CALL FOR A NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The next Union Republican National Convention for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States will be held in the city of Cincinnati on Wednesday the 14th day of June, 1876, at 12 o'clock noon and will consist of delegates from each State equal to twice the number of its Senators and Representatives in Congress and of two delegates from each organized territory and the District of Columbia. In calling the conventions for the election of delegates, the committees of the several States are advised to invite to join all Republican electors and all other voters, without regard to past political differences or previous party affiliations, who are opposed to reviving sectional issues, and desire to promote friendly feeling and permanent harmony throughout the country by maintaining and enforcing all constitutional rights of every citizen, including the full and free exercise of the right of suffrage without intimidation and without fraud; who agree to the binding force of honest and punishment for all official dishonesty and of an economical administration of the government by honest, faithful and capable officers; who see in the training of such officers in the government as experience may from time to time suggest; who are opposed to impairing the credit of the nation by the payment in any of its obligations and in favor of sustaining in every way the national faith and financial honor; who hold that the common school system is the bulwark of American liberty and should be maintained absolutely free from sectarian control; who believe that for the promotion of these ends the power of the general government should continue to be confided to those who adhere to the principle of 1776, support them as interpreted in the light of the recent lapse and who aim in favor of recognizing and strengthening the fundamental principles of national unity in this centennial anniversary of the birth of the republic.

If—

And the old fellows seem to have been crowded out at the Lincoln convention. The boys, Dem. boys want to run the machine.

And Secretary Wheeler bears witness that Azro Smith did raise 834 bush. of potatoes on one acre of ground. See Letter and notice "Enormous Yield of Potatoes."

We have received the prospectus of the Lincoln Trotting Association, of which we see our old friend Honeywell is Sec'y. There will be three days trotting on May 30 and 31st and on June 1st, for purses ranging from $40 to $600.

Any one who thinks the Republican party dead in Cass county should have seen the earnest attention and lively interest exhibited by the Cent. Com on Monday. We have not had so good a turn out in years, and every man seemed to recognize the importance of attending to the first steps toward success. Attend your primaries.

The six democratic delegates from the State to the National Dem. Convention at St. Louis, the 27th of June next, are: Geo. L. Miller, Dr. Alex Bear, G. B. Schofield, Tobias Castor, F. A. Harmon and Chas. McDonald. The convention adopted a hard money platform and recommended Tilden for President.

We would remind our readers, that on the action of our convention at Louisville on the 12th of May, depends the kind of men Cass county wants to go to the National convention, and further who they desire for the next president of the U. S. We earnestly hope all true citizens will attend the primaries on the 6th day of May and express their preference for the men they want. Remember this is the beginning of the great centennial campaign of 1876, and on its issue depend very many lasting benefits or injuries, to this country; perhaps, its very life.

R. R. MEETINGS THIS WEEK AND NEXT.

There will be a railroad meeting at Taylor's school house in Liberty precinct, on Monday evening next, at 7 o'clock, to discuss and give information about the Trunk R. R. Also to increase the subscription to stock. Dr. Livingston and other gentlemen interested will be present. Please give notice readers of the HERALD and attend.

There will be a railroad meeting at Rock Bluffs on Saturday evening next. Several gentlemen interested in the road will be present and address the meeting. Try and turn out if you want the road built.

The local and the big real editor of the Lincoln Journal do not agree in regard to the calibre and accomplishments of the Dem. Convention at Lincoln. One describes them as the best looking and highest toned men in the State, and the other as a black haired villainous crowd, who never fool away time on Soda pop.

"Stuttering Brown," as he was called, an old plainsman, and well known to ranchmen, freighters and builders of the U. P. R. R., died at Laramie on Tuesday from wounds given by Indians during an attack on one of his night fast freight trains, going to Custer city. Brown was sitting on the seat with the driver when the attack was made and one of the first shots fired struck a cartridge in his belt and drove it into the wound along with the bullet.

We respectfully remind the honorable County Commissioners and our especial friend Mr. Ramsey, that we have a little bill there, now over due, and that we need the money.

If not ordered paid at the next regular meeting the account will go into a collector's hands, and moreover we shall add interest for money we have been obliged to borrow, and demand our pay in cash, something we have never yet had from this county. We do not desire any trouble about these matters, but we think the HERALD needs its pay as much as Mr. Ramsey his $57 he drew for Commissioner's work last week; or as badly as the Commissioners' room needs a new floor. We ask the Republican Commissioners in that board to do their duty.

MEETING OF THE REP. CENT. COMMITTEE.

The committee was called to order by the chairman and A. L. Sprague elected Sec'y. All the Wards and precincts in the county except 3 were represented either by the properly elected committee man or a duly authorized proxy.

On motion Louisville was selected as the place of calling the Convention to elect delegates to the Fremont convention on the 23d of May. On motion the time was fixed at 11 o'clock a. m.

On motion, another convention was called at Plattsmouth, on Sep. 12th, 1876, to elect delegates to the State Convention to be held at Lincoln on Sept. 26th, 1876.

The primaries for the convention May 12th, are recommended to be held on Saturday, May 6th, at the hour and places stated in the "Call;" and the primaries for the Sept. convention to be held Monday the 9th of Sept.

Moved, that there be one delegate for each voting Ward or precinct in the county, and one for every 25 republican voters, or a fraction over 12, votes cast at the last election for Regent Holmes—carried. On motion the apportionment given in the call was approved and made the standard for both conventions.

Proxies to all conventions must be properly endorsed, and voters in the wards or precincts they claim to represent. The committe desired the chairman to call a meeting of this committee on the morning of SEPT. 13TH AT 10 A. M., being the day of the meeting of the convention at Plattsmouth, and such meeting of the Rep. Cent. Com. of Cass county is now called.

ENORMOUS YIELD OF POTATOES.

As the soil and climate of Nebraska has proved to be well adapted to the growth of enormous crops of the very best kind of potatoes, many of our own citizens have been skeptical as to the number of bushels grown by some of the gardeners of Nebraska. From the fabulous character of the statements made, many have expressed their doubts of the enormous yield. To settle any further dispute on the subject of the large yield of 834 bushels of potatoes to the acre of land, which Mr. Azro Smith of Rock Bluffs, Cass county, raised and received a premium for at the last State Fair of Nebraska, Mr. D. H. Wheeler, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, sends us the following communication, which every one should read, leaving no doubt as to the fact that Nebraska cannot be excelled in growth of potatoes:

NEBRASKA STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE,
SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
PLATTSMOUTH, NEB., April 11th, 1876.

Editor Cedar-Eaton Agriculturalist:

In your issue of April 8th, I find a letter from one James Thirtle, referring to my report of the Azro Smith potatoes last year as one of first potatoes. The entry for competition was made by Mr. Smith, and the necessary proofs filed, as required, relative to the yield of said potatoes. The proofs are now in my office for the inspection of any person desiring to see them. Mr. Smith is a man of character, and statements made by him are entitled to credit. All who know him, I fully believe the statements in regard to the yield of his "Early Vermont Potatoes," and will take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others referred to.

Very truly, &c.,
D. H. WHEELER, Secretary.

The Coming Timber Tree.

For several years I was casting about for a tree to plant for timber, for fuel, fencing etc., upon the prairies; one that would be hardy, easily transplanted and of tolerably rapid growth. I watched with much interest experiments made by other parties having the same end in view, and felt equal disappointment with them at their search, namely the best tree, all things considered, for the western prairie.

The cottonwood was hardy and of rapid growth, but worthless as a timber tree, and very inferior as fuel. The locust would sprout from the root so as to become a nuisance, and the borers ruined the groves. The gray willow did not realize the anticipations formed of it, even as a fencing material. The soft maple was valuable for wind-breakes and for fuel, but was not a timber tree. At this point I thought of the pecan (Carya Olliviformis) a species of hickory, a native of the Ill. and Mississippi valleys. I satisfied myself by experiment and investigation, of its value as a timber tree; wagon and carriage makers, wherever they had used it, testifying of its value as being equal to the best of white ash, for all purposes of buggy or carriage manufacture; possessing equal durability, and greater strength and elasticity. At various points on the Mississippi River, steamboat carpenters who had used it, found it a valuable timber in boat building. As a fuel it has no superior. But would it grow and thrive on our prairies?

To test this, in the fall of 1871, I dug up in the bottom land, along the Illinois River, a dozen or two young trees, heeled them in my garden for the winter, and in the spring removed them to my farm on the prairie. The summer of 1872 was hot and dry, but all the trees grew and did finely. Next year I increased my planting, and thus far have three different settings of trees. I find it as easy transplanted as any tree I ever handled, having never lost a tree. Of vigorous growth, clean and healthy.

By my advice several of my friends have procured and planted this tree, and I have five hundred more which I intend to plant the coming spring.

The pecan tree ordinarily commences bearing at about eight years of age. It bears one of our finest nuts, which sold in the Cincinnatti market, for the past six years, at an average price of five dollars per bushel.

A gentleman in the southern part of this state, who has a pecan orchard, partly natural, which he has increased by further planting says "it is of more value to him yearly than his apple orchard."

The pecan tree is grown readily from the nut, if it is not allowed to become dry before planting. But to those who are so situated as to be able to procure thrifty young trees, of one or two years growth, I would say get the trees. And to the farmer who contemplates planting trees on the prairie, for shade, for timber, nuts or fuel, or for an inheritance for his children, I would say plant the pecan, and future generations shall bless thee.—Correspondent Prairie Farmer.

NEBRASKA STATE GRANGE.

BROWNVILLE, Neb., }
April 20th, 1876. }

Worthy Brother: Bro. E. H. Clark having resigned the office of Secretary of the State Grange, the Executive Committe has this day appointed Bro. P. E. Beardsley of Lincoln, Nebraska, as Secretary, to whom all matters relative to the Secretarys office should hereafter be addressed. Yours Fraternally,

CHURCH HOWE, Master.

P. S. A large number of subordinate Granges are behind with their reports for the quarter ending March 31st. If not, perhaps you, as Secretaries will please call this matter their attention and report at once.

In answer to the charges of Mr. Rosewater, of the Bee, Gen'l Cunningham publishes the following letter in the Lincoln Journal from the Land Commissioner at Washington.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 7, 1876.

E. E. Cunningham, Esq., Washington, D. C.:

SIR—I am in receipt of your communication of the 1st instant, inclosing a slip cut from the Omaha Daily Bee of the 18th ult., containing certain charges against your late administration of the office of Surveyor General for Nebraska and Iowa.

These charges are:

First—That Alonzo Cunningham was paid $1,100 for five months' service as deputy, and $1,200 more for six months service in the same year as assistant draftsman. It is said that this refers to the year 1873.

Second—That Alex. Schlegel was paid for the year 1875, $1,600 as chief draftsman of the Surveyor General's office and at the same time had one contract for surveys to be executed by himself, and an interest in another.

Third—That the expenditure of $13,000 for clerkships, etc., involved "stupendous frauds;" and,

Fourth—That surveying contracts were entered into conditional upon an appropriation by Congress.

As you request an official statement of what the records of this office show in the above matters, I have to say in reply as follows:

First—The records show that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1875, Alonzo Cunningham was paid as clerk for the first seven months $644.55, that being at a rate of $1,100 per annum; and for the other five months of the year he was paid $486.66, as draftsman, and at the rate of $1,200 per annum.

Second—With reference to Mr. Alexander Schlegel the records show that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1875, he was paid $1,600 as chief clerk and had no contract for surveys during that year. For the year ending June 30, 1876, he had one contract for surveys to be executed by himself, and one contract jointly with another deputy. He received no salary whatever as Clerk after June 30, 1875.

Third—The appropriation for the clerks in the office of said Surveyor General for the last year was $6,300. In addition to this amount $1,161.11 was paid for clerk hire out of special deposits.

Fourth—The charge that certain contracts were entered into, conditional on an appropriation by Congress, is without foundation; no such contract having been approved or received by this office.

Very respectfully,
W. J. BAXTER,
Acting Commissioner.

The natural age of the apple tree, unaffected by disease or injury, is said to be 100 years, the pear tree 50 years, the cherry 30 years, and the peach 15.

The Garden London, reports a singular instance of root-growth from France. An Elm tree, standing over Fountainbleau sandstone, forced its root lets down so they perforathi the rock, leaving in it a perfect impression of their form. It is supposed that the moisture which holds the grains of sand together to form rock was dissolved by the carbonic acid given off by the roots.

Dragging Out Existence.

The nervous, wealthy invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as they phrase it. Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which useful employment alone gives a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholy, the valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yet there is nothing in all this that cannot be remedied by that genial, restorative tonic and aperient, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which supplies sufficient stimulus, braces the nerves, regulates the bowels, thoroughly purifies, regularizes to which hermits weakness is most frequently attributable. Dissipation, Debility, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Fever and Ague and other debilitating febrile complaints of a malarial nature.

Dr. Berger's Tonic Bowel and File Pills.

These pills are an infallible remedy for constipation and other diseases by the suppression of the peristaltic motion of the bowels. They very gently increase the activity of the intestinal canal, produce soft stools and relieve piles at once. Thousands have been cured by them. Price 50 cents, sent by mail on receipt of price. Prepared only by F. ALFELD & CO. RAILROAD PHARMACIST, 404 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY.

Dr. Berger's Compound Fluid Extract of Rhubarb and Dandelion.

The best combination of purely vegetable medicines to entirely replace Calomel or Blue Pill. It stimulates the liver, increases the flow of bile, and thus removes, at once torpidity of the liver, biliousness and habitual constipation, and the diseases arising from such as Dyspepsia, dark headache, flatulence, etc. The effect-Cleanse of this Extract will be proved, visibly, at once to the patient, as one or two bottles are sufficient to clear the complexion beautifully, and remove pimples and stains caused by liver troubles. Price $1 per bottle, 6 bottles, $5, will be sent on receipt of the price to any address, free of charge. Prepared only by F. ALFELD & CO. DRUGGISTS PHARMACISTS, 404 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY.
