

J. A. MACMURPHY, EDITOR
PLATTSMOUTH, NOV. 7, 1878.
SHAKE!
WIERIE'S Frye?
We Polk-ed 'em.
Be Frank about it!
HURRAH for Nance!
STONE draws heavy!
STOVE Creek looms up.
HOW'd you feel about it?
We took the Major(s) part.
WHAT'S on the nest now?
BEAR it with patience, boys.
Good morning Governor Nance!
"Bob," how about that majority?
W. W. went short on Wind(ham)!
COHN may be down; but Cobb is up!
We Cobbed 'em and corn(er)ed 'em, both.
You might Cumins(s) some other time.
THE Greenback was Doomed—to death.
WATSON carries the county by fair majority.
THE Root of this—Dovey's soap story at Greenwood!
THAT Cobb had a good many "Kernels" on it Tuesday.
We left the corn off our Cobb, but can't make Toddy's of it.
GREGORY had a plurality of 250 in Saunders, but he is behind here more than enough to prevent his Election.
TOM SMITH of Rock Bluffs says he came to town yesterday to attend the funeral of the defunct Candidates.
JOHNATHAN, George and Isaac were pleasant (fellows) and lovely in their lives, and in their death they were not divided.
Mr. Vandeman of Ashland, our next Float Representative was here Saturday and most of our folks took a likin' to him.
THE Omaha Herald says of all the mixed up masses of trash that ever came out of a ballot box, their tickets Tuesday, was the worst.
HER cheeks were very ruddy, and the streets were awfully muddy, and she loudly shrieked, "Oh, thunder!" and her feet flew out from under. It was really very shocking, for she showed a striped stocking.—Ex.
Mr. Thurston and Mr. Tefft were in town Saturday. We were going to pay both gentlemen a compliment but we guess the vote on Mr. Tefft Tuesday will do it for us and Thurston looked out for himself Monday night.
THE Viall trial is closed and the jury found "Not Guilty." The missing link in the chain of circumstantial evidence was in not being able to trace the arsenic to the possession of Viall, and in the expression, Chapman making a mistake in identifying the prisoner.
THE election is over, the result at this writing is hardly known, but of one thing we may rest assured, that the financial question has been pretty thoroughly discussed and the nation will have better and safer theories of finance than before, let the result be what it may for this election. When the excitement is over, the hunt for office and all the minor motives that induce men to vote for this scheme or that scheme to promote their own private ends, the masses of thinking men will sit down and calmly review the situation and at once put their veto on any further nonsense about the currency question. If resumption brings the stability and the business we think it will, the laboring man, the man who works for wages, that our political friends have been so careful of for the last few months, will find that the purchasing power of his money is his real wealth, and not the amount he receives per day. The demagogues and blatherers who have been fattening at some poor candidate's expense will return to their homes if they have any and the voice of the brawler will be heard no more in the land—until next election.
Home Manufacture—The Louisville Pottery.
Mr. B. S. Ramsey brought us, on Tuesday a very fine Jar, from the Louisville Pottery in this county. It is a three gallon jar of very excellent style and finish, and pronounced by Mr. Dovey, an old Pottery man, as good as anybody's jar.
It is from the first burning of the oven, and hereafter we may expect to be supplied with Jugs, Jars, Pans, Crocks, Flower pots and all such ware from our home manufactory. In time we know and feel that handsome and costly ware will be made there, and as we are satisfied that the Clay is of superior quality and can be utilized for almost any purpose. At our earliest opportunity we shall write up our notes of the famous Pottery of L. We only make this short notice of it because it may get the benefit of our 400 extra circulation in this issue. We shall keep this first Jar—if it does not get broke—as long as any family Jar can be kept and remember it as the first of its kind in Cass County.

VICTORY!!
HOIST THE FLAG—GET OUT THE ROOSTER!

REPUBLICANS VICTORIOUS EVERYWHERE!
THE STATE CARRIED BY A LARGE MAJORITY!
CASS COUNTY REPUBLICAN ALL OVER!
Election is over; Glad of it. The day was fair except a little shower in the afternoon. The vote was the same, fair with a large sprinkling of stay at home, that is to say it is light all over the county, only 453 votes in Plattsmouth. The vote in the precinct South Bend and other places heard from is very light.
The news is too good to believe. In Massachusetts Butler is reported 30,000 behind, in New York, Conkling and the Republicans win by big majorities, and to use John Kelley's own expression, we have won all along the line. We cannot attempt to give details at this time, but if the despatches are to be believed we have gained more or less of a victory in New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, St. Louis, Mo., New Hampshire, West Virginia, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey.
At home the State ticket is Republican by from 8 to 12,000 and may run up more. The returns in Cass county and from adjoining counties will be found elsewhere. The following telegrams give an idea of "how the old thing worked."
Boston.—All the republican candidates for state officers are elected.
Boston, 5.—The Journal claims Butler is defeated by 40,000.
Harris is elected to congress in the Second district by a majority. Butler carried the cities generally. In 98 towns Talbot's majority is 10,255. Leopold Morse is conceded to be elected from the Fourth district to congress.
New York, 6. 5 a. m.—The election in this city resulted in a sweeping victory for the people in their battle against Tammany hall and the power of John Kelley. Edward Cooper majority is fully 20,000.
NEBRASKA CITY, 6. 6 a. m.—Otoe sends greeting to all the world that she is henceforth and forever sound to the core. The State ticket has a majority of three hundred and the county of one hundred and fifty to two hundred. Van Wyck is probably elected.
LINCOLN, 5.—The greenback vote in this section of the State is insignificant. Lincoln gives the state and county tickets 425 majority, and the majority in the county will reach 600. The republican majorities so far as heard from are, Crete, 113; Fairmount 100; Sutton 40; Juniata 50; Wilber 40. York county is estimated at 400 republican majority.
OMAHA, 5.—The Republican State ticket will have a small majority in Douglas county with the exception of Judge Cobb and E. K. Valentine.
We shall not attempt to make comment on our vote this week, we will sit down and calmly review the situation and at once put their veto on any further nonsense about the currency question. If resumption brings the stability and the business we think it will, the laboring man, the man who works for wages, that our political friends have been so careful of for the last few months, will find that the purchasing power of his money is his real wealth, and not the amount he receives per day. The demagogues and blatherers who have been fattening at some poor candidate's expense will return to their homes if they have any and the voice of the brawler will be heard no more in the land—until next election.

News from Omaha.
The Republicans elected Chas. Count, Senator, and Plumbeck, Burns, Gaylord, Bennett and Benson, House. C. H. Brown on democratic and liquor dealers ticket elected to Senate. Kennedy and Gibson, nominated by democrats and temperance party, elected to House. Knight, Rep., commissioner, elected. State Ticket, Republican except Howe and Davis.
The B. & M. Machine Shops.
In addition to the business houses mentioned in this issue of the paper, the B. & M. machine shops at this place are no small affair. Two large brick buildings, a great number of smaller frame buildings, and a substantial brick Round House, with twenty stalls. They employ about 250 men, and pay out monthly $10,000 in wages. It is currently supposed that enlargements to the buildings and an increased force of men will come within another year and probably a bridge across the Missouri River.
About Indians.
It is gratifying to learn from the commander of the main operations that he "now knows where the Indians are, and can begin to operate intelligently." Considering that the Indians have been moving all this time in the midst of a country studded with forts which cost the country about six million dollars a year to maintain, and which absorb from twenty to thirty companies of infantry and cavalry to occupy them, it seems rather strange that he has not been able to find out the whereabouts of their enemies.
—New York Sun.
If there is one thing more than another that a New York Editor knows anything about, it is Indians and the Western Country. The above is from the New York Sun, the Editor of which, to read his paper, could redeem the world, make a new planetary system and improve on all the works of the Great Creator and the Father of this Country—but Indians is his best "holt." Every man West knows when and where the Indians traveled in their last raid, every man West knows the distances and the number of forts. In view of this—"studied with Forts"—the New York Editor's head is stuffed with brains in about the same proportion.
Cook Books.
BY MRS. HENRY WARD BEECHER.
Among the many requests for advice or suggestions which are received from young housekeepers are and answered as fast as practicable is one desiring advice as to the best cook book that one just beginning housekeeping can select.
A few years ago this would have been a difficult question to answer, because the market was flooded with dissatisfied with most books of that kind, and object to each one for different reasons. The number of volumes which are before the public, under the various titles of "Domestic Economy" and "Model Cookery," hints to young housekeepers, etc., etc., are past enumerating. Some of these are excellent; some are nearly perfect in special departments as is possible; some are suitable only for the rich or those who delegate domestic care to hired help, employ foreign cooks, and eat what is set before them, and for those who have the table books gentle and each course is served with appropriate embellishment and in fashionable order.
The best of these books is no end. This certainly is true in domestic and household literature. The numbers of cook books and domestic cyclopedias are rapidly multiplying, and of a character which is not to be compared with those which, until a few years, were the standard guides for housekeepers.
The great difficulty with our earlier cook books was that they presented a style of cookery so unlike that which could be of much service in common every day life, that only here and there could one select a receipt that was satisfactory. Now, all were either too rich or too far above the comprehension of a young and inexperienced housekeeper.
The Home Cook Book we find good, sensible suggestions and advice, and most excellent and reliable receipts, contributed by some of the best housekeepers our country supplies.
The directions are simple, concise and easily understood, not above the most experienced nor beneath the notice of those who are experts in the art of cooking.
The Home Cook Book offers a great variety of dishes, the simplest, as well as those dishes which are sure to find favor in the most elegant entertainments. Yet all are easily understood and especially reliable, coming as they do, endorsed by many of our most experienced housekeepers.
A cook, with any degree of skill, or with good common sense, may be safely trusted to cater for a family, in the absence of the mistress, if guided by the counsels of the Home Cook Book.
Selling foods.
"It is a very common remark that good salesmen are born, not made. I believe it true. But it does not mean that a man is born a good salesman; only that what makes him efficient in that line is born in him. There are peculiar natural qualities needed to make a good salesman, and if a man does not have these he had better turn his attention to some other branch, for he can not succeed here. Yet two men who are equally good salesman, may be almost totally unlike; almost, mind you; they must be good judges of human nature. How shall you become a good judge of human nature? You might as well ask me why the violets are blue; I cannot tell you.
"You need to know human nature because you must please the person with whom you are talking; must make a pleasant impression on him. We do not trade with a disagreeable person unless we are obliged to; we often buy articles we do not expect to purchase just because the man who waited on us was pleasant. Every good salesman is one who does just this; he makes himself agreeable to the person he is waiting upon, so that if he does not sell him more than he intended to buy, he sells him all he expected to purchase, and sends him away with a pleasant impression of the salesman. Do not misconstrue my phrase, "make himself agreeable;" perhaps he has been making himself agreeable to some young lady, and think the same tactics you used with her are to be brought into play in the store. You could not make a greater mistake.

"When a person enters the store he or she should be met with respectful politeness; not the pigeon wing flourish you make in the ballroom, when the prompter calls salute partners, but a salutation that dignifies the person you addressed. Don't chatter like a parrot with "What can I show you?" or, "What is it, sir?" as if you wanted him to push forward his business as rapidly as possible. Be in as much hurry as you please yourself, but never hurry your customer unless you know he or she will bear it. Do not volunteer advice about what they shall buy; if you have what they ask for, get it for them, and while you are getting it, if you have something that is as good for less money, or better for the same money, mention it, and tell of its merits, and people will give you a better hearing if they see you have the thing they asked for; if they did not see this they would think you were out of it and were trying to get them to decide on something else just because you could not give them the article they wanted.
"Never joke unless you are sure of your customer; never volunteer a remark unless you are sure the customer will be pleased. Men often pass for being wise simply because they keep their lips closed, and many merchants get rich by keeping silent. If you volunteer a remark bear in mind that what you are aiming at is not to show your own smartness or brilliancy, but to please your customer, and let everything you say have this end in view. Don't get into any argument of any kind or on any subject in your store; every customer has a right to his opinions, and if you cannot agree with him in all he says you will find something in his views or creed that you can agree with, and you can make the most of it. What a pity that this spirit cannot be carried with us out of our stores, and that each of us does not go through life searching for that upon which all might agree rather than quarrel and bicker over the points of difference."—Extract from "On the Road to Riches."
