The Elder Miller and the younger newspaper men of Lincoln and Omaha are having a round on transcendentalism, religion, test oaths, &c. How MacDonald would enjoy this if he were alive (in Neb.), and help go for R. N. Miller; only mix a little temperance in now, and you've got a good pot to boil.

WASHINGTON telegrams report the feeling between the hard-money democrats and the Western and Southern infantilists as becoming very bitter. The more conservative men, like Thayer, Pendleton, McDonald and Wallace, are kept very busy attempting to reconcile all differences and keep solid front to the enemy. But in the present state of feeling the task is not easy.

We had a conversation the other day with a Republican who was a red hot Greenbacker last fall, and in the course of his remarks he said: "I was a Greenbacker last fall, but I am not now. The action of the Democrats and Greenbackers in Congress has disgusted me. Their silly howl about no troops at the polls is enough to disgust anybody. The federal troops have never yet prevented any man from voting as he pleased, and the course pursued by the majority leads me to believe that their object is to carry the next Presidential election by fraud and intimidation."—Globe-Journal.

RETURNING from church, Sunday evening near Factoryville, the drivers of two wagons, filled with boys and girls got to racing. The head wagon, driven by young Girard, upset and threw his load out. The other team was so close before it could be pulled up it ran over the girls and injured severely Miss Belle Girard, Ella Girard and Lottie Carroll, Miss Belle Girard, fatally. They were carried to Hugh McTearney's house and attended by Dr. Wallace.

Hurray, hurrah! the day has come. The bridge at last has carried. Bring on the wine and low-sake too, For very long we all have tarried.

A LITTLE group of citizens were discussing the whereabouts of the next National Republican Convention, the other day. Chicago had the majority, though St. Louis found a voice or two.

Had Omaha any decent hotel accommodations we would have suggested that point.

A PARTY of visitors attended the exercises at the Deaf & Dumb Asylum, Omaha, the other day. This is what the third grade mutes wrote on the black-board:

1 A man was afraid of a large lion. 2 A man was led a nice pony. 3 Boys like to put in a bag. 4 A boy was pick upon a tall tree. 5 A large man was asleep on a bed. 6 A cow likes to eat milk us. 7 A woman was made of a new dress. 8 A little girl was changed of a new dress. 9 Sometimes foxes was caught and killed chickens.

Odd or Even. A female book agent caused the publication in the Sacramento Bee of the death of one Geo. W. Bruff. Now, Bruff was not dead, and appealed to the Bee to restore him to life.

The Bee found the woman, who explained that Bruff owed her and had fixed a day when he would pay if he was alive; as he did not pay she concluded he was dead, and so published him in the Bee. Bruff and the Bee people are angry; everybody else laughs.

The Late Rains, Crop Prospects, &c. Farmers say the late rains have helped the wheat after all, for while the straw will be short, the heads are going to fill. Corn looks splendid and unless a hail or some accident prevents there will be an immense crop.

Failure of Ohio Crops. Associated Press Dispatch. CLEVELAND, June 13.—The Leader this morning publishes reports from nearly all the important points in northern Ohio and some places in western Pennsylvania, giving the condition of crops. The frosts of last week did very little damage. There will be about a two-thirds crop of wheat. The prospects are that the corn crop will be a failure. The cause of which is the long dry weather which prevailed in this region previous to last week. Oats are somewhat better than corn, though not over a two-third crop. The hay crop will be very light, on account of the drought. There will probably be a fair yield of potatoes. Fruits, particularly apples, will be very light.

The Appropriation Bills. THE SUPPLEMENTAL BILL. Special Telegram to The Inter Ocean. WASHINGTON, June 13.—What is known as the supplemental appropriation bill making provision for the courts and the judicial branch of the government, was passed today by the senate, and will go to the President who will veto it because it contains what has once been vetoed, namely: The repeal of the test oath for jurors, and changes the law with reference to the drawing of juries, a virtual nullification of the election laws.

TO-MORROW THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL. will be taken up the last of three, and it will be disposed of before adjournment on Wednesday, so that Congress can adjourn on Friday, except for the veto, and the Democrats say it will adjourn on that day whether or no. In case they do adjourn without providing for the courts THE PRESIDENT WILL CALL ANOTHER EXTRA SESSION FORTHWITH.

The W. C. T. U. will meet this (Thursday) afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Schildknecht at 3 o'clock.

The Juvenile Templars will hold an open meeting to which parents and friends of the members are invited, next Friday evening.

The Red Ribbon Club will be addressed next Monday evening by Prof. Woolley, and a member of the W. C. T. U.

The Temperance organizations of the city will unite in a grand rally on the 4th of July, for which good speaking and good music will be provided. Further details next week.

The Rev. Mr. Marquett delivered an interesting and excellent address at the Red Ribbon meeting on Monday night, as proof of the growing strength and popularity of the Temperance reformation, he read resolutions adopted by late Brethren's Convention, claiming that the substituting of malt, for spirituous liquors would advance the cause of Temperance. The speaker advised Mr. Dovey to add the "Brewer's temperance society" to the list which he read at the opening of the meeting.

We received the following item from South Bend for our column: Sunday, June 8th Mrs. B. Spruick of Plattsmouth addressed a large congregation of the citizens of South Bend. Her address received the closest attention, and the speaker's eyes gave evidence that the awakened ears had given the sympathies of her heart.

Good seed was sown. The Pastor, Rev. Horace A. Ewell will preach upon temperance, June the 23d, (Sunday night) "Come over into Macedonia and help us!"

[CONTINUED.] For "God, Home and Native Land," those words are significant and have a deep meaning. May God help us to teach our husbands, brothers and sons to give to us just what they require of us: sobriety, honesty, modesty and purity.

The work of the W. C. T. U. is too well understood to need much explanation. Never was there a time when so much was required at Woman's hands; when we had such need of strong earnest hearts. Roused by the crashing power of the enemy of her home, she has come forth to battle, looking to God for direction, wisdom and strength, never to cease, until the last stronghold of the enemy is swept away.

Maine. The Druggists' Liquor Bill, which has again been before the Legislature, and pressed by its friends as an entering wedge against the prohibitory law, has suffered an ignominious defeat. It was recently "indefinitely postponed" by the House by the decisive vote of 127 to 21.

A bill for the repeal of the Prohibitory Law of Vermont was defeated in the Lower House of the Legislature by a vote of 163 to 64.

Noble Sentiments. As the late Maj. Gen. Dix advanced in years he began to appreciate the evils of intemperance. Shortly before his death he wrote the annexed business note to agents in Chicago, who had charge of some real estate owned by the General in that city. We should be glad to publish similar letters from several thousand men who are renting buildings in which alcohol is sold. We wish that every rumrunner's land-fol would read this message and follow the ex-Governor's example:

"I am very glad you have allowed the Woodlawn house to remain vacant, instead of renting it for the sale of spirituous liquors. I would rather let it remain vacant to the end of time than to have it rented for such a purpose. I consider rum the cause of nine-tenths of all the murders, poverty and crime in the country; and no earthly consideration would induce me to contribute in the remotest manner to its sale. JOHN A. DIX.

That the perils of travel by railway and steamer are greatly enhanced by strong drink there is no room for doubt. The Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad has lately adopted a rule which will add very materially to the safety of those who have occasion to travel over it, and also, we doubt not, to the business prosperity of the company. An order, officially promulgated March 31, which shall become effective, or who shall be known to enter drinking saloons for the purpose of obtaining liquor, will be promptly dismissed from the service. Any person now in the service of the company who cannot consistently comply with this order is respectfully requested to resign." This is a praiseworthy precedent which every railway company in the country should follow, both from business and economic considerations, and as a means of greater security for the traveling public.

THE TURF FIELD AND FARM, New York, gives our view of the Omaha races exactly. We reproduce their letter:

OMAHA, Neb., May 30, 1879. The peripatetic Splan, with his string of famous horses came down upon us "like the wolf on the fold," but hastily under the light of last night's silvery moon he "folded his tents, like the Arabs, and as quietly stole away."

His visit has not been a success, either in the amount of western wealth transferred to his purse, or in the amount of satisfaction he afforded to our people. Still there is no denying that, without his horses, the Spring meeting of the Omaha Driving Association would have been a remarkably tame affair. The only satisfactory work done by any of his horses was by Adelaide yesterday, when she won the "free for all," making her best mile in 2:20, after losing the first two heats in 2:30, 2:35, &c. The attempts of Splan and Colonel "Red" Harris' best time on this track (2:19) were most disgraceful failures, the best time made in the five heats being 2:23 1/2 by Sweetie. Harris was advertised to trot against time, to beat the best time ever made on a half track, but Splan claims that he had hurt his foot, and was not fit to compete. He protested against "Splan" on the track, and allowed to trot a few times around, making one-half mile in 1:31, but many who came from a distance accused him of "Rarus the King" (as the program reads), were grievously disappointed, but they were rewarded by the sensational occurrences of yesterday afternoon, when every body protested against everybody else, and horses were set back and heats declared dead with an equality that quite took the wind out of the sails of the quiet Eastern manner of judging races. I looked around to see some Western "Colonel Rynders" rise up and threaten coming in from a high stand and whip every driver on the track if they did not attend to business. Then in addition to these wordy collisions between drivers and judges, collisions between sulks and collisions between runaway horses were not wanting. In the second heat of the 2:30 trot, Little Frank ran into Philo's sulky and overturned it, throwing the driver out of his seat, and the horse quickly resolved himself into a running race, and a lively time for a few turns around the track, and running into several carriages before he could be checked. The driver was somewhat bruised and scratched, but not seriously hurt. Philo's sulky was not injured. Little Frank cut his leg slightly, and tired himself in the runaway, and was not again brought on the track. During the second heat of the running race Lamartine collided with Beachcomber, upsetting his rider, who fell heavily to the ground and received a severe kick from the heels of the vicious brute.

D. 1879.

California farmers complain that all agricultural enterprise in that State is unprofitable, because labor is higher now than fifteen years ago.

Western Nebraska and North Western Kansas.

June 16th, 1879.

ED. HERALD.—Having received many inquiries from my friends in Cass and western Neb. and Northwestern Kansas, I have decided to scribble you a few lines, hoping a letter from an old friend and reader of your paper will be welcome.

It is no exaggeration to pronounce this country as left by the hand of nature most beautiful. The forest is restricted to narrow fringes along the streams the courses of which are thus defined as far as the eye can reach, while all between is a broad expanse of meadow lands, carpeted with a rich green verdure, wearing the appearance of a graded lawn. This may well be called the rolling prairie because the land's rise and falls in gentle swells which probably attain an elevation of from thirty to fifty feet, and then gradually descending to the level. It seems almost impossible for any country to excel this in varied charms of pastoral scenery. The prairie is covered with beautiful wild flowers; that would do justice to the finest flower garden in the world. During our rambles we have never grown weary of sight seeing. "The smile of God rests upon this lovely land and everlasting benediction." A few days ago, we visited in Rooks Co., Kansas, a colony from Cass Co. Although they have been in their new homes a little over a year, we find them contented, prosperous and happy. There is very little Government land east of Red Willow Co. yet untaken and in Kansas very little east of Graham Co.

The prospect for crops are good although rain is needed in western Kansas at this time. The school system in western Kansas is hardly equal to that of western Nebraska, and the towns of Neb. excel those of Kansas both in neatness and size, but the time will not be long till western Kansas and western Nebraska become prominent parts of their respective states. Respectfully, HOWARD.

DEBT, poverty and suffering, haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.—A Workingman.

THE FAVORITES IN THE CONCERT HALL. During the Season of 1875-1876 the Henry F. Miller Piano was used in London and vicinity in more than 125 Concerts.

THE HIGHEST PRAISE. From the Most Eminent Musicians.

OF late I have had many opportunities of using your Piano-Forte in my family, and I can say with confidence that it is a perfect instrument. As an accompaniment for the voice, it is superior to any other I have used.

Madame Howe and the other artists of my company are delighted with the "Miller" Piano for its rich purity of tone, and the wonderful manner in which it sustains the voice.

In behalf of the Harmonic Concert Company, and particularly myself as the member of said company, I wish to express my thanks for the beautiful tone of your Piano-Forte, with which you have furnished us so far this season. With your fine instruments, our concert giving becomes a positive pleasure and delight, "so say we all of us."

I consider no other "make" with which I am acquainted, can excel in any of the qualities that constitute a perfect instrument. As an accompaniment for the voice, I know of no one who would prefer to yours.

I take great pleasure in recommending the Henry F. Miller Piano on all occasions where a first-class piano is desired.

I have known the Pianos manufactured by Mr. Henry F. Miller for many years, and I do not hesitate to say that they take high rank among the first-class instruments of any of the best makers.

I consider the Miller Piano superior to all others in that useful and striking quality so acceptable for voice accompaniment.

We were delighted with the Pianos of your manufacture which we used during our recent tour in the United States, their clear, healthy qualities rendering them especially desirable for accompanying the human voice.
