That districting scheme was a nice one, but it wouldn't work, boys. If any of the names of the Candidates are not correct, please let us know at once.

We were at Louisville to see the pottery works last week and will write them up for next week.

Well Deacon, what do you think about it now. Has the Herald any friends? Never mind my boy, we hear no malice, you only want to live and learn.

The first man that brought the editor of this paper the news of the death of the lamented Lincoln, was the late Frank Welch, he then being a merchant in Bart County and a self-made farmer.

Lost—Our new Greenback Governor, L. G. Todd. For two weeks Cass county has missed him. Since writing the above, we learn from the Lincoln Journal that he was at the Barbecue at that place a week ago.

Now the Plattsmouth papers can cast their vision outward and away from themselves for a time—Omaha Evening News. Take a little of that, for home consumption, friend News, and then we'll talk to you.

The Republican Float Convention between this and Saunders County will meet at Ashland at one o'clock Tuesday, Oct. 8th.

REED BROS. Weeping Water, have built an addition to their store, just doubling the room, and have a very handsome Post Office department, and counting room between the two departments. Their building is now as large and about as handsome a store room as there is in Cass County.

G. W. Shrader, of Rock Bluffs, writes that the Cass County delegates will meet the Saunders County delegates at Ashland on Friday Sept. 20th, for the purpose of putting in nomination a candidate for float representative for the two counties. Let there be a full attendance of all the delegates—Ashland Reporter.

We think the Philadelphia Press cannot be much of a greenback organ, for it says: "The quickest way of killing a newspaper is to turn it into a greenback organ. Business men will not advertise in it, and people with good sound sense have not patience to read its silly sophistries. Since last March forty greenback papers in Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin have suspended."—Republican.

The Republican Convention.

We are very happy to state that the Republican convention at Weeping Water last Saturday passed off very pleasantly, and very agreeably to most of the real old-fashioned Republicans of this county, and some youngsters, and discontented people learned who and what the Republicans are in this county is really composed of.

It was supposed by many that the convention would end in a row, and a disorganization of the party, and many schemes and plots were laid for future aggrandizement, based on this view.

All these fine schemes are laid low for ever, we hope, and once more the party in its pristine purity, its real strength can stand forth and defy all opposition.

It is not possible to please all persons in making nominations for a number of equally good men, and it seemed as if our candidates grew, as our votes diminished lately. When such is the case every man that calls himself a true republican must put aside his personal preferences, his personal grievances, however just they may be, and work honestly and harmoniously to one end—mutual success.

A Little About Myself. Not much, I haven't time; the Fair and changes in the office have cut short the space, and employed me otherwise so that many things I had intended to say are left unsaid; it is purely a personal one between myself and Daniel H. Wheeler, to see who shall be the candidate of this county for the office of Secretary of State.

This is not true, and is only a portion of the difficulty, I want to say now, that I have no ill feeling to Mr. Wheeler, no personal quarrel to avenge. Life is too short, and satisfaction in this life and the next too certain—for all wrong doing—for any sensible man to entertain a system of revenges politically. No man or set of men can be untrue to the people long—nor defraud their constituents and lie and cheat and put up jobs in politics any length of time and not get found out and into history or into ignominy.

The "fight" here, as it has been called, was not my fight alone, was not a personal matter, it was for the people of the county, for the very life of the Republican party and for the existence of my newspaper and myself in the County. For the people, that they should not submit to dictation any longer, for the party, because I was told over and over that if certain measures were adopted, if certain men came to Convention and tried to control things, as before, the best Republicans in the county would vote some other ticket than the Republican. Why, I could have looked into the eyes of twenty men in that convention who had told me that unless the people were allowed to control their own nominations and their political affairs they would vote the democratic ticket.

In town they tried to crucify me between two fires, while asking me to support unpopular measures and men, they had not manhood enough to stand by me and give me their patronage, and sympathy and support, but under the guise of temperance and other side issues they proposed to leave me to be sacrificed and the best Republican paper they had in the County to be crushed out that a few men might still rule and be the great I—Am. It didn't pan, and it won't if a man only leaves his case to the honest people of this county. The heart of the people is right and in this case they stood by their own cause—not mine alone—manfully.

I hope the citizens of this town, the politicians of this town have learned a lesson. I have, if they have not. Hereafter, let us work and act together, let us build up the town and County. Cease our eternal local strife simply for the aggrandizement of this man and that man, this end of the town or that, and work together for the common good and it is the duty and right of every citizen to see that the men that will not do this shall not be elevated to power and place and privilege in this community.

God pity and help the poor fever stricken sufferers of the south, for He alone can do it! A temporary decrease of the fever, followed the cool weather of last week, but the present warm weather brings very nearly the same number of cases, and among its victims are the physicians and nurses who have saved others heretofore, by their untiring care and skill. Memphis, like Grenada, seems destined to be almost depopulated before the scourge leaves it. Among the victims who went to minister to the suffering, is Mrs J. M. Clark, of Omaha. The fever seems to be spreading into the suburbs, and with the force of men and physicians constantly decreasing, the scene is beyond description. Supplies are pouring in from every quarter, France having sent $6,000 as a first instalment, but still the need for more continues.

ARE there any Jo. Connor Republicans about town these days?

THE Co. Commissioners met again on Wednesday, and received a petition from Weeping Water asking that a new election be called on county-seat rather: the second election, claiming that there was fraud and illegal voting in Plattsmouth, to the extent of 150 votes. The Commissioners simply laid it on the table. We understand that this is only the first move towards a law-suit to settle the matter beyond cavil and dispute.

THE Greenbackers met at Weeping Water on Friday, the 13th, and nominated the following ticket: Senator—G. W. Shrader, of Rock Bluff.

Representatives—Frank Carruth, Plattsmouth; B. F. Allen, Centur; T. J. Willburn, Greenwood. Commissioner—J. S. Tewksberry, Weeping Water.

They promised us the minutes of the meeting but we have not seen them as yet. SOME of our wise "Chaps" are charging around with the statement that Capt. Palmer telegraphed about the County convention to the "Bee." Capt. denies the soft impeachment, and says he will give any of these enquiring fellows an order on the telegraph operator or any person they name for full showing of any and all letters or telegrams emanating or coming from him, and that he will pledge them to subscribe his name in full to all communications wherein they may be interested.

Our Candidates.

STATE SENATOR. Orlando Tefft, of Avoca, the Republican nominee for State Senator, is a man about 40 years of age, a farmer, living in Avoca precinct, at the Post Office of that name. He may have said to have been brought up in Cass County, his father Amas Tefft, Esq., being one of our oldest, most substantial and reliable citizens. Orlando is a man of very great general information, a great reader, and close student of events. Modest and unassuming, he has not pushed himself forward in public affairs, or his good strong common sense and real intelligence would have been felt in our political affairs here this. If elected, he will make a safe, honorable and able representative of the interests of the county.

REPRESENTATIVES. R. B. WINDHAM—Is a young lawyer residing in Plattsmouth. He came to Nebraska in '67, and cast his first vote in this county. Mr. Windham served as deputy County Clerk, for 3 years under Mr. Spurlock, then went into the real estate business and finally read law with Judge Maxwell and graduated at the Michigan University. He has been practicing law five years and is an industrious, energetic and sound lawyer. Windham served one campaign in the army in Tennessee, under Gen. Washburn, although a mere boy then. He was the unanimous choice of the convention and will receive a warm and cordial support from the people.

Jno. F. Polk is one of the staunchest men in Cass county. He was born in North Carolina in 1829. His father, B. H. Polk, moved to Henry County, Indiana, in 1841, and John F. came to Cass county in 1873, settling near Glendale, where he has a fine farm. Although a farmer now, Mr. Polk is a college graduate, a fair classical scholar, and has made school-teaching his vocation during many years of his life. He is also a good civil engineer, and if he don't know how to engineer his way, it will not be for lack of education. He stands high in his neighborhood, and is every way qualified to fill the position his friends ask for him. Elder Isaac Stone, is a resident of Greenwood precinct, about 61 years of age, and by profession a minister of the Baptist Church, although he is and has been a farmer for some years. Mr. Stone came here from Indiana; he bears a most excellent reputation among his neighbors, and his immediate friends who asked for his nomination were the most enthusiastic men we ever saw. If he runs as well outside of the Convention as he did in, he may count himself elected.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER. Samuel Richardson, of Eight Mile Grove, was nominated for County Commissioner, in the middle district. He is a man of mature age, a strong, conservative man of most excellent character and judgment. He is well known in the county, having lived here 17 years on the same farm, and although active in public affairs, has never been a candidate before. He was a chair-maker in his early life, but came to Cass county and settled on the farm where he now lives. If the people really want public men of character to hold their offices, they should encourage such men as Mr. Richardson to come forward and take part in public affairs.

Taken all in all it is a good ticket, it is well distributed over the county, the men are sound, reliable men all through and if ever a ticket was made by the people, that ticket was. No charge of rig, manipulation, or fraud can be made, and any Republican that won't vote it now, will refuse from pure cussedness, and because he don't want to vote for Republicans at all. It should receive the honest support of every Republican in the county.

Weeping Water Items. The Lincoln association which met here last week was somewhat embarrassed by the absence of Rev. J. B. Chase. Mr. Chase was chairman of the Association, and at the time the association decided to come here, acting pastor of the Congregational church. The association met to find that Mr. Chase had left though he had not left any one to attend to those duties which naturally devolved upon him. However the association soon organized and proceeded to business. Among the delegates were Gates the State agent; Collier, of Neb. City; Gregory, of Lincoln; Prof. Perry, of Crete; Dfinbacher and wife, of Louisville; Mutton of Neb. City; and many others. During the association Deacon Beach had Mutton for breakfast, and Mutton for dinner, and Mutton for supper.

Ed. Ashman is at present running with a threshing machine. John Levett aged seventy-two years died last Friday, his funeral took place Sunday in the Methodist church. The Greenback convention which met here last Friday was decidedly thin compared with the republican convention on Saturday. It seems to me that the majority of those attending the Greenback convention ought to have gone to school more when they were little boys.

The singing in the Methodist choir has greatly improved under the management of R. S. Wilkinson as chorister. The Congregational S. S. last Sunday raised two dollars for the relief of yellow fever sufferers in the South. LITTLE.

A Disease That Should be Properly Investigated. A correspondent from Plattsmouth, says: For about a year five of my horses have been almost totally unable to work, and while discharging freely at the nose. They have not lost flesh, but principally, strength. I am told they are suffering from gleet. If you will, in your next weekly Inter Ocean, give name and treatment of the disease you will greatly oblige.

Reply—To say the least, it looks very suspicious to have five horses, inhabitants of the same stable, all suffering with a nasal discharge of over a year's standing. Nasal-gleet is not a contagious disease, but the facts in the case lead us to conclude that the disease under consideration is contagious, and may possibly be glanders. I. O.

The above having opened a strictly TEMPERANCE BILLIARD HALL, on Main St., in the STADELMANN BUILDING invite their friends and patrons of the kind to come in and see them. Windham, of Plattsmouth, 91 votes; Jno. F. Polk, of Eight Mile Grove, 76 votes, and Isaac Stone, of Greenwood, 63 votes; total number of votes cast 106; necessary to choice 54. Richardson having received a majority of all the votes cast was declared the nominee and on motion his nomination was made unanimous. D. D. Johnson withdrew his name after the second ballot.

A motion made to select the ten delegates from the commissioner districts, each district selecting their men was tabled and a motion to proceed to select ten delegates to the State Convention was carried. Horses kept for Sale or to Trade. HORSES TRAINED AND BROKE. ALSO

We desire to give notice that we have a large, handsome brick barn, with plenty of room for horses and wagons. I can put farmers stock and wagons, loads of grain or anything all under cover, in the dry. Remember this. Thanking all old patrons for their many favors, we solicit their trade for the future, and wish we can accommodate them better and do better by them than ever before.
