State Platform of the Republican Party. 1. The Republicans of Nebraska most heartily endorse the profession of principles formulated by the national republican convention at Chicago.

2. We affirm that the doctrine of national sovereignty is the fundamental principle upon which the perpetuity of the nation rests, and that the principle of home rule as enunciated by the democratic party is but the cautious expression of the Calhoun doctrine of state rights.

3. We regard the recent seizure of the polls and wholesale robbery of the franchise of the republican citizens of Alabama, by the democratic officials, surpassing in the magnitude and atrocity of the crime, all former efforts of their party under the Federal plan in New York, or the Mississippi plan in the south, as a fair specimen of democratic methods, and a forcible demonstration of the national government's failure to enforce the laws of the constitution.

4. We have considered what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive, and have determined to employ our best energies in preventing the seizure of the national government by their living nominees through the frauds of a "solid south."

5. We congratulate the people of the state upon their rapid increase of population and wealth, and upon the good measure of prosperity that has rewarded their labor; upon the rapid upbuilding of our material interests since the success of our national government; and upon the success of our national government in the restoration of the Union.

6. We pledge our support to such legislation in congress, and such measures by state legislatures as may be necessary to effect a correction of abuses, and prevent extortionate discrimination in charges by railroad corporations.

Riding at the Star Vice President. In answer to the assertion that Arthur was a corrupt man, the New York Sun, a bitter anti-Garfield paper says: "He is a man of character, and it is a pity the Republicans had not placed his name at the head of its ticket, with Ben Harrison of Ind. for V. P. They would then have had a ticket that needed no apology."

The Flat Convention. Met at Ashland Saturday, the 25th, pursuant to call. J. H. McKinnon of Cass, was nominated on the second formal ballot, for representative from the 50th district. "Mere power to you Joe." Our ticket is now full, let us see that no name is scratched and no man beat on this republican ticket this fall.

The "Herald" Almanac with Cuts from the Aldine Printing House. We expect this winter to furnish our readers with a beautiful Almanac, not the vulgar coarse thing usually sent around as a gift but a beautiful book, fit to lay on the centre table all times, and a thing of beauty at all times. The pictures and cuts are from the celebrated Aldine publishing house, New York. A few advertisements allowed.

We have received the Life and Public Services of James A. Garfield, by Bundy, a very valuable work, which we recommend to young republicans to read. Sec'y. WHEELER has not returned from Omaha as yet, but our Sec'y. Wise says there will be a County Fair next week. Somebody has got to take hold and work if they do.

MR. THURSTON'S speech yesterday evening was very good indeed. A large turnout greeted the gentleman, and all went home satisfied and pleased. The guards made a fine display, many of our older members being out last night.

In order to give the homesteaders, and others, work this winter where they need it, the B. & M. R. Co. have determined to push their road 30 miles further west from Indianola, at once, and the grading is about to be let accordingly. This will make up somewhat for loss of crops and no work this summer.

BLACKBURN of Kentucky, made a speech at Batavia, Ohio, the 20th, and said: "Let the radicals howl about a solid south. She is solid, thank God. She was solid for Jeff Davis in 1860, and we will be solid for Hancock in 1880." "When we are in we will have all we want. We will wipe out the Free Trade."

Bro. Hayes—President Hayes we mean, don't you hear the song of conciliation and brotherly love swelling from southern throats and throbbing in southern hearts.

THE Democratic State Convention met yesterday at Hastings. We have not the results in time for this paper. Whoever they may nominate, however, we may expect a heap of loud talk, many charges of corruption, and the usual republican majority. When the Democrats can show works and deeds meet for repentance they may convince the people that they are the party to govern this state, but not before.

Insane howling about taxes, they have bawled to make and blind opposition to every forward move of the masses will never carry a party into power while free newspapers exist.

The editor of the Plattsmouth Courier speaks in rather plain terms to the future democratic candidates in Cass county by saying "the candidate who receives the valuable support of his paper has got to pay for the same." We call that business, but we trust the proprietor of the Courier will let the boys down easy. Democratic papers have to support the ticket to the best of their ability, as we understand it, and such candidates as have means can assist the printer if they see fit, and generally they do; but such candidates as have not the means are entitled to just as heavy a support as he that pays for the same. We are at a loss to understand what the editor of the Plattsmouth Courier is driving at with his double-shotted and rather plain editorial.—Lincoln Democrat.

You wouldn't be if you lived here long. The Independent Republican Committee of New York have published an address in which they enumerate their reasons for supporting the Republican Presidential ticket. They can find nothing positive in the Democratic programme, and nothing in the party's use of its power in Congress to justify the expectation that it will interest itself in any vital political or economic question. "Even its hereditary doctrine of free-trade has so little hold upon it that, after five years of opportunity, it has left tariff-reform still untouched." As the political system was a Democratic invention, so "the hope of spoil is the stimulus of the Democratic campaign." The party "rings change merely for the sake of change, dwelling upon abuses which occurred many years ago, and have, for the most part, ceased to exist."

Its refusal to allow legislation demanded by the Constitutional amendments; the mode in which the south has met the dilemma of an ignorant and indigent suffrage; the fear that Hancock's election will "secure the fact that the war ended in a conquest, not a compromise," his inferior civil capacity as compared even with President Grant's, are so many additional objections to lending countenance to the Opposition. Finally, the charges against General Garfield are unsubstantiated, and cannot effect his "long, honorable, faithful, and conscientiously useful public career." The Committee announce their continued existence, and call for further contributions in support of their work.—Nation.

Our old Commander, Gen'l Kilpatrick, has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of his district in New Jersey. LANCASTER County took the $550 premium for the best county display at the State Fair in Omaha. Remember that. A son of ex-Gov. Williams, of Ind., Douglas Williams, was shot by Ed Hogan in a bawdy, at Vincennes, while sitting in a girl's lap. ST JULIAN was foaled 1869, bred in New York. Is by Volunter, dam by Cerning's Harry Clay, 3d dam, a cream colored mare, unknown pedigree.

THE M. E. Conference meets at Neb. City this week. The brethren are all expected to be there. As soon as the preachers in Cass can get through marrying folks, they are going down. OUR new Almanac this year, an entire novelty is wanted by every one. It will be beautifully illustrated and is one of the prettiest Holiday presents we could give our readers or that a friend could give a friend.

THE third annual Convocation of the Episcopal church commenced at Lincoln Tuesday. Brother Burgess is down for an address, we see.

THE Republicans opened the campaign with a grand boom last night. Over fifty prominent speakers orated throughout the state. A SOLID SOUTH. Blackburn Accurately Quoted.

[Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat.] Congressman J. C. S. Blackburn, of Kentucky, said in his speech on the evening of the 20th inst.: "Let the radicals close their brawl about a solid south. She is solid, thank God. She was solid for Jeff Davis in 1860, and we will be solid for Hancock in 1880." These words were pencilled down at the moment, and are given with accuracy. Some, but not all, of the Democrats applauded.

The Democratic County Convention. The untried met in unusual numbers at Louisville last Monday, to nominate a County ticket and transact such other useless business as pertains to the management and control of the great democratic party on like occasions. John Heffner, Esq., was called to the Chair and Conrad Schlatter made Sec'y. And then the fan began. Everybody knows it has been White and anti-White for some time. John Wayman put Billy Agnew in nomination for State Senator with a flourishing speech, such as only John can make, about his being a poor orphan boy without hope of Heaven, or the office he was nominated to, but just wanted to run to see how near he could get there (both places understood) &c., &c. Uncle Jake Valley in solemn and dignified manner, but with his war paint all on nevertheless, arose and placed Frank E. White before the people, and at it they went.

On the informal ballot, White had 38; Agnew, 31; Cummins, 13; Connor some and the rest scattering. On the 1st formal ballot, White had 62; Agnew, 27. That settled that hash and Connor took the early train for the west, blood and vengeance in his eye and a sharp wheat deal in his head. After that sailing was easy. Jacob E. Quackenbush, of Greenwood, was nominated for Representative; also W. S. Wilcockson, of Stone Creek; and W. H. Smith of Rock Bluffs.

W. H. Clark of Salt Creek, was put up "agin" Crawford for County Commissioner and the ticket was complete. The following delegates to the State Convention were then elected to-wit: R. B. Livingston M. A. Hartigan, John O'Rourke, Jerry Hartman, Dr. Wallace, A. Campbell, S. C. Patterson, C. W. Schneider, S. S. Ramsey, J. N. Wise, J. Valley, Sr.

The float Convention meets Oct. 5th at Ashland. After choosing a Central Committee for the ensuing year, the great democratic party adjourned sine die. Warm Peanuts at all hours at D. T. Dudley's Peanut Roaster. A. L. Hawley is going into a new business, Cigar and Confectionery and Nuts, a branch of D. T. Dudley's confectionery stand.

From Louisville. LOUISVILLE, Neb., Sept. 27. ED. HERALD.—We think some of the Plattsmouth editors would do well to come up here and start a Police Gazette. We really believe this place can bring out more genuine sensations than the whole of Cass county put together. This time the cause is whiskey—nothing else—James O'Brien, who worked for W. H. B. Stout in the stone quarry, was with some of the companions on last Wednesday, and was drinking more or less all day. At night, O'Brien on the way home, fell along the R. R. track and lay there. The State Fair is in progress and the men are drawing grain over here, they say they can get a better price for grain here than at Papillion. E. G. Cooley has commenced housekeeping here, and has bought a new stove. The painter, has bought a lot here and he is going to erect a paint shop. We need a harness maker and shoemaker here. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are going to St. Louis, they will make Mr. W's. mother a visit and go to the exposition. Mr. Geo. E. Sayles has been in St. Louis for some time. Mr. and Mrs. S. are staying at Geo. E. Sayles for awhile. G. R. Y.

Three Groves Notes. SEPT. 28, 1880. ED. HERALD.—Quite a number attended the State Fair from this locality. Those that attended the State Fair, thought that the fair was better than last year, and a good show of Nebraska products. However some were rather dissatisfied with the accommodations of the railroad company, as seats could not be procured at all by a great many passengers. W. T. Allen, our Greenback Allen, was down in the section on Tuesday, and reports times lively at Lincoln. S. L. Moore has gone down to Rulo to move up Mr. Solomon Long and family, formerly a resident of this place. John Carroll Jr. has gone to Neb. City to live the coming fall and winter. Levis Patterson and party returned from Kansas a few days ago. They report times lively there. Mr. L. Young, wife and two daughters starts to Missouri to-day on a visit for two or three weeks. Mr. Wm. Ellington, of Rock Bluffs, made a flying visit out to Three Groves on Sunday last. Mrs. H. A. Small goes to Annual Conference this week held at Neb. City. Mrs. John Moore, of Burlington, Iowa, and a sister-in-law of J. B. Moore, was in our neighborhood on a visit last week. Mr. and Mrs. Donisthorpe were in this vicinity visiting friends a few days ago. Mr. Dansthorpe will attend conference yesterday afternoon, between four and five o'clock the dwelling house of Robert Nickles was burned to the ground. How the fire originated is not known, but supposed to be by incendiaries, as a suspicious looking person was seen on the road in the vicinity shortly after the burning. The family not being at home, and Mr. Nickles having gone to the store, whatever was saved from the house. No insurance on the building, and the family are left homeless, without a thing, not even a change of clothing. Mr. Nickles is a very poor man, and still since the recent wet weather set in. A great portion of the hay is on the ground wet and spoiling; some of the farmers were doing making hay and a great deal of corn is rotting, and is drying up very fast and will soon de to crib if frost comes. Many are making preparations to attend the County Fair. The roads are very dry and muddy, but are drying fast. Yours truly, REPORTER.

Alton Notes. APTON, FRONTIER CO., NEB., (Sept. 17, 1880.) WHY IS IT? That eastern capitalists, and even those of our own State, fail to see and profit by the remunerative business of stock raising? Here are scores of excellent locations for ranches, for either sheep or cattle, and some of them, of course, bring the quickest and most frequent returns; and some parties contend that they bring the largest returns. But what is it, here in this country, that has thousands of acres lying idle and unprofitable, that might be covered with grazing herds of some kind; thus yielding their rich covering of buffalo and bison grass, for the pecuniary benefit of the owners of the herds, the County, and the State. Where is the money-lender who is sure of more than 6, 8, or 10 per cent. except in the case of a foreclosure of mortgage? While in contrast the profits here on stock-raising are variously estimated at 25, 50, and even 100 per cent. There are certainly very few who make less than 25 per cent. on a ranchman, whose work is considered good, states that the cost of a three-year old steer is 87 cents; and there are plenty of men who will take from 100 to 500 head of calves, and keep them until 3 years old, for $3 per head. These are facts that can be proven. Perhaps some will say they cannot come out West with stock, or cannot live the life of a ranchman. If so, they may as well go elsewhere, and enter into all necessary writings, and take the stock on shares. One-half the increase for a term of one year, on the taxes, are but 12 1/2 to 15 mills on the dollar, the Co. out of debt, and means to keep so. Buyers come around frequently after the head of calves, and they are worth $15 to $18; 2-year olds $23 to $25, and 3-year olds $28 to $35. Now, Mr. Capitalist, with your pen and ink, and see what your income would be from a few thousands invested in stock! Do you say that some other locality is as good or better? It is not, but I doubt it, when range and market are both considered. In the part of the country I speak of there is little danger of interference by farmers, as the average farmer can not afford to dig 150 to 250 feet for water, and erect windmills. And there are not large enough tracts for three or four to build together, to divide expense. The ranchman can choose between the U. P. and the R. V. R. R. for shipping. The proximity of the cedar canyons makes the fuel question an easy one to solve. In great abundance can be made in the canyons all around. One more important item in connection with this County is the free range law which is in force, cattle roaming at will. Other minor questions may arise, all of which I will willingly answer, if I am able to, upon application in person, or by letter. Having lived here for 15 or 20 years, I know where I write, and may be allowed to say that I commenced with but few cattle—just seven—one yoke of steers, three cows and two calves, and have now ninety-nine head. Don't everybody come out here now and overdo the business. But twenty or thirty good locations can be found, and not be near one another. My only wonder is that so few comparatively have as yet engaged in the business, and more asking, "Why is it?" I remain, Respectfully, E. H. WOOLEY, (which is post master.) Superintendent.

Our Temperance Column. EDITED BY THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION. "For God, and Home, and Native Land." The Public Library is now kept in the office of Will S. Wise, and will be open for the loaning and exchange of books every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon, from 1 to 3 o'clock, and on Saturday evenings, from 7 to 9. Temperance in England. The temperance sentiment—so far as legislative action is concerned—in England appears to be getting ahead of us in this country. The present Parliament promptly passed the Local Option Bill, which allows every municipality to prohibit or restrict the sale of liquor, or to prohibit or allow the liquor traffic, as a majority of the voters shall determine. Following close upon this was the passage of the Sunday-closing Bill, which extends the same law to the sale of liquor on Sunday. The measure was extended to Wales. The consumption of intoxicating liquors in England costs the people about one million dollars annually—six hundred million—and adds largely to the poverty and moral degradation which exists in so many districts. On this question the Independent and Non-Partisan journals are in agreement. Let it be distinctly understood that while we fully recognize the value of these restrictive measures, suppression alone will satisfy us. On a recent Sunday, sermons on temperance were preached by two hundred of the Episcopal churches of London. At the annual meeting of the Church Temperance Society it was stated that in twenty dioceses there were 100,000 members. ALCOHOLIC DEATH RATE. THE HERALD acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a card of invitation to the wedding reception of Mr. Joseph Cadwallader and Mrs. A. R. White, at Lincoln, Oct. 11th. Mrs. White, our temperance people will remember, is the G. W. V. of the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. and in the performance of the duties of said office visited this county and city last spring. The reception is given by the Temple of Honor and Good Templar Lodges of Lincoln.

To be sure the greenbacks have won a great victory in Maine, but the democrats will get the chestnuts all the same and that is why the democratic cocks crow—Lincoln Democrat. We wouldn't have told that, Col., if we were you. Maybe you'll want some chestnuts pulled out in Neb. yet.

In other words, the Omaha Bee says to the republicans of Nebraska, "see to it that the senate be democratic or in other words, the editor of the Bee gives various reasons therefor, which in the main are eminently correct. The senate is going to be close enough, if we mistake not the signs, regarding Mr. Rawls' nomination. But his advice shows conclusively that he has no confidence in a republican senate of ordinary make up.—Democrat.

Newspaper Men in Politics. The newspaper men of Nebraska seem to be taking a large part of the presidential canvass to come forward prominently in public life themselves. Gere, of the Lincoln Journal, has been nominated for the State Senate. So has Mr. Rawls of the Lincoln Union. Our versatile friend, MacMurphy, made a spirited run for the Senate and also for the State Auditorship, but was unable to pull out of the caucus nomination. A number of editors appear to have been chosen as candidates for the lower house. While there may be some question as to the advisability of a newspaper man going too extensively into politics, at the expense of his regular work, there can be no doubt but that the average newspaper editor is far better qualified to perform legislative duties than any other class of men ordinarily named in that connection. We are glad to see the people of Nebraska appreciating the services of the conscientious, hard-working and energetic editor, and hope that the State press may in no way be called upon to suffer from this conflict of occupation.—Omaha Herald

WEeping Water Items. ED. HERALD.—News is scarce this week. Read Bros. have had a heavy loss in their stock of water, and Post Office Department, giving that corner of their store quite a Bank-like appearance. Don't fail to call and see their heavy stock of fall and winter goods. Gus. Barry is having his Harness Shop ceiled and otherwise fixed up for winter. J. T. Dr. Richardson gave it as his opinion, some time ago, that were England converted to temperance, the vitality of the nation would be increased one-third in value; or, in other words, nearly 237,000 lives would be saved to us every year. This is a startling statement; but, after careful investigation, Dr. Kerr thinks it is much nearer the truth than many were disposed to believe. His own calculations give 200,000 as the number of deaths resulting from drinking, of which 128,000 may be traced to drunkenness and the rest to more or less moderate uses of alcohol.
