

Call for a Republican State Convention.

The Republican Electors of the State of Nebraska are hereby called to meet at the State Convention at Lincoln on the 1st day of October, 1878, at 2 o'clock, p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following named offices, viz: One Judge of the Supreme Court. One Member of Congress, contingent. Lieutenant-Governor. Secretary of State. Auditor. Superintendent of Public Instruction. Attorney-General. Land Commissioner. And to transact such other business as may properly come before the Convention.

Table with columns: Counties, Votes, Delegates. Lists various counties and their respective votes and delegates.

It is recommended, first, that no proxies be admitted to the Convention except such as held by persons residing in the counties from which the proxies are given.

Call for a Republican Convention.

The Republican Electors of this county are called to meet in convention at Weeping Water on

at 1 o'clock, p. m. for the purpose of electing 10 delegates to the state convention Oct. 1st 1878; delegates to the Flat, or District, Representative District and also to the judicial district convention for the nomination of District Attorney.

It is further called to place in nomination one State Senator and three Representatives, also one County Commissioner for the 3d or middle district and to transact such business as may legitimately come before it.

It is recommended that the primaries for this occasion be held on Saturday, Sep. 7th, 1878, and each ward and precinct is entitled to delegates to the Convention as follows:

Table with columns: Ward, Delegates. Lists wards and the number of delegates for each.

It is further recommended that the primaries meet in the several wards and precincts at the times and places below given.

In Plattsmouth City at 7 o'clock p. m.

ROBT. BONNER is talked of for Mayor of New York City.

Our Louisville Letter came too late for this week's issue. Will appear next week.

GRASSHOPPERS are reported on the upper Elkhorn.

The Democratic State Convention does meet at eight (8) o'clock in the evening on the 25th of September at Lincoln. We thought it was a misprint and meant for three (3) o'clock.

We call attention to the call for the formation of a Historical Society at Lincoln on the 25th.

It is estimated that 20,000 or 30,000 head of cattle have been taken into the Niobrara region this year.

RAMUS trotted three heats in 2:15, 2:13 1/2, 2:13 1/2 which is the last astonishing thing to be said in the trotting line.

THE Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold their annual convention at Fremont, Tuesday, September 3d.

THE Syracuse Journal says: Dan Rice's show was pretty good down there as he left the damsel part of it up the Missouri river.

NOTWITHSTANDING the immense rain fall earlier in the season, it is now so dry that farmers have almost entirely ceased plowing.

OFFICER RYAN, of Omaha, arrested a negro in this city on Saturday last, supposed to have been the perpetrator of a robbery of Goldsmith, in Omaha.

A TELEGRAM to the Omaha Herald of yesterday says: Frank Welch carried the primaries in Madison and Pierce counties. Madison is his home county.

JUDGE JERE BLACK, the eminent jurist passed through Omaha on Saturday last, and being interviewed on the subject of the Schurz railroad land decision, declared him to be wrong, in his opinion.

BARBOCK, of the Fairbury Clipper, has gone up to Alexandria, the home of Capt. Alexander, he that is a candidate for Secretary of State, "you know" and whether Bab, is going crazy or not time only can tell.

THE two brothers, J. A. & Mortimer Cox, who were arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the recent railroad robbery on the K. C. R. R. were discharged from custody wholly exonerated from suspicion.

D. R. SUTTON, whose brother was killed above Kearney at the same time with Luther Holbrook, has returned to Kearney without finding the murderers, although he has spent time and all his money in the endeavor.

FROM Mr. W. A. Propst, Grenell Iowa, we receive substantial proof of regard for the HERALD, as well as expressions of kindly good wishes. He says, "oh what heat! Impossible to do any plowing so dry. Corn oats and barley crop immense."

As we passed through Louisville, the other day, we saw the clear cut face of Dr. Hildebrand for just one moment and the next our old time friend Truman Hall grasped us by the hand. They tell us Truman is doing well there and we are glad, very glad to hear it.

THE Mayor of Memphis and others have asked President Hayes to appoint a commission of competent physicians to investigate the cause and remedy for yellow fever.

CLEAR your streets, or send for Dr Benjamin Butler.

THE cries for relief from the yellow fever ravaged districts are pitiful, but seem to meet with prompt response in every way except nurses, and when we think of the almost impossibility of northern people going there without falling victims to the fever, it is a wonder that so many can be obtained.

THE LINCOLN JOURNAL has an account of the trouble at Beatrice, headed: "Beatrice Boiling—The alleged attempt of the Mayor to steal the town, and convey it to Colby and his friends, &c., &c."

Hears to us that something like this happened on a smaller scale in Plattsmouth, didn't it? The mayor at Beatrice, however, was compelled to re-deed the lots and resign at 12 o'clock at night.

THIS is not a personal campaign of the HERALD's or its proprietor, please bear that in mind. It is one of great importance to Cass county, because it will determine whether dictation in nominations, and the sacrifice of all principles for the elevation of this man or the downfall of that one shall continue. That's the key note of the campaign, and not whether one man or the other can get a nomination. If any man gets a nomination by fair means, and the will of the people be ought to be supported, and otherwise he will not. Please bear these issues in mind.

It is not the greenback element of the new party that alone constitutes its danger. As long as it was confined to the demand for more greenbacks, as we understand greenbacks, and the assertion made that we need more money per capita, it was acquiesced in by many of the west; but when it adds to itself all the dangerous and uncertain elements in the community, it must retard prosperity, because it creates distrust. Money, just beginning to make its appearance in plenty at once hides its head. Enterprises of all kinds that require great outlay cease, and the end of the hard times is not yet.

OUR remarks about the Cass County Fair a short time since, have been misunderstood by some. We did not intend to say that the Fair should be held in this part of the county and supported by Plattsmouth and vicinity at all. We meant to state with regret the fact that as long as the feeling exists that does now, and the fair ground remains where it is, a county fair in its true, broad sense is impossible; necessarily, that Plattsmouth and vicinity should aid Mr. Young and others who have worked hard in the matter to make it as much of a success as possible.

REMEMBER the Republican Primaries are held Saturday, September 7th, one week from the coming Saturday. This election is a very important one for Cass county and the party. We urge upon all good citizens that they make it a point to attend these primaries, and see that none but the right kind of men are put on for delegates. This is the beginning and commencement of your campaign for good or evil. A mistake made at the primaries can seldom be rectified within the party, and has caused us to be beaten at the polls. See to it yourselves, citizens, that the men who really represent you, and wishes go to these conventions. Let no political wire-puller, no office seeker, and whippers in run these primaries. There are three sets of delegates to elect. The most important is to the State Convention, Oct. 1st. Then to the District and Flat conventions, and lastly, but not least, by any means, a County Representative ticket to be selected by the delegates whom you select to go to Weeping Water, at these primaries. The fellows that want to run things are abroad. The claps that think they carry Cass county in their pockets, and confidently tell our big men at Washington, and elsewhere that they can fix this and that, are itching to control this election for future use. Farmers, citizens, people, see to it that your honest wishes are not overborne by machinations and plots.

MAYOR HALE who tried to deed Beatrice away is a reformed drunkard, who under some of the late excitements was elected Mayor and the Express discourses very truly in this wise:

Andrew J. Hale, the principal in this attempted robbery, has been known as a dead-head, owning no property, and heavily in debt—worse off than nothing. He is a reformed drunkard, yet that is something that he might congratulate himself upon, first because no man ought to be a drunkard, and second because it is simply owing to that fact that he became Mayor of Beatrice; but he repays our people, who lifted him out of the gutter and invested him with the garb of mayorality, by betraying every trust reposed in him and entering into a conspiracy to defraud those who have given him a chance to rise in his profession and in the esteem of the people. He is also proprietor of the Beatrice Courier, (Got a paper to do dirt with we suppose), and we presume that his editorial jumping-jack will this week try to excuse him and make it appear that he has been a victim of the machinations of his co-partners in this disreputable transaction.

Colby comes in for a show too: Leonard W. Colby is an attorney at law and came to Beatrice about six years ago, the seediest looking lawyer that ever struck the town. He was poorer than a church mouse in this world's goods, but richer than a Croesus in his brass and self-esteem, and by dint of a steady application of these admirable qualities has become possessed of a pretty fair share of worldly possessions. He has been in politics, and any person who has anything about him knows that a more dishonest politician never button-holed the voters of this section of country. Through buying the whiskey influence and a newspaper, and appealing to the prejudices of the senatorial district to stand by party lines, he managed to draw his slimy carcass into the State Senate two years ago, but he is in the same boat with Hale—he repays his constituents with the basest ingratitude, and all the while grins a grin which would do credit only to His Satanic Majesty.

According to the St. Joe Gazette, the Nebraska candidate who has on their ticket one candidate who was in 1863 a member of the State Legislature, which recognized his peculiar talents by unanimously electing him a committee of one to revise the Lord's Prayer and amend the Ten Commandments. Captain Bogardus the champion wing-shot, gave an exhibition of glass-ball shooting at the fair grounds in Dayton, Ohio, breaking 947 balls in 21 minutes, and 36 in 10 minutes. This is the best shooting in that time on record. Bogardus left for Chicago this evening to take part in the tournament.

"We do not want any office-seekers in our party. The office should seek the man."

So a greenbacker said lately, and our word for it, that man wants an office. He is a representative character. If you hear a man talking about the office seeking, you may be sure that the man whom he would like to have the office seek, is himself. The truth is, the greenback party is offered by BOBBY H. BROWN, a great army of them marching down from the republican ranks to the greenback camp. It is some loss to lose their votes, but we must not let the party that gains their influence.

In 1873 the "Anti-Monopolists" threatened to sweep everything before them, and instantly the disaffected republican office-seekers took up the cry of Farmer's rights and every one of them became a "reformer." The result was that the new party became odious in the sight of the people. The same fate awaits the greenback party. The political elements that are gravitating towards it, clearly foreshadow its very speedy destruction.—Oscola Record.

Nebraska State Historical Society.

The undersigned, impressed with the importance of collecting and preserving in particular, such historical material as shall serve to illustrate the settlement and growth of the state of Nebraska, and knowing that much valuable to that end, is now being obtained from living tongues and pens of those familiar from organization, and which may be lost by further procrastination, adopt this method of securing the organization of a State Historical Society. We call on friends of the object in view throughout the State, to meet at the Commercial Hotel in the city of Lincoln, on Friday, the 29th of August, September twenty-fifth, 1878, for the purpose herein indicated.

ALVIN SAUNDERS, GEO. L. MILLER, A. S. PADDOCK, J. S. MOYTON, JOHN L. CARSON, J. C. LINCOLN, R. R. LIVINGSTON, W. R. ADAIR, D. H. WHEELER, J. L. EDWARDS, E. LOVE, E. M. CLARK, JOHN L. CARSON, G. C. HARTON, FRANK WELCH, E. H. ROGERS, ROBT. W. FURNAS, THOS. W. TIPTON.

This is the way they go for a politician in New York city:

A Cattery Depository. N. Y. Herald.

The late Julius Casar resembled Mr. Kelly's many respects, was personally honest, an able financial manager, a good judge of human nature, and he carried the whole Tammany Society of his day in his toga pocket.

There are some chaps in Cass county that would like to imitate the "late Julius Casar," in carrying things in their pockets, &c.

"Universal" A Candidate.

Major Davis, the greenback nominee for congress, is a brother-in-law of George Francis Train, and has in turn been a republican, democrat, independent and greenbacker. He is, however, widely known in Nebraska as "Mobbler" Davis, on account of his former connection and close relationship with that gigantic fraud, the credit mob.

AFTER quoting our article of two weeks ago, about our people running their own ticket without machine aid, the Clay Co. Sentinel says:

We are pretty confident that the people of Clay County, although they will stand by the party, mean to ignore any political tricks and intend to vote for the sole object of getting the best material we have to fill the offices left vacant this fall. The foundation of this matter lies with the primaries, and then with the county and state conventions.

MACMURPHY, "Tip-Top" of the Plattsmouth Herald, is in the city. Mac didn't tell us what his business was, but we would like to see his year old steers, to eat up the grain he expects to receive on subscription.—Journal.

We had one old rooster, and he starved to death on the corn brought in on subscription. We may buy steers but we will buy corn too, then.

SHUT 'EM UP.

Or You'll have to put your Scads up for Damages.

At last the patience of our people and of our worthy Mayor has reached a culminating point on one "pin" at least.

Mayor Johnson requested us to notify all persons that loose horses must be put up and especially kept off of Main Street. They reach into farmer's wagons, destroy every thing they can get hold of, cause drubbles and all the time.

THE HERALD called attention to this long ago, after seeing an old screw dross a package of sugar, a calico dress and a baby's rattle out on the ground. We wonder the matter has not been brought up more emphatically before this. Now the Mayor says there is an Ordinance, (what's that Mr. Mayor; never heard of one here?) and a fine and a penalty for letting stock run loose in the streets and that hereafter it will be enforced. "Do ye mind that," as MacD. might say.

We will further add that there is, was, and ought to be, said to be an Ordinance against hogs and cows running at large. If we can't fix up our sidewalks we can prevent loose stock from breaking up what there is, and the hogs—well its no use to talk about the hogs.

Further, we desire to say that we believe Mayor Johnson is trying to do his duty rightly and purely under the law, in this sidewalk business, with the aid of the Council, and that when he can see a way clear to improve them it will be done.

Mr. Brown, the Mind Reader.

Some of the little folks who had to go to bed early want to know what the above means and what the HERALD to tell them what Mr. Brown did.

Well, he claims that by some means, instinct, or an abnormal (get out your dictionary) development of certain faculties, he can tell what is passing in the mind of another person, provided said person fixes his own mind on one thing very intently. To prove this a knife was hidden in the audience and Mr. Brown blindfolded took the hider to the very man who had it. Captain Marshall thought out a route over the hall, that is, up the aisles and across at certain places, and Mr. Brown unerringly led him over the route he had mapped out for himself. Mr. Dovey thought of the initials of his father's name "W. D." and Mr. Brown picked them out from a string of letters he had on the stage. Just what this power is no one knows, that is a subject of dispute, some thinking it is all humbug, others that he has a wonderful power to read the thoughts of others. THE HERALD does not believe in any superstition, or supernatural business at all. Probably, persons of a very delicate organization and natural mesmeric powers can receive an impression from strong willed people in such a way as to enable them to make very shrewd guesses at what is passing at that moment through the mind, that in our opinion is all there is of mind reading at present. A committee of which Hon. S. M. Chapman was chairman was appointed the other evening, but no two of them would probably agree exactly as to how these acts are performed.
