

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY AT PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA. OFFICE: On Main Street, between 4th and 5th, Second Story. OFFICIAL PAPER OF CASS COUNTY. Terms, in Advance: One copy, one year, $2.00; one copy, six months, $1.25; one copy, three months, $0.75.

HENRY BECK, DEALER IN Furniture, SAFES, CHAIRS, Lounges, Tables, Bedsteads, etc., etc., etc. OF ALL Descriptions. METALLIC BURIAL CASES. Wooden Coffins of all sizes, ready-made, and sold cheap for cash.

With many thanks for past patronage, I invite all to call and examine my LARGE STOCK OF Furniture and Coffins.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES AT J. H. BUTTERTY'S, On Main Street, bet. Fifth and Sixth.

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles, etc., etc.

W. W. SHANNON'S Feed, Sale and Livery STABLE. Main Street, Plattsmouth, Neb.

I am prepared to accommodate the public with HORSES, Carriages, Buggies, Wagons, and A No. 1 Hearse.

On Short Notice and Reasonable Terms. HACK Will Run to the Steamboat Landing, Depot, and all parts of the City, when Desired.

First National Bank of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, Tootle, Hanna & Clark.

Banking Business. Stocks, Bonds, Gold, Government and Local Securities. Deposits Received and Interest Allowed on Time Certificates.

Excelsior Barber Shop. J. C. BOONE, Main Street, opposite Brooks House.

HAIR-CUTTING, Shaving and Shampooing. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO CUTTING CHILDREN'S HAIR.

GO TO THE Post Office Book Store, H. J. STREIGHT, Proprietor, FOR TOYS, Toys, Confectionery, Violin Strings, Newspapers, Novels, Song Books, etc., etc.

POST OFFICE BUILDING, PLATTSMOUTH, NEB.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Compiled from Telegrams of Accompanying Pages. Monday, Jan. 11. REPRESENTATIVE SCHUMAKER made a statement on the 9th, before the Public Mail Investigating Committee, of the disposition of the $275,000 check. He says he had the check broken up into small amounts, at the request of Mr. Irwin, and distributed all but $10,000 of it to other parties, on the assurance of Mr. Stockwell that it was not intended for any improper purpose.

At the annual meeting of the Union League Club in New York on the evening of the 14th, a short and spirited discussion of the Louisiana trouble followed, the tenor of which was an approval of the President's course.

CHARLES A. STEVENS has been elected to Congress from the Tenth Massachusetts District for the unexpired term of the late Alvah Crocker.

A large meeting was held in Baltimore on the night of the 15th to protest against military interference in Louisiana.

THE Virginia Legislature has adopted resolutions protesting against the recent conduct of Federal troops in Louisiana as a gross and wanton usurpation of power.

CONGRESSIONAL. In the Senate, on the 11th, after a spirited debate, a resolution was adopted requesting the Secretary of War, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish to the official report and communications of the Secretary of War, in relation to the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble.

In the House, on the 11th, Charles Albert was arraigned for contempt in refusing to answer certain questions before the Pacific Mail investigation, New York city, on the evening of the 11th a long series of resolutions was adopted, denouncing military interference in State affairs and condemning the dispatches of Gen. Sheridan.

In the Senate, on the 12th, the House bill declaratory of the 19th section of the act of 1874, to amend the Customs Revenue laws and to provide for the collection of duties on imports, was reported by Mr. McKim.

In the House, on the 12th, a bill was introduced to promote commerce among the States by providing for the transportation of persons and property between the Atlantic seaboard and the Western States.

In the Senate, on the 14th, the bill to amend the act of 1874, to provide for the collection of customs duties, was passed, with amendments reported from the Finance Committee.

In the House, on the 14th, the bill to amend the act of 1874, to provide for the collection of customs duties, was passed, with amendments reported from the Finance Committee.

On the 15th for the murder, in June, 1875, of James H. Jackson, made a full confession. The hanging of Jarvis was a bungling and horrible affair, the rope breaking off the first time, and the second time slipping out of the latching. The poor wretch then exclaimed: "For God's sake, make it sure this time," and the Sheriff's assistants seized the rope and hauled him up by hand, when he was strangled to death.

At the annual meeting of the Union League Club in New York on the evening of the 14th, a short and spirited discussion of the Louisiana trouble followed, the tenor of which was an approval of the President's course.

"PERSEVERANCE CONQUERS."

The artist in Sweden, telling in the New York Times, recently, his story of adventure, interview with it a sketch so touching of honest love and child-like ignorance of the world that it is worth reproducing here, though more briefly. One evening on a mountain side he was trying to sketch a sleeping guide, when a young fellow dressed in the diet of an esquire Dal costume, whom he remembered to have seen in a village some days before, approached him. He had a forest of auburn curls and big gray eyes, and a melancholy expression on his face; and was in his holiday costume—leather breeches, massive shoes with ponderous iron buckles, the peculiar leather apron of the country, a bright blue jacket and a square waistcoat of yellow, embroidered with scarlet flowers, and a flapping low on his hips. He carried a heavy bag that might weigh a hundred pounds, and had two bushels on his back, but stood as erect as a young fir.

"You poor Dal! when I saw you in the village I was glad to see you, but I am glad to see you here. I have heard that you were in the mountains, and I have come to see you. I have heard that you were in the mountains, and I have come to see you. I have heard that you were in the mountains, and I have come to see you."

"The President responded to the Resolution adopted on the 8th, asking for information in regard to the Louisiana trouble, as a gross and wanton usurpation of power."

In the Senate, on the 11th, after a spirited debate, a resolution was adopted requesting the Secretary of War, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish to the official report and communications of the Secretary of War, in relation to the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble.

In the House, on the 11th, Charles Albert was arraigned for contempt in refusing to answer certain questions before the Pacific Mail investigation, New York city, on the evening of the 11th a long series of resolutions was adopted, denouncing military interference in State affairs and condemning the dispatches of Gen. Sheridan.

In the Senate, on the 12th, the House bill declaratory of the 19th section of the act of 1874, to amend the Customs Revenue laws and to provide for the collection of duties on imports, was reported by Mr. McKim.

In the House, on the 12th, a bill was introduced to promote commerce among the States by providing for the transportation of persons and property between the Atlantic seaboard and the Western States.

In the Senate, on the 14th, the bill to amend the act of 1874, to provide for the collection of customs duties, was passed, with amendments reported from the Finance Committee.

In the House, on the 14th, the bill to amend the act of 1874, to provide for the collection of customs duties, was passed, with amendments reported from the Finance Committee.

On the 15th for the murder, in June, 1875, of James H. Jackson, made a full confession. The hanging of Jarvis was a bungling and horrible affair, the rope breaking off the first time, and the second time slipping out of the latching.

At the annual meeting of the Union League Club in New York on the evening of the 14th, a short and spirited discussion of the Louisiana trouble followed, the tenor of which was an approval of the President's course.

In the Senate, on the 11th, after a spirited debate, a resolution was adopted requesting the Secretary of War, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish to the official report and communications of the Secretary of War, in relation to the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble.

In the House, on the 11th, Charles Albert was arraigned for contempt in refusing to answer certain questions before the Pacific Mail investigation, New York city, on the evening of the 11th a long series of resolutions was adopted, denouncing military interference in State affairs and condemning the dispatches of Gen. Sheridan.

The Love Story of a Dal Peasant.

An artist in Sweden, telling in the New York Times, recently, his story of adventure, interview with it a sketch so touching of honest love and child-like ignorance of the world that it is worth reproducing here, though more briefly. One evening on a mountain side he was trying to sketch a sleeping guide, when a young fellow dressed in the diet of an esquire Dal costume, whom he remembered to have seen in a village some days before, approached him.

"The President responded to the Resolution adopted on the 8th, asking for information in regard to the Louisiana trouble, as a gross and wanton usurpation of power."

In the Senate, on the 11th, after a spirited debate, a resolution was adopted requesting the Secretary of War, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish to the official report and communications of the Secretary of War, in relation to the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble.

In the House, on the 11th, Charles Albert was arraigned for contempt in refusing to answer certain questions before the Pacific Mail investigation, New York city, on the evening of the 11th a long series of resolutions was adopted, denouncing military interference in State affairs and condemning the dispatches of Gen. Sheridan.

In the Senate, on the 12th, the House bill declaratory of the 19th section of the act of 1874, to amend the Customs Revenue laws and to provide for the collection of duties on imports, was reported by Mr. McKim.

In the House, on the 12th, a bill was introduced to promote commerce among the States by providing for the transportation of persons and property between the Atlantic seaboard and the Western States.

In the Senate, on the 14th, the bill to amend the act of 1874, to provide for the collection of customs duties, was passed, with amendments reported from the Finance Committee.

In the House, on the 14th, the bill to amend the act of 1874, to provide for the collection of customs duties, was passed, with amendments reported from the Finance Committee.

On the 15th for the murder, in June, 1875, of James H. Jackson, made a full confession. The hanging of Jarvis was a bungling and horrible affair, the rope breaking off the first time, and the second time slipping out of the latching.

At the annual meeting of the Union League Club in New York on the evening of the 14th, a short and spirited discussion of the Louisiana trouble followed, the tenor of which was an approval of the President's course.

In the Senate, on the 11th, after a spirited debate, a resolution was adopted requesting the Secretary of War, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish to the official report and communications of the Secretary of War, in relation to the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble, to the committee on the Louisiana trouble.

In the House, on the 11th, Charles Albert was arraigned for contempt in refusing to answer certain questions before the Pacific Mail investigation, New York city, on the evening of the 11th a long series of resolutions was adopted, denouncing military interference in State affairs and condemning the dispatches of Gen. Sheridan.

In the Senate, on the 12th, the House bill declaratory of the 19th section of the act of 1874, to amend the Customs Revenue laws and to provide for the collection of duties on imports, was reported by Mr. McKim.

ALL SORTS.

An injunction against a New Hampshire manufacturer of vulcanized rubber for dental plates was recently rendered. The manufacturer was ordered to stop the production of the plates, as they were found to be defective.

The division of the Supreme Bench of Maine on the question of whether a woman can be a Justice of the Peace has occasioned considerable comment on the coast.

There is nothing like order, system and regularity in all things. It gives an air of respectability to a man's life, and is a necessary part of a gentleman's education.

A Dublin cabman has made his appearance in a police court for having driven his cab, with five women in it, into the canal. The cold water appears to have revived a part of his memory.

A Wisconsin grasshopper, according to the reliable gazetteer of the Brooklyn Argos, recently visited the city in the role of a New York architect.

The London Saturday Review finds in Mr. Bancroft's tenth volume not a single eloquent passage.

Philadelphia ladies protest against the desecration of the sidewalk with the use of a vowel they were told never to use.

A New Hampshire milkman has just struck the milkmaid. He had the traditional custom of the "universal Yankee nation" he might have taken it to the good and right.

The London Saturday Review finds in Mr. Bancroft's tenth volume not a single eloquent passage.

Philadelphia ladies protest against the desecration of the sidewalk with the use of a vowel they were told never to use.

A New Hampshire milkman has just struck the milkmaid. He had the traditional custom of the "universal Yankee nation" he might have taken it to the good and right.

The London Saturday Review finds in Mr. Bancroft's tenth volume not a single eloquent passage.

Philadelphia ladies protest against the desecration of the sidewalk with the use of a vowel they were told never to use.