HANNAH BINDING SHOES.

Poor lone Hannah.
Sitting at the window binding shoes,
Faded, wrinkled.
Sitting, alliching in a mouraful muse.
Bright-eyed beauty once was sie.
When the bloom was on the tree; Spring and winter Hannah's at the window, binding shoes.

Not a neighbor Passing nod or answer will refuse
To her whisper,
"Is there from the fishers any news?"
Oh, her heart's adrift with one
On an endiese voyage gone?
Night and morning
Haunah's at the window, minding shoes.

Pair young Hannah. Ben, the sunburat fisher gally woos; Hair and ciever,

For a widing heart and hand he sues.

May day skies are all aglow,

And the waves are laughing so!

For her wedding

Hannah leaves her window and her shoes.

May is passing;
Mid the apple boughs a pigeon coos;
Haanah shudders;
For the mila southwester mischief brews.
Round the rock of Marbichead,
Outward bou d a schooner sped;
Silent ionesone. Silent, ionesome, Hannak's at the window, binding shoes. Tis November : Now no tear her wasted cheek bedews ; Frem Newfoundland

Not a sail returning will she lose.
Whispering hoursels. Fishermen.
Have you, have you heard of Ben?"
Old with watching.
