1100 head of sheep, bound for the Cache-la-Poudre Valley, Colorado.

The dead body of a Swede was found near the river about a mile below Brownville last week. He was supposed to have hung himself to a sapling near by.
