All HERALDS going outside of the county must add postage to these rates-15 cents a year. It will also be observed that the rates are alightly higher abroad, owing to their having to pre-pay postage, otherwise they are as low as can be made, and by this means the poorest family can secure home news and one or two foreign papers for little more than the price of one good paper singly.

And still more the HERALD offers all old subscribers that pay up now back dues and one year in advance a reduction of 10 per cent on account and new subscription. He gave a few simple rules and directions which we noticed were seized with avidity by the teachers present. His method enforced the constant drilling of the scholars in writing; first words, then sentences, then short descriptions, and so leading them by a gradual process to do easily what formerly was regarded by pupils To all those dunned we must say as the hardest task assigned them, to deadly plague. Among the sad scenes of this life there are none half so sad as the poor degraded sot, reduced, in his own estimation, and in the estimation of others, intellectually, physically and morally, a slave to his own appetite, the result of a voluntary act, the oft repetition of which has led him to ruin. He sacrifices upon the altar of intemperance all that can make life lovely and beautiful-lost to his own shame, bound to the rock of his own vices, and lashed by the on-rolling BURDETT, SMITH'S AMERICAN, AND waves of despair. The irresistable craving and morbid thirst is owing to a depraved and peculiar state of the nervous system. The thirst for intoxicating drink is a disease, known as thirst-madness, wine-madness, whiskymadness, beer-madness, or madness for strong drink. In some persons this disease is periodic, and in others it is A State committee was appointed chronic. The Mind Dependent on the Body.

Hypochondria is a far more common maltidy than is generally supposed. It has its degrees, it is true, progressing from mental depression, or the "blues," to mental hallucidation : but they are all forms of the same malady. It is a significant fact that this mental ailment is invariably accompanied by dyspepsia and nervariably accompanied by dyspepsia and nervousness, and the fact that it readily yields to the alternative action of Hostette.'s Stomach Bitters, which are peculiarly adapted to the eradication of indigestion and nervous debility, proves that it originates in those compaints.— It will thus be seen how dependent the mind as upon the body for the preservation of a cheerful equilibrium, and also how readily the causes of mental gloom may be removed. There is no surer or pleasanter way of shaking off a fit of depression brought on by indigestion, than by swallowing a dose or two of this agreeable medicine.
