THE HERALD.

German Exchange. "The other night," said a traveler, "I got chatting with a German, and asked him what he was doing."

Guiding From Old Proverbs. Happy never comes to such as you do. The only way to make a friend is to be one.

He who boasts of a multitude of friends, hath none. He who strives to ride merrily is far wiser than the trifler.

There is no such thing as an easy career to a discontented man. Men are like words; when not properly placed, they lose their value.

A man's own good breeding is the best security against other people's ill-manners. Good company and good conversation are the very signs of virtue.

NOT A QUACK NOSTRUM. My wife writes me to tell that she has been cured of a very lame back. We think there is nothing else but your Pastes that can compare with the Collins' Voltaic Pastes for Rheumatism and Catarrh.

The Colossus of Rhodes, one of the seven wonders of the world, was a statue of brass, 150 feet high, each finger being larger than a man.

"Things are climbing" down low, sonny, I don't come down to two meals a day; I come down to one—nightly plain one at that!

A little five-year old girl had been banished to the hall for disobedience. Presently a curious stamping of little feet was heard there, followed by a premonitory knock at the door by little fingers.

ALOUISANA PLANTER SAYS: My plantation is in a malarial district. For several years I could not make half a crop on account of sickness.

The cure of a country church, where the men sit on one side of the aisle and the women on the other, being annoyed in the middle of his sermon by a belching of conversation, gently reminds the congregation that it should be silent.

Domestic Recipes. Potato Cakes.—Wash some potatoes in the oven; when done, skin and pound in a mortar with a small piece of butter warmed in a little milk.

Chocolate Pudding.—Allow three-fourths of a cupful of grated chocolate to a quart of rich, new milk; let it boil up and then set aside to cool.

Washing Dishes.—The yolk of an egg stirred into hard water without soap makes it better for washing greasy dishes, than soft water and soap.

English Plum Pudding.—Beat eight eggs very light; add a pound of sifted flour and a pound of powdered sugar.

Almond Candy.—Boil slowly one pound of white sugar and a coffee-cupful of water one-half hour; clear with the white of an egg.

Boston Baked Beans.—Wash, and put the required amount in a genuine "bean pot," covering completely with cold water.

A Sketch of German Life. William Howitt gives the following graphic sketch of "Life in Germany," which will, perhaps, both amuse and instruct our readers.

Every good house should possess the means of admitting sufficient light, either through an ordinary window or through a pane or two of thick glass in the sides, or a few glass tiles in the roof.

Crany Horse's shirt has been presented to a gentleman of Detroit, but we trust, for the sake of his family and friends, the recipient doesn't propose to wear it.

The mirrors of the Japanese are polished metal plates. They usually consist of a disc of bronze which is composed of eight parts of copper, fifteen of tin, and one of lead.
