THE INDEPENDENTS.

The proposition that if both and all parties are corrupt, there can be no absolutely pure men from which to form new party, would seem so palpable, nat it would need no argument to rove it; yet our independent friends harp and harp on this string, but strange to say when they hold a convention instead of putting up strong, incorruptible men, men of at least fair reputation for purity and honesty, they almost always trot out some old political hack who has been driven out of one party or the other for fraud and vice, or else some vissionary whom neither of the old parties who have a reputation at stake and responsibilities to be accounted for, dare put up. And then they call this honesty.

WEEPING WATER, NEB. Sept. 28, 1874. DEAR HERALD:-We have had our yearly portion of political convention at Weeping Water. The Republican convention met last Saturday, and done a good day's work. As Tip-Top was on the ground taking notes, we will undoubtedly get a Tip-Top account of the convention, and the gentlemen nominated by the convention. We were glad to see the old political the selection of Mr. Farley, who is will make a good representative. The "Independent honesty" men met today, and nominated a ticket. I was much surprised at the lack of candidates. J. M. Patterson was selected (as usual) for Senator, and in order that the people might know that they meant honesty, they nominated L. G. Todd for Representative. With such a head honesty candidate on the ticket, and only regretted that he had so little take to give it praise. The convention I should say, was a success. Every Precinct being fully represented .-Those that did not have enough "independent honest" men to send as dele gates at home, had them forwarded here by independent honest men from other precincts. I am satisfied that there is enough independent honest men in the county, to make a full delegation, I noticed that the merchants of the town seemed to care more about showing their goods than they did about who was nominated, at either of date, but was disappointed, and had to pay for my own cigars. Indigestion's Martyrs. Half the diseases of the human family spring

Half the diseases of the human family spring from a disordered stomach, and may be prevented by invigorating and toning that abused and neglected organ with Hottetter's Stomach Bitters. Let it be borne in mind that the liver, the kidneys, the intestestines, the muscles, the ligaments, the bones, the nerves, the integraments, are all renewed and nourished by the blood, and that the digestive organs are the grand alcubic in which the materials of the vital fluid are prepared. When the stomach fails to provide healthful nourishment for its dependencies they necessarily suffer, and the ultimate result, if the evil is not arrested, will be chronic and probably fatal disease somewhere. It may be developed in the kidneys in the form of diable bets, in the liver as congestion, in the muscles as rheumatism, in the nerves as paralysis, in the integuments as paralysis, in the integuments as scofula. Remember, however, that each and all of these consequences of indigestion may be prevented by the timely and regular use of that sovereign antidote to dyspepsia. Hostetter's Bitters.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty year's successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse, may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out the mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.
