SIX days after election no less than six different cabinets had been constructed for Gen. Garfield. It's no use boys, for the future president has written us privately that nothing will be done in this matter till he sees the "Cass Co. delegation."

REPORT says the democratic party has gone to h—ll, and the Methodist brethren say "Home at last."

Yes, Mr. Democrat, and you try to taper with that electoral vote in New York and you won't have to leave this Hemisphere to find out what h'll means in earnest.

IF anybody says Cass county didn't have a lively campaign, and didn't do herself proud, and the boys didn't get out and the committees didn't work this time, shoot him on the spot. We say they did. 3300 is pretty fair, but we haven't got a full vote yet, strange as it may seem.

EX-SENATOR HITCHCOCK seems to be very prominently mentioned as a probable candidate for Secretary of the Interior. Certainly this great west, where we pile up so many republican votes, deserves one cabinet officer, and moreover, a man who has lived and grown up with this country knows its needs and capabilities better than one who has no personal knowledge of the United States west of the Mississippi river.

IF we had the power Wade Hampton claimed, and could cast the solid vote of the south, we would say to the president of the U. S. Senate next March—"One hundred and thirty-eight solid votes for Garfield and Arthur." That would show the world where the south really stood, that would stop sectional clamor, that would stop the talk of the tail wagging the dog, that would mean peace, prosperity, and a united country for the future; but alas Wade Hampton style of man never did a sensible thing yet in politics.

THE following we clip from a Black Hills paper; we also are in receipt of a postal card from Mr. McM., saying that he hopes to be in "God's Land" before long, and rejoicing over the glorious election news:

"Styx," in the absence of our office reporter—necessarily absent—informs us that the McMaken mica mine is, beyond discount, as good, if not the best paying personal property in the Southern Hills, for the amount of capital invested. We hesitate not to aver that the fact stated is a fact. Mr. McMaken cannot now fill his telegraphic orders from eastern centres of mercantile demand, to say nothing of home consumption—so to speak—in Chicago and St. Louis.

Central Committee Matters.

As I do not like a loose way of doing business, I wish to state that after calling a meeting of the G. & A. Club and town central committee, and getting four persons out to hear my report, I have had Mr. Newell, the Secretary, appointed by the Committee, examine my accounts and expenditures, and below give his voucher for the manner in which the business that passed through my hands has been conducted. To stop foolish gossip I desire to say that no money has been received in this County from the State Central Committee, but that myself, with other good friends of the cause, have made up the deficiency over and above what the Central Committee funds proper furnished; and that every bill we as a Committee were in any way responsible for, is paid.

As I do not expect the Committee want to assemble now, I will also have Mr. Richardson examine these accounts and certify to them.

JNO. A. MACMURPHY,
Chairman Central Committee.

MR. NEWELL'S STATEMENT.

I have this day examined the accounts, expenditures and vouchers of Jno. A. MacMurphy, Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, and find that he has kept an accurate account of the money that passed through his hands as Chairman of said Committee and contributions from other sources, and that the same is satisfactory, and that all accounts the Committee have been responsible for, either directly or indirectly, have been paid by Mr. MacMurphy, the sum total overrunning by a good many dollars all the money he has received from the Committee, or other donors in the County. WM. H. NEWELL, Sec'y.

Plattsmouth, Neb., Nov. 10, 1880.

Things.

The latest and seemingly most reliable estimate of the result gives Garfield 213 and Hancock 156 votes in the electoral college.

California gives Hancock a slight majority on electoral vote, except for Terry (the man that shot Dave Broderick years ago) and he was cut by his own party so that we get one elector there, and the legislature will be 12 republican majority on joint ballot.

The estimates now at hand give Garfield 80,000 popular majority.

CEDAR RUN, Nov. 9.

ED. HERALD:—I have always voted the straight democratic ticket until last Tuesday, when I voted for Garfield and Arthur, because I wanted to let well enough alone. Did I do wrong?

Not much, Mariana! It will be credited to your favor on the day of judgment.

Platforms, &c,

4th. We have considered "what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive," and have determined to employ our best energies in preventing the seizure of the national government by their living comrades through the frauds of a "solid south."

That's the time a platform was meant for more than a place to get in and out on. 35,000 of us or over have considered this thing in this state and thousands upon thousands more elsewhere, and you hear the verdict.

DEATH AT THE POLLS.

The Prayer of an Aged Negro Granted to the Letter.

An aged negro, named Alby, who is a resident of Brooklyn, an Illinois suburb, had frequently expressed the hope that he might live long enough to vote for Garfield. The old man was very feeble and likely to die at any time, so that his friends feared he would not be able to realize his desire. Election day came around, bright and balmy, and found old Alby still a tenant of this mundame sphere. Nobody was more elated than the old man, and assisted by several friends he tottered to the only polling place in the town. All waiting their turn, kindly and promptly made way and gave him precedence. Alby had his ticket ready and stepping up to the window gave his name. The ballot was received by the judges, duly marked and deposited in the box. Satisfying himself that his vote had been properly registered and disposed of, Alby turned away to go home, but before he had made a half dozen steps he suddenly staggered reeled and fell. The by-standers, supposing that he had accidentally fallen, rushed to his assistance, but the first glance showed them that he was dead. his one hope had been fulfilled, and he passed away, peacefully, his fealty to his party strong even in death.

Republicans in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—At the republican headquarters the following is figured as the republican gains and losses in congressmen:

Republican gains—Massachusetts 1, Maine; Virginia 1, Coode; North Carolina 1, Ketchum; Tennessee 2, Taylor, Young and Atkin; Alabama 2, 22d and 4th districts; Louisiana 1, Darrell; Iowa 2, Gillette and Weaver; Minnesota, 1; Wisconsin1, Bouck; Missouri 2; Pennsylvania 3, Scranton, Barnum and Ducamp; West Virginia 1; Kentucky 2, 9th and 10th districts; Illinois 1. Total, 22. New York 3; Nevada 1. The following are the figures in the senate: In the present senate the republicans have 33. They lost Bruce in Mississippi, but gained one each in Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee and New Jersey. Total, 39. The republicans have apparently lost one in Nevada and California which, if true, will make the total 37. The democrats have 39, but in the event of Mahone acting with the republicans there will be a tie, which gives the vice president the casting vote. At the democratic headquarters they have not figured up the gains and loss.

THE NEW YORK ASSEMBLYMEN.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—The returns from the assembly districts throughout the state give the republicans a majority of 40. They have a majority in the senate of 18, making a republican majority of 58 on joint ballot, which insures the election of a republican successor to Francis Kernan.

THE VOTE IN NEW YORK CITY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The total vote of this city was: Hancock, 117,669; Garfield, 78,858; Hancock's majority, 38,811. There are twenty-eight election districts missing, which, however, will effect the majority not more than 300. It is estimated by politicians here that Garfield's majority will vary little from 25,000. Tilden's majority in 1876 was 32,742. The excitement over the mayoralty contest in this city has somewhat subsided, now that it is definitely settled who is elected. All the figures are in except one election district, and John Kelly's candidate has a majority of 3,201.

HOW HANCOCK TAKES IT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—1 a. m.—A number of visitors went to Governor's Island yesterday to pay their respects to Gen. Hancock. He received them cordially, but the subject of the late election was not broached, as the General seems assiduously to avoid any conversation in regard to it. The officers, citizens and other inhabitants of the island they have not been [illegible] will not be made [illegible] give [illegible]

Now who'll be U. S. Senator? Don't all speak at once.

WE call attention to the new Ad. and store of Walter Jinkins at Eight Mile Grove.

WE call attention to the Caning Gov. Furnas has received from the State Board of Agriculture. He deserved it, if any man did.

THE County papers are a curiousity this week. Every fellow illustrated the victory according to his own whim, and every variety of rooster, hen or chicken with numerous outside cuts appear to help the general joyousness along.

The Big Excursion.

Eighteen car-loads of excursionests from Ill., Ind. and the east crossed here yesterday, and 20 more are expected. They go to Lincoln and elsewhere in the state for a visit.

California Safe.

Special Dispatch to the Bee.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—The Republicans claim Oregon by five hundred, and will not admit the possibility of less than three hundred. California shows a small majority for Garfield, which will probably not be decreased by later returns. Republicans gain two assemblymen by latest returns, which will give necessary number to elect a senator to succeed Booth.

Raising Cane!

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, PLATTSMOUTH, NEB., Oct. 25, 1880.

Hon. R. W. Furnas, Brownville, Neb.

DEAR SIR:—I have the pleasure of forwarding to you by express, with this letter—a cane—which your friends desire you to accept from them; not on account of "its intrinsic worth or value," but as a token of their kind regard and esteem and as a slight memento of their appreciation of the valuable services you have rendered the Agricultural and Horticultural interests of Nebraska in the twenty-one years you have been connected with our State Board of Agriculture as an active member. We trust that in years to come you may find this cane as valuable to support you, and upon which you may lean in your declining years, as you have been a support to, and one upon whom we have been able to depend in every emergency connected with the material interests of Agriculture or Horticulture in our State.

Trusting that you will accept this token of regard in the same kindly spirit it is given, I am, on behalf of the donors, whose names are inscribed thereon, Yours faithfully,

DANIEL H. WHEELER,
Sec. State Board of Agr. of Neb.
NEB. STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY,
Brownville Neb., Nov. 1, '80.

D. H. Wheeler, Esq., Sec. Neb. State Board of Agriculture.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your very complimentary favor of the 25th ult., together with "the token of kind regard and esteem" referred to, presented by gentlemen M. Dunham, Chris Hartman, J. T. Clarkson, J. B. Dinsmore, R. Daniels, G. W. E. Dorsey, E. N. Grenell, J. F. Kinney, A. Humphrey, W. B. White, Ed McIntyre and yourself, active members of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture.

I beg to assure my associates that this manifestation on their part is highly appreciated; both for intrinsic worth, and as evidence from those intimately engaged in the agricultural weal of the state, that my humble efforts in that direction have been, to them acceptable.

I have endeavored to give to the agricultural factor of Nebraska great interest—near a quarter of a century of the best years of my life—without the hope of fee, or reward; in simple discharge of conceived duty, and because the labor, to me, has been pleasant and in harmony with inherent inclination and taste. The wonderful development and advancement made and witnessed since my first connection with the Board—actual transition from desert to fruitful fields, orchards, gardens and happy homes—is beyond gratifying beyond power of words to express. If I have aided in the least, attainments so glorious, the achievements of themselves, in a common cause and for a common good, more than compensate.

I trust others, more able, will take my place and carry forward more effectually and successfully, that which of all else must make Nebraska, agriculturally, second to no other state.

As secretary of the Board, be pleased to convey to members my sincere thanks for their kindly consideration, together with devout wishes for all the future can bestow. With great respect, I am, Yours truly,

ROB'T W. FURNAS.

Ninety Miles an Hour.

New York Sun

There was turned out from the Grant Locomotive Works in Patterson, N. J., a few days ago, a new locomotive of peculiar construction intended for the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad. Eugene Fontaine, the inventor, claims that this locomotive can be made to go ninety miles an hour, while the machinery is run no faster than that of an ordinary locomotive traveling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. The machinery is all on top of the boiler, instead of under it. The driving wheel rests on another wheel, which in turn rests on the track. This lower wheel has two rims one a foot smaller than the other. The outer rim touches the track, and the inner or smaller rim supports the driving wheel. The motion of the driving wheel thus communicated is magnified by this arrangement so that the lower wheel turns one-third faster than the driving wheel, and so the speed is increased. The smaller rim of the lower wheel bears to the larger rim a relation similar to that of a very large hub to any wheel. Of course any rate of motion communicated to such a hub is greatly magnified at the periphery of the wheel. In the same way the motion of the driving wheel in this case is magnified by the peculiar arrangement of the wheel it rests upon. Mr. Fontaine believes that his locomotive, if it were not for the increased resistance of the air, could be run at the rate of 170 miles an hour. He expects it to make ninety miles an hour easily. The machinery of the new locomotive, which stood propped up on blocks, was put in motion on Saturday with satisfactory results Many railroad men have visited it.

CORRESPONDENCE.

That Cedar Creek Letter.

ED. HERALD:—Having had occasion to return home earlier than I expected I can now answer the letter published in the last issue of the HERALD, signed "H. Young." I am glad Mrs. or Miss Young, as the case may be, rebuked me through the medium of your paper, as she thought I so justly deserved, as perhaps I did not draw the line at the right place. Still I do not retract anything I said in my last communication from England. All I said was true, as I found it. I know there are many hundreds of good Christian women in Liverpool, as in every large city, but my friend from Cedar Creek must bear in mind that I was there as a stranger, turning home I had a good opportunity to see all kinds of society in Liverpool, and can safely say that what I wrote was true, and also what "H. Young" wrote in reply is true. I have every reason to believe that "H. Young" is a lady of sound sense and good judgment, but she certainly does not know me, or she would not have suggested the propriety of me becoming a night missionary in Liverpool. Hoping some day to meet my friend from Cedar Creek so as to have a good laugh over our correspondence concerning the city of Liverpool, I remain

Yours Truly,

NOVEMBER 8, 1880.

ED. HERALD:—I start out by informing the people of Cass County that we are still alive, and that we had quite a lively time election day, here in Elmwood, which showed since that the Republicans walked away with the barrels. We were glad to see Plattsmouth do her duty towards her candidates, as there was a good deal of talk out here that some of the candidates were not in favor of Plattsmouth's interest; that Plattsmouth intended to work against their interest, but we were mistaken. Never mind, we will return the compliment.

We have quite a spicy Lyceum here every Thursday night; all the folks take an interest in it, to judge from the way they turn out. We had quite a debate on Foreign Immigration, Eveland and Thompson opposing parties; the judges, M. Cavey and W. Buster. It was decided in favor of Thompson, the affirmative, favoring immigration. The other gentleman did nobly, but the strong side was against him.

We are having quite a large number of marriages here this fall; all the young folks seem to be on the marry, except William Ragos; and when he is done threshing you want to ask him if the riddles are full. The farmers are all busy gathering corn.

I expect Mr. Hartigam is traveling for Mr. Parker, of Lincoln, selling tombstones, by this time, as Mr. Parker was dealing in politics with him at McCaig's school house before the election.

We have a new store here, and also have the Post Office re-established.

GARFIELD.

Greenwood Locals.

(Written for the HERALD.)

Greenwood Greets Garfield,
And Royally Receives Root.

Greenwood will flourish like a green bay tree during the next four years.

Mr. Hackney has opened out a fine stock of new furniture in the old Noel building.

John Green still buys hogs, notwithstanding the fact that the "time-honored principles of Democracy" have been consigned to oblivion.

Our democratic friends have ceased singing, "What will the harvest be?" They now sing:

Could I but read my title clear
To the Washingtonian mansion,
I'd bid farewell to army cheer
And tariff's "dread expansion."

They might also sing, "Who will care for Hancock now?"

Our fellow townsman, J. W. Quackenbush, takes his defeat like a man. We look upon him as one of the "straight" men of his party, and the position he has maintained in the late campaign will insure him friends. We say this, desirous of courting no favors, but simply to give "honor to whom honor is due."

A very pleasant party of about thirty-five residents of Greenwood and vicinity met a few evenings ago, per invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael, at their residence in Greenwood, to celebrate the birth-day of Mrs. C. The usual amount of fun and good humor incident to such occasions was indulged in, and every one appeared to be happy, and to enjoy the occasion immensely. Several very useful and ornamental presents were made to Mrs. C. with the hearty good wishes of the donors.

Greenwood ratified the election of Garfield and Arthur last Thursday evening in good old ratification style. Empty coal oil barrels, odds and ends of lumber, parts of fences, and everything that the boys could find loose was piled up, saturated with coal oil, and a torch applied thereto. Then such yelling and firing of cannon (anvils) as perhaps never was heard before, and probably will not be heard again until 1884, when Garfield and Arthur are re-elected. After this kind of fun had been indulged in for about an hour and a half, the question was asked, "where is Dr. Root?" Some of the boys proposed serenading the doctor, but this had to be abandoned on account of sickness in his family. Then it was decided to get him out to the bonfire on the pretext that one of the boys had got hurt in firing the anvils, and a party was sent to bring him out. He came, but finding no patient to whom he could administer balm, the tables were turned, and the boys gave him three hearty cheers, and then called for a speech. The doctor mounted a buggy that had been placed in readiness for him, and made a speech replete with patriotism and good sense. After the speech he was taken to his home in the buggy from which he had spoken.

Democracy was to have been buried here last Saturday night, but the event did not come off for some reason or other. Hallelujah John was to have delivered the funeral oration, and Melancholy Jim was to have intoned the responses. Slippery Hart was expected to be here to heave a sigh and drop a tear over the grave of the defunct. We do not know what flights of oratory Hallelujah John might have indulged in, but we presume it would have been replete with such sentences as these: "A man that is born a democrat hath much to contend with, and is full of misery. He springeth up like a mushroom and is cut down like a cauliflower." "O, General Hancock! who shall now deliver us from the hands of our enemies?" etc., etc.

Slaves of Sin.

"Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin."—St. John viii 34.

Charles Lamb writes:—"The waters have gone over me: but out of the black depths, could I be heard, I would cry out to all those who have set a foot in the perilous flood. Could the youth to whom the flavor of the first wine is delicious as the opening scenes of life, or the entering upon some newly discovered paradise, look into my desolation and be made to understand what a dreary thing it is when he shall feel himself going down a precipice with open eyes and passive will—to see all godliness emptied out of him, and yet not be able to forget a time when it was otherwise—to bear about the piteous spectacle of his own ruin: could he see my feverish eye, feverish with last night's drinking, and feverish looking for to-night's repetition of the folly; could he but feel the body of death out of which I cry hourly with feebler outcry to be delivered, it were enough to make him dash the sparkling beverage to the earth in all the pride of its mantling temptation."

The following table of the receipts of the Internal revenue for the year ending June 30, make a very creditable show for the New England states, in view of the fact that nine-tenths of this revenue is derived from whisky, beer, and tobacco:

Connecticut	$ 3,0[illegible]
Iowa	350,857
Maine	2,[illegible]
New Hampshire	222,408
Rhode Island	220,[illegible]
Vermont	56,[illegible]
Massachusetts	2,404,104
Pennsylvania	5,849,119
Kentucky	7,[illegible],862
Missouri	5,[illegible],192
Virginia	4,424,178
New York	15,[illegible],443
Illinois	10,542,583

Massachusetts, however, is an exception. But look at Maine. The receipts only $75,000, which are from regular business, there not being a distillery or brewery in the state. The figures contradict the assertions made to the discredit of the prohibitory law. To be on with the liquor states it must yield a revenue of about $3,000,000. Look at Vermont, too, receipts merely nominal. It has a prohibitory law also. Then look at our own state. It is ahead in whisky producing, and in the taxes paid by our citizens.

There were sent from Quincy, in this state, last week, twenty-one prisoners to the penitentiary and four boys to the State Reform School, the result of the work of the September criminal court sitting for Adams county. Now, there is no reason in the world for this small army of criminals from a county which ought to be passably moral, except the existence in Quincy and other towns of a large number of saloons. Will our people never learn wisdom from such bitter lessons of experience as these? The difference is, in a prohibition county, one sent to the penitentiary in thirty years. License county, twenty-one at one session of the court. The latter, however, being the largest, is entitled to about six in thirty years to be proportionate with the other.—Standard, Chicago.

The Enterprise says that since the sale of liquor was prohibited at Carrollton, Georgia, five years ago, the amount of trade of the place has increased from $200,000 to $500,000, and that there is no one merchant in thirty in that town who would not vote against the re-instatement of the liquor traffic on purely business principles. Think of this you who have been frightened from voting "no license" from the fear that it would drive business from your village or city. It will drive poverty and crime and the expense of them out of your town.

Reports from those in charge of the effort for the full-length portrait of Mrs. Hayes, in testimony of public esteem of that lady as an example of temperance in high places, mention that the contributions are already liberal. The return of a large steel copy of the painting, for every gift of five dollars or over, has become an incentive to many local organizations, as Sunday schools, literary and other clubs, as well as to temperance societies, to collect a few cents from each member and thus secure the engraving for their halls, rooms and chancellors. The design is not to rest till this engraving shall reach one million homes to remind womankind of the force they hold for moral reforms. But this will accumulate a fund beyond cost of the portrait. What will be done with it? It will become "The Mrs. Hayes Fund for Free Temperance Literature," only its interest earnings to be consumed. It is a grand thought in its projectors, the local union of Christian temperance women at Delaware, Ohio, and is in good hands. Miss Willard being president of the fund, Dr. Crosby first vice-president, and Miss Esther Pugh, the Quaker, Treasurer, at 53 Bible House, New York city, to whom all donations are sent. But in further aid of the fund, the ladies have inaugurated the "Lucy Hayes Tea Party," an entertainment in public hal or parlor, at which some lady personates the simple manners of the hostess of the White House, and other ladies and gentlemen personate notable White House guests—senators, judges, foreign residents and the like, with their families. There is a generous spread and a marked flow of social, mental and musical spirits, but a marked absence of intoxicating ones. A moderate admission fee is taken, and the proceeds forwarded to the fund. Here is room for wholesome and amusing entertainment during the winter.

Being very palatable, the youngest children take it without difficulty. In the treatment of ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household, for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption, it is also very effective in relieving and curing, and is the most reliable remedy so far discovered.

The marvellous cures which AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has effected all over the world are a sufficient guaranty that it will continue to produce the best results. An impartial trial will convince the most sceptical of its wonderful curative powers, as well as of its superiority over all other preparations for pulmonary complaints.

Eminent physicians in all parts of the country, knowing its composition, recommend AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL to invalids, and prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proved its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.
