CORN AND PORK.

Save Your Corn.

Reports say that corn in northern Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa is very poor and will not keep. Some has already been shipped to Chicago, and has heated in the elevators.

Such being the case all persons having so and corn, that will keep, should take special pains to crib and save the same; before next corn time it will surely bring a good price.

Pork, too, is high and likely to remain so. Stuff the poor corn into the hogs and keep the good. In this way you can euchre hard times and low
