

Giants Birds.

The American Museum of Natural History in Central New York, has secured several gigantic skeletons of extinct species of birds belonging to the family Struthionidae.

These birds were obtained by the late Dr. Haart, the Curator of the Museum of Christ Church, New Zealand, and were originally procured in a cave near Moa Point, on that island.

The bones are of a size which has been calculated to be about the size of the bones of the largest size of the ostrich.

The natives of New Zealand assert that the bones were dug up by their ancestors in the habit of wearing the heavy, brilliant plumes of the birds as ornaments.

The Question of '76.

But the reasons for opposing the Democratic party are national rather than local. They concern the spirit and conduct of the Government in regard to the vital question of our political situation.

Non-man who takes time to think of the subject can suppose that the Democratic party are the party of the Union. They are not.

Food for the Great.

"GREAT men are great eaters" would probably be the first exclamation of one who was given to over-hasty generalization.

It is not surprising that this should be the case, only surprising that anyone should be only surprised that it would be a most serious mistake to enter upon the election of 1876 with the theory that the Democratic party are the party of the Union.
