GOOD COMPANY. Number Ten.

Ellen W. Olney contributes the leading story in Good Company, Number Ten.

Another contribution tells of "isms" in a place which is given to them.

Dear Sir: I have now read the article so kindly sent me...

During the last few months Germany has made considerable advances in the iron trade.

"Oh, come down, for heaven's sake!" she cried. "The back part of the house is safe from cellar to roof, inside."

"Go down!" he cried to me, as he sprang past me.

There are in London now two Japanese princes, the first children of the "magic land" who have ever visited England.

I smiled. I was very glad.
