

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For member of Congress: LORENZO CROCKNE, of Washington county. For member of Congress, (contingent): PATRICK O. HAWES, of Douglas county. STATE TICKET. For Governor: SILAS A. GARRER, of Webster co.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS, ADOPTED AT LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, SEPTEMBER 24, 1874.

WHEREAS, The Republican party, by its name for the next thirteen years, has allied itself to the liberty-loving masses of the world, and has made a record which invites scrutiny, and challenges all history for a parallel in creating humanity, and establishing on a firm basis "a government by the people for the people."

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The State Central Committee for the ensuing year are: State at large—C. H. Gere, Chairman. 1st Dist.—C. D. Stevenson. 2d.—T. J. McRide. 3d.—D. F. Remmer. 4th.—John W. Barnes. 5th.—Joel T. Griffin, E. Rosewater. 6th.—Elam Clark. 7th.—E. N. Sweet. 8th.—A. Townsend. 9th.—Jos. L. Gerard, T. J. Hewitt. 10th.—A. S. Stewart. 11th.—J. N. Edwards. 12th.—L. W. Hastings, J. W. Keeler, R. B. Presson.

Owing to an attack of our old enemy, reinforced and flanked by this confounded summer gentleman that give Mr. McMurry fits the other day, we are temporarily laid on our back and a number of items we had wished to notice cannot appear this week; among others sketches of our newly nominated officers and the night scene in the nominating conventions remain unwritten owing to an extra double and twisted cramp of old C. M. about four o'clock yesterday morning.

Capt. J. C. McBride, Editor of the Schuyler Register, Colfax Co. was nominated for State Treasurer after the longest and severest political tussle that a Nebraska Convention ever passed through. The Captain is a brother editor and a brother Mac, and while we did our level best for Mr. Clark in the convention we now propose to hitch the best tow line we have to sister McBride (a la Herald) and help pull him through triumphantly.

The platform of the Republican Party adopted at Lincoln during the late State Convention is an able and judicious document. It covers the ground on most complaints without being too prolix. The article on finance probably expresses the real wishes of the people best qualified to judge of what we need. Free banking is something that we are not all agreed about, and probably nothing but an actual trial will ever settle the fact of its wisdom.

Article 9th is an amendment to the constitution imposed by the best thought of the land. Article 10th undoubtedly embodies the opinion of the Republican party in the United States in regard to a third term for any man.

The Herald for years has advocated the policy of transferring the management of the Indians to the War Department. The document as a whole is equal to any of the State Platforms we have seen and superior to many of the older States.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The document as a whole is equal to any of the State Platforms we have seen and superior to many of the older States. The withdrawal of Mr. Clark. Cass County makes a Strong Fight, and a Long Fight.

The State Convention which met at Lincoln last week, was a remarkable assemblage of men, strong in purpose, firm in will, and with a greater power to go in and win than has ever before, or probably ever will be again exhibited in Nebraska.

After organizing Wednesday P. M. they took a recess until seven o'clock in the evening. On re-assembling, Governor, Congressman, Contingent Congressman, and Secretary of State, were shortly and quickly nominated, without any great excitement. It was about nine o'clock in the evening when the ballot for Treasurer was ordered, and now commenced a tussle for supremacy among the friends of the different candidates, that lasted until daylight the next morning. Four candidates were in the field: Mr. Clark, Cass, Mr. Bartlett of Douglas, the present Deputy Treasurer, Mr. Weaver, of Richardson, and Mr. McBride of Colfax.

CASS COUNTY brought to the front one of her oldest, best known, and ablest citizens. Jno. R. Clark, cashier of the First National Bank of Plattsmouth, in the opinion of the delegation from this county, possessed all the qualifications necessary for an upright and efficient Treasurer of State. They placed him in nomination and stood by him the live-long night. Mr. Clark showed surprising strength from the very first ballot, but the gentleman from Richardson county brought their candidate along, and being an able, shrewd and tireless delegation, they worked the case of their man up with so much force and vigor, that the light really narrowed itself down to a contest between the friends of these two men, Clark and Weaver.

The convention should have been composed of 259 members, but the ballots would vary from 248 to 256, the highest number legitimately cast. Well on towards morning a ballot was cast that really gave Mr. Clark a majority of the votes, that the convention was entitled to throw. Unfortunately some outsiders or else mistaken delegates cast so many extra votes that on counting the ballot, fifteen more than the rightful number were found in the hat. Mr. Clark, it is claimed having enough to elect him, though, without these.

The Convention, however, saw fit to cast out this whole ballot and declare it void. Pending another ballot, Mr. Weaver's name was withdrawn, his friends, it was understood, going over to McBride. This would certainly have elected Mr. McBride on the next ballot.

THE WITHDRAWAL OF MR. CLARK. The excitement of course was intense, talking was going on in every part of the large ball several gentlemen were shouting "Mr. President," and endeavoring to get the floor. There was no time for a lengthy consultation between the friends of any one man.

Jno. Barnes, of the Cass Co. delegation foreclosing the inevitable result of the next ballot, by and with the advice of some of the oldest and coolest political heads in the room, sprang upon the platform and withdrew the name of Jno. R. Clark.

his course in so doing has been approved by Mr. Clark and his friends. A few minutes after the Convention was adjourned by the chairman N. K. Griggs, and the tired and weary delegates fled the hall and commenced to hunt for breakfast.

On reassembling Mr. McBride was elected on the 2nd ballot the nomination being afterwards made unanimous. There was no ill will displayed no hard words between the different delegates and nothing approaching a row, mob, or any drunken disorder, as has been reported. When it is remembered that the convention was held in Hall's Opera House, and that hundreds of outsiders were constantly present one can imagine that the buzz, the noise, the excitement among strong men was intense; that many often clamored to be heard at once; but there was no moment during that long night when the convention was not in the hand, and under control of its able chairman.

Mr. Jno. Barnes. We have been thus particular in narrating the course of events at the time or Mr. Clark's withdrawal because some unwise persons, ignorant of the true situation and unable to comprehend the different combinations of a vast convention like that have bandied about the report that Mr. Barnes sold out or made the withdrawal without the consent of his principal, his party or his delegation.

Such is not the case. Those who were present will give Mr. Barnes, as well as the whole Cass county delegation, credit for working in good faith for the best interest of their candidate, from first to last. Foolish wisecracks always know what ought to have been done when a crisis is past.

THE CITY JOINED.

In the matter of the injunction suits against the City of Plattsmouth, the following statement presents the case as far as heard from us believe: In District Court of Cass County Nebraska; Geo. H. Black, et al. vs. City of Plattsmouth, Wm. F. Howell, Parish Attorney and John Cummins as Treasurer of Cass County.

On or about the 28th day of August, 1874, a body of persons belonging to a semi-military organization known as the White League, Louisiana, assembled in the town of Conshatta parish, in the State of Louisiana, for the purpose of compelling, by force of arms, the State officers of that parish to resign their positions. These officers were men of good character, most of them largely interested in planting and mercantile pursuits. They held their position with the full consent of an admittedly large majority of the legal voters of the parish, this being a heavily Republican parish, as admitted by the Union returning officers.
